CONTESTANTS TRY TO SETTLE OUT OF COURT

COMPROMISE FIGURED OUT

Basis of Negotiations Is Ten Per Cent Increase and Nine Hour Day.

ARBITRATORS AS JUDGES

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 21.—The mine workers, through their representatives, have agreed with the mine owners to attempt to adjust the differences existing between them outside the anthracite coal strike commission. The proposition was made on a compromise basis, and negotiations, it is expected, will at once be entered upon.

The rough proposition which is to form the basis of negotiations, is a 10 per cent increase in wages, a nine-hour day, and trade agreements between the miners and the company by whom they are employed. The other one of the four demands not touched upon is that upon the weighing of coal by the legal ton.

While both sides have expressed the willingness to settle their differences among themselves it is not to be construed that it carries with it the acceptance of the terms proposed.

Few persons were aware that an attempt would be made at an outside settlement until it was intimated by Judge Gray, chairman of the commission, who read a carefully prepared announcement from the "bench."

It cannot be officially stated which party made the proposition first. The attorneys for both sides are averse to talking. An attorney for one of the railroads said it came from the miners' side, while one lawyer for the miners said it came from the operators. Another representative of the miners said it was a "spontaneous" proposition.

Credited to MacVeagh.

It is generally believed, however, that the operators were the first to make the proposition. Wayne MacVeagh, who carried on such a brilliant cross-examination of President Mitchell, gets credit for bringing about the present situation. He went to New York and had a conference with certain persons connected with the coal industry, among them, it is reported, J. Pierpont Morgan. He was in New York today.

The commissioners were informed of the new turn of affairs last night and acquiesced in the proposed arrangement. The subject did not directly come up in the public hearing today and the adjournment proposition was made ostensibly to permit both sides to complete their work of preparing documentary evidence. Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, for the miners, near the close of today's session suggested that the miners be given a little more time to prepare their evidence.

Judge Gray said the commission would be very glad to co-operate in bringing about the accomplishment of that end.

"We have been aware for some time," he said, "that while the testimony that has been adduced has been very interesting, and I will not say it has not been of value, still it has not yet borne directly upon the points at issue between the parties to this controversy."

Judge Gray then read this announcement, prepared by the commission:

"According to the suggestion just made by counsel that an interval of time be taken for the preparation of the documentary evidence and for a possible agreement as to certain facts and figures, which would forward the work of the commission, the commission desires to express the hope that an effort will be made by the parties to come to an agreement upon nearly all, if not all, the matters now in controversy, and that they will adopt the suggestion heretofore made by the commission to counsel on both sides, that we aid them in such an effort by our conciliatory offices.

Looks the Easier Way.

"It seems to us that many of the conditions complained of and which have been the subject and study of our examination —might be better remedied by the parties to the controversy approaching the subject in a proper spirit and with the purpose of fairly adjusting them. We hope, gentlemen, that the interval of time to be granted may be availed of with this end in view. Of course, in the meantime, we shall proceed with the work before us as we have begun it."

After this announcement, Everett Warren, counsel for the Erie company, suggested an adjournment of a week or 10 days. It is probable his suggestion will be adopted.

VANDERBILT IN ASYLUM.

Has Been Confined There for Six Years Without Legal Action Being Taken.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—The World this morning says: At a private hearing in a lawyer's office in New Rochelle yesterday the fact was disclosed for the first time that for nearly six years a descendant of the Vanderbilts has been an inmate of a private sanitarium at Westport, Conn.

The unfortunate is William S. Vanderbilt Allen, great grandson of Commodore Vanderbilt, society man, artist and up to a few years ago a well-known figure in the life of this city and Newport.

The truth was made known through proceedings taken by a relative to have him formally declared insane.

The most curious feature of the story is that although Vanderbilt Allen has been for six years a prisoner in the sanitarium, no legal steps were taken until yesterday to have him legally confined in an asylum.

FOUR MEN SHOT AT PRIZE FIGHT

GUTHRIE, OKLA., Nov. 21.—Trouble arose at a prize fight in Oklahoma City and within a few seconds 25 shots were fired. Goldie Filson fell dead with five bullets in his head, his brother is fatally injured with a shot through the neck, and two unknown men were shot, one through the shoulder, the other through a leg.

FINAL PRACTICE FOR BIG GAME

EXPECT BIG CROWD

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 21.—Yale and Harvard football players took their last practice of the season preparatory to their gridiron battle which will tomorrow decide the championship of the east. At the Yale field the wearers of the blue skipped through half an hour's rehearsal of the plays. The gates were open and a crowd of 200 or 300 students were present.

Down at Morris Cove, five miles from here on Long Island sound, the Harvard 'varsity had nearly an hour's signal work on the lawn of the Pequot House, where the squad will be quartered till after the game. The gates were closed and a sharp watch was kept for Yale scouts.

Yale.		Harvard.
Rafferty	L. E.	Mills
Kinney	L. T.	Shea
Glass	L. G.	Barnard
Holt	Center	Sugden
Goss	R. G.	A. Marshall
Hogan	R. T.	Knowlton
Shevlin	R. E.	Bowditch
Rockwell	Q. B.	C. Marshall
Chadwick (Capt.)	L. H.	Kernan (Capt.)
Metcalf	R. H.	Putnam
Bowman	F. B.	Graydon

The Elm City is en fete for the game and Yale blue naturally predominates in the decorations, although the crimson is blended with it quite generally in the principal places of business.

Makes Room for Thousands.

At Yale field there is a rush of carpenters to push through to completion the additional 5,000 seats before the game begins tomorrow. Contractor Foulter has achieved what seemed the impossible in rushing the construction of the seats along so rapidly that it has been possible to add 500 more within three days. These will be finished by tomorrow noon. It is calculated, when the first of the spectators arrive at the field tomorrow upon the opening of the gates, they may hear the sound of the saw and hammer driving the last nails and sawing the last timber which will be used in the construction of the additions to the stands.

The Harvard eleven, which left Boston at 9 o'clock this morning, arrived at the Cedar Hill railroad station at 1 o'clock this afternoon and within half an hour were housed at Morris Cove. They look in fine playing form and express supreme confidence in their power to win. Trainer Scotty McMasters said that they were in prime condition.

An unprecedented crowd of college men and their friends arrived in this city tonight and the vicinity of Yale campus presents a scene of bustle and excitement. Fakirs and hawkers add to the din and in groups enthusiastic collegians shake money at each other in efforts to place wagers. More money will probably be placed upon the issue of tomorrow's contest than on any previous football game. Yale is willing to give odds, some small bets even being laid at 2 to 1. In the main the wagers are 3 to 2, but larger wagers are cautiously placed. Odds are even that Harvard will not score.

Yale Men Are Confident.

The Yale football authorities were not willing to make any prediction as to the issue of the game in their opinion. They expressed confidence, however, in the abilities of the players as individuals and in the team as a whole. The field coach, Swan, said:

"I do not care to go on record with any prediction. I did not a week ago when we were facing Princeton, and simply stated that we were fit to fight a game fight. We believe we are in better physical condition tonight than we were then and we expect a good and well played game by both teams. Our line is strong and our backs are skillful players. We hope to be as happy in the outcome tomorrow night as we are in anticipating the game now."

Capt. George Chadwick said: "Barring unforeseen circumstances and disabling accidents, we expect to play the game that Yale should play. To defeat Harvard we must play our best game. We do not expect defeat."

Head Coach Farley, of the Harvard eleven, said tonight when asked for a statement: "Harvard has a good team, and one that knows the game. Some of the men are more experienced than the others, but the team is playing well together, and, we are confident, will show Yale a good game. While we are willing to claim a victory we hope to achieve one."

Capt. Kernan modestly said he hoped that Harvard would win. He expects to find Yale a "worthy foe and one whom to beat is an honor."

Towboat Ordered Built.

MARIETTA, O., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Michael Hammett, representing the Pittsburgh Navigation Company, has let the contract to the Olston Boat Company for a towboat 140 feet long, with a 22-foot beam. The machinery will be built by the Marietta Manufacturing Company. The towboat will be used for pool work in the Monongahela river. It will have the most powerful machinery used on river craft.

ADVICE GIVEN TO PRESIDENT ON THE TARIFF

Roosevelt Will Determine Policy During Present Conferences.

HE HEARS VIEWS OF THE SENATORS

Scott, Lodge and Burrows Think It Should Be Left to Next Congress.

INQUIRY FAVORED BY ALL

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.

All talk about the president having decided on what he shall recommend in his message regarding the tariff is pure guesswork. Much that he may say to congress and to the country on the subject may be determined in the next week.

The first caller today to talk tariff advised that absolutely nothing be done until the next meeting of the Republican national convention. This was Senator Scott of West Virginia.

"Let the Republican party, fresh in its representation from the people, two years from now, decide the tariff as a party question," said the West Virginia senator.

Senators Lodge and Burrows, both opposed to doing much, if anything, in the direction of early tariff revision, briefly talked with the president. Senator Lodge returned to luncheon with the president and discussed the tariff, trust and other questions.

Further conferences with party leaders will be held on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Republican representatives and senators here are convinced of the likelihood of legislation at the short session of congress authorizing an inquiry into the subject of tariff relations between the United States and foreign nations. The inquiry will be part and parcel of the general agitation for revision of our own tariff schedules. Whether the inquiry should be conducted by a mixed commission or by a committee of congress is a detail to be arranged.

The reason for the belief entertained by congressmen that the inquiry will be entered upon, is found in the expressions of the president and in the pressure of public opinion. Party exigency also will enter into the equation. Since the Oyster Bay conference last summer between the president and prominent senators, there has been a growing tendency in influential legislative quarters to look with favor upon tariff inquiry.

Curiously enough, the reasons assigned by the two tariff factions for favoring the inquiry, apparently are contradictory. The ultra-protectionists are for it because they see in it a postponement of the day when the tariff is to be touched by the hand of the pruner; the revisionists are for it because they see in it the first step toward ultimate revision. The tug of war will come in the effort to carry out the report of the committee.

The make-up of the committee on ways and means will have an important bearing on tariff legislation after the present session. To that task the speaker-elect probably will devote himself after his election, or before, if he is certain of winning.

The Republican membership of the ways and means committee there will be three vacancies, and possibly four. Mr. Russell of Connecticut is dead; Mr. Hopkins of Illinois goes to the senate; Mr. Steele of Indiana is not re-elected, and Mr. Long of Kansas is a candidate for the senate. Of the remaining Republicans on the committee, counting Mr. Payne, Mr. Dalzell, Mr. Grosvenor and Mr. Metcalf as ultra-protectionists, and Mr. Babcock, Mr. Tawney and Mr. McCall as inclined to revision, leaves the balance of power in the appointment of the three, possibly four, new men on the committee.

WEST VIRGINIA FOR DALZELL.

Delegation Caucus to Declare for Him After Congress Convenes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—It is stated that shortly after congress convenes next month the West Virginia delegation will hold a meeting and indorse the candidacy of Representative John Dalzell for speaker of the Fifty-eighth congress. Representative Dovener of Wheeling said:

"It is too early yet for the West Virginia delegation to take any action regarding the speakership contest. But we all feel very friendly toward Mr. Dalzell. He would make an excellent presiding officer of the house."

Crown Prince in 'Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—The crown prince of Siam arrived here tonight. The prince said the United States had realized his expectations.

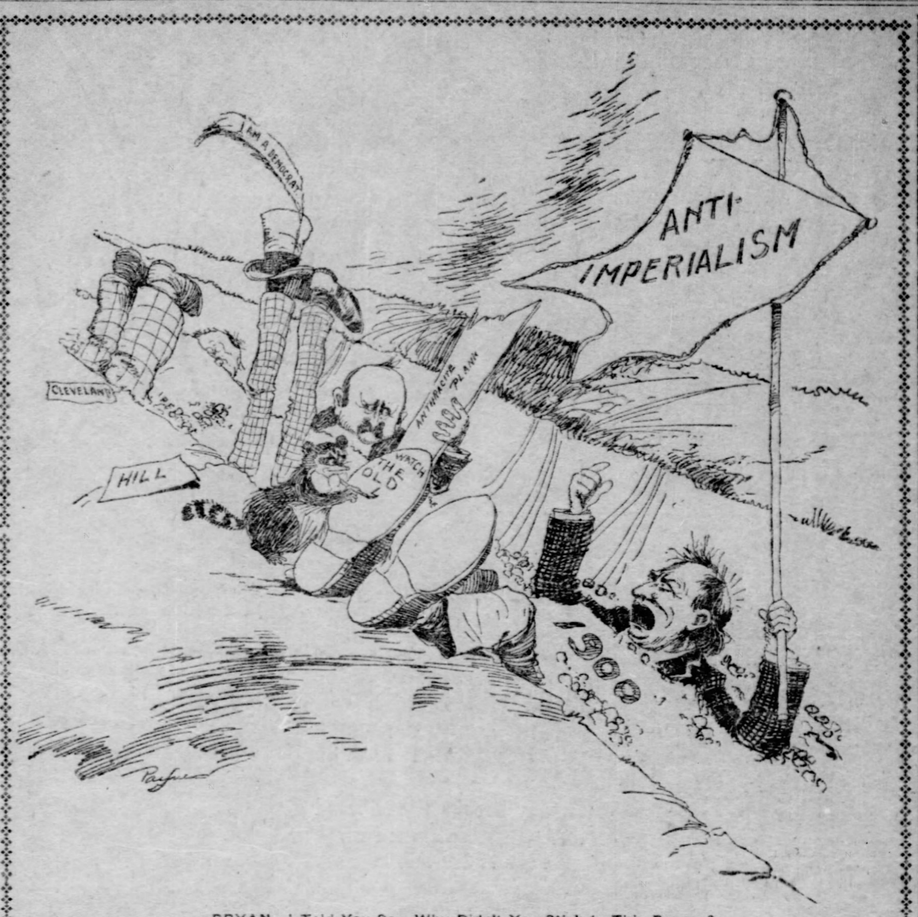
Pittsburghers Will Found A Splendid Rival of Newport.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 21.—Pittsburgh's world of fashion is to have a summer colony that will prove a fitting rival to Newport. William Shields, representing a party of Pittsburgh millionaires, has secured from the state the riparian rights to Two-Mile beach, now a barren island adjacent to Cape May. These rights were sold to the Pittsburghers yesterday for $10,000.

It is the purpose of the projectors to build several elaborate hotels and handsome villas modeled after the palatial homes at Newport. While the new resort is to be magnificent, it is not to be confined to any particular social set. Any Pittsburghers who can afford to pay the price will be welcome. Visitors from other cities will not be tabooed, but Pittsburghers are always to have preference.

There is much speculation as to the men who are behind the scheme. Rumor has connected George Gould of New York and Henry C. Frick of Pittsburgh with it. Samuel Beldon of Bordentown, N. J., counsel for Mr. Shields, today declared that neither Mr. Gould nor Mr. Frick were interested. Mr. Beldon said, however, that there was $20,000,000 behind the project and that the enterprise would now be speedily pushed to completion.



BRYAN—I Told You So. Why Didn't You Stick to This Banner?

DIPLOMAT'S SON KILLS AN ENEMY

TROUBLE MAY COME

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—The state department has been informed that Godfrey Hunter, Jr., son of the United States minister at Guatemala City, today shot and killed a Mr. Fitzgerald of Grand Rapids, Mich. Fitzgerald was shot four times. Hunter has taken refuge in the legation and an interesting question has arisen as to his exemption from arrest.

Officials here are in doubt as to what should be done. They have no notion of surrendering without protest an American citizen to the local courts of Guatemala unless satisfied that the man is a proper subject for punishment. Even then it is not certain that the department itself has the right to waive any legal exemption that the man might have.

International law lays down the precept that an ambassador or minister may not of his own accord surrender any such exemption in his own case.

Young Hunter was accompanied, at the time of the shooting, by the secretary of legation. This official is set down in the register as James G. Bailey of Kentucky, who went to his post in June, 1901. The cable dispatch gave ground for an inference that the killing was provoked.

May Be Legation Attache.

Young Hunter had been a clerk or typewriter in the legation, but in some quarters it is said that his connection had been terminated for some time. This may be a very important point in settling the question of the exemption of young Hunter from arrest, for a legation attache or employe enjoys a large part of the exemptions conferred by international law upon a minister. Another point that may operate in Hunter's favor is his kinship to the minister.

The excitement in the neighborhood of the legation in Guatemala City has made it difficult for the state department to obtain information from any unbiased person connected with the legation and not involved in the affray. Therefore, it is probable that it will await some application from the Guatemalan authorities for the surrender of young Hunter and decide Hunter's claim to exemption from arrest on the basis of all facts presented.

Minister Hunter has been steadily embroiled with members of the American colony almost since he assumed office in 1897, and lately, owing to his connection with a government railroad and other matters not supposed to be proper for a minister to meddle with, the pressure became so acute that the department was obliged to relieve him from office. It may be that Fitzgerald was connected in some way with the charges against the minister.

Personnel of the Parties.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Nov. 21.—William Fitzgerald, supposed to be the man killed by young Hunter, was born here and was about 27 years of age. Seven or eight years ago he drifted to Guatemala, where he held several different government positions. He is said by his relatives here to have been private secretary to the president of Guatemala for some time past. The last time he was in Grand Rapids was two years ago. At one time Fitzgerald was a parlor car conductor on the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 21.—Godfrey Hunter, Jr., is well known in Louisville. He is about 25 years old and has acted as his father's private secretary at the legation in Guatemala for some time.

Fitzgerald, whom young Hunter shot and killed today, made charges about a year ago against Dr. Hunter. He criticized sharply the way in which Dr. Hunter conducted his office, and made some serious reflections on the minister. Fitzgerald, while on a trip to this country, gave out an interview at New Orleans in which he scored Dr. Hunter and young Godfrey severely. He announced that he would prefer charges against Dr. Hunter at Washington, but the matter was never taken up by the state department.

PANSIES BLOOMING ALSO IN MICHIGAN.

Editor The Pittsburgh Gazette:

Dear Sir—In your issue of 19th, you have a paragraph about pansies in bloom in a Castle Shannon door yard. I send you herewith pansies and bachelor's buttons, plucked this afternoon in my yard, away up here in the Grand Traverse region of Northern Michigan. Though so far north the winters here are not as cold as in Pittsburg, but we do have much more snow.

Truly yours,

Bellaire, Mich., Nov. 20, 1902.

The flowers sent by the Northern Michigan reader of The Gazette were fine specimens, equal to any that bloom in the spring or summer in this region.

BRITISH BLAMED WITH MENACING AMERICA

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Naval Lieut. W. Cantion Bellairs, who is well known in connection with naval literature, has elicited an interesting official statement with regard to information obtained by the Associated Press last September to the effect that the British authorities were exhibiting unusual activity in connection with their fortifications in the West Indies with the view of strengthening the strategical positions there against any eventualities consequent upon the construction of the Panama canal.

Believing that the statement was calculated to excite anti-English feeling in the United States, Lieut. Bellairs wrote to War Secretary Brodrick asking for the assurance that no large sums were being spent on the fortifications in the West Indies and on other British territory in proximity to the United States.

Mr. Brodrick replied that the work on the fortifications of Bermuda, Halifax, Esquimault and the West India stations was proceeding in accordance with the general scheme of defense devised some years ago, and was not in view of the possibility of the construction of a canal across the isthmus by the United States.

Lieut. Bellairs sent on this reply to Sir John Colomb, M. P., who replied to him: "I am not surprised that your letter to the war office failed to obtain anything more than a polite, but evasive, reply. Evasion is the best defensive program of the war department. The practice of our war office gives point and substance to the suspicions of other nations, while at the same time encouraging delusions and squandering the money of our people."

Sir John Colomb says he supposes that the war office is fortifying the places mentioned with the $5,000,000 granted by the house of commons just prior to the South African war and in connection with which the government refused to reply to all his inquiries regarding the method of expenditure.

Canton Man Kills Himself.

CANTON, O., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—After an unsuccessful attempt to end the life of his 15-year-old son, Harvey J. Boston committed suicide by cutting his throat tonight. Boston was a tinner and resided in the eastern part of the city. Domestic troubles are given as the cause. He came here from Salem.

HARVARD'S REPLY TO MR. GOMPERS.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—At the great football meeting in the Harvard union today, Col. Hallowell, the old Harvard oarsman, and father of Jack Hallowell, Harvard's famous football end, made a brief speech to offset the declaration of President Samuel Gompers that Harvard is a degenerate college. He said:

"I wish President Gompers could put on the gloves with President Eliot. President Eliot could show him some of the spirit which the football eleven will show against Yale Saturday, and much quicker show the public which is the degenerate man."

Plans for Financing of Combine of Union and Sharon Companies.

RAILROAD TO WAIT

The new Union Steel Company, with its authorized capital stock issue of $50,000,000, will require no financing outside of that of the Mellon-Frick interests already arranged. It will be a close corporation, the control at once resting with Andrew W. and Robert B. Mellon, Henry C. Frick and William H. Bonner. In a word, the new Union Steel Company has bought out the Sharon Steel Company and will pay for it in the new stock of the Union Company. An audit is being completed to determine the assets of the Sharon company and on this will depend the amount of the new stock which will go to pay for that of the Sharon company.

According to present plans, $14,000,000 in the new stock will be paid for the 60,000 shares of the Sharon Steel Company, worth at par $6,000,000. The holder of a share of the stock of the Sharon Steel Company will receive therefor two and a third shares of the new stock.

Sharon People Well Cared For.

These arrangements are subject to change, if the audit justifies it. It is placing a good round valuation on the property of the Sharon Steel Company and William Flinn and George W. Darr are more than a little pleased. On the Sharon properties bond issues aggregating $3,750,000 have been floated. They are 5 per cents and the Union Trust Company is understood to be trustee for all, interest on which is payable at the banking house of T. Mellon & Sons, now the Mellon National bank. The bonds considered, the assets of the Sharon Steel Company are figured at $17,750,000. These bonds are issued in part under a first mortgage of the Sharon Steel Company property and by subsidiary companies, in which instances the Sharon Steel Company guarantees them. It may be at some future time that the Union Steel Company will retire these bonds, but this is not intended now and a subsidiary corporation will be kept up for the Sharon Steel Company on account of the bond issues. The majority interests of the Sharon Steel Company, representing practically all the shareholders, have arranged to take the new stock of the Union company for theirs and there will be no cash payments of consequence in taking up the stock of the Sharon Steel Company, if any at all. The new issue of stock by the Union Steel Company will be of one class, all common.

Railroad Will Wait Awhile.

For the present there will be no tangible steps toward building the proposed independent lake railroad from the terminal owned at Elk Creek harbor to the works at Sharon and Donora. This project will rest while the six new blast furnaces of the combined interests are being completed. Then, with seven monster furnaces the road, with possibly a branch to the coking fields where both the Sharon and the Union companies have properties, will become an active enterprise. The purpose to erect this road has been an important factor in the deal.

The Union Steel Company has never issued stock or bonds to cover its investments. It will have no bonds except those of the Sharon Steel Company. The present Union Company has assets and investments determined on which round out the $35,000,000 capital stock issue first to be made. Comparatively little new money will be required, and this will promptly be available in the taking of the stock by the Mellon-Frick interests. So it is that no financing is necessary outside of the control of the new company. Under the financial plan the Union Steel Company assets and improvements arranged for will take up the $19,000,000, which, with the $14,000,000 of stock going from the Sharon company, makes up the $33,000,000.

The New Stock Issue.

The Union Trust Company will probably act as registrar in connection with the issuance of the new stock. It will be a clean Pittsburgh concern, controlled

WILL REFUSE TO TAKE BAIT OF RECORDER

Ex-Detectives Shore and McElroy Were Offered Positions.

BROWN SEEKS TO AVERT BIG SCANDAL

McGovern Tells Executive He Must Give His Decision Today.

TROUBLE IS BREWING

Fearing a scandal today that would reveal the inside workings of the bureau of detectives, Recorder J. O. Brown directed A. H. Leslie, director of the department of public safety, to appoint William Shore and William McElroy, detectives discharged just before election, as plain clothes men on the bureau of police. The appointments were made immediately, and Superintendent of Police John McAleese was instructed to put the men at work today.

When seen last night both Shore and McElroy said they would not accept the appointments. They say it would be unwise for them to do so. These men would be detailed to work in the East End district, in an inferior position at a reduced salary, and they say their services in the past do not warrant this unreasonable treatment.

Just what the outcome of this move will be is a problem. Yesterday morning Recorder Brown had an appointment with ex-Detective Charles McGovern with reference to the hearing before him on November 8. Recorder Brown did not keep this appointment.

Wants Matter Kept Quiet.

McGovern met him later in the day and asked him whether he was going to render some decision to the allegations made by McGovern in reference to Superintendent Demmel's inability to administrate his department.

Recorder Brown told him he had considered the charges McGovern had made against Superintendent Demmel and would make a reply this morning. McGovern told the recorder that Demmel was not worthy of the position he held, and he was going to demand a councilmanic investigation unless some answer was given him today. The charges made by McGovern at the special hearing against Demmel were of the most serious nature. Recorder Brown told McGovern this yesterday, and that he did not care to have them made public. Then he directed A. H. Leslie to make the positions for Shore and McElroy.

Vindication Is Demanded.

It was the intention of Superintendent McAleese to detail Shore and McElroy to No. 4 and No. 6 police stations as special officers. They were to report for duty at noon and remain until after midnight. The detectives will refuse the positions. They said their work in the past was not questioned by Director Leslie when he was superintendent of police, or their former superior, Roger C. Mara.

Both said last night that Superintendent Demmel made a false report to Recorder Brown about their ability, as the six discharged detectives were all civil service men, they demand a hearing as provided in the old and new city charters. They say that Superintendent Demmel appointed an ex-convict on the detective force, which was directly in violation of the new city charter, and it is not right that this man should be permitted to remain, while they are discharged on flimsy pretexts.

If Shore and McElroy had accepted the appointments the dismissed detectives, with the exception of McGovern, would all be on the pay roll again. Thomas Malley, Harry Jones and William Bradley have all been given positions in other bureaus. McGovern declined to accept any position, but demanded that he be given an opportunity to vindicate himself of the charges made against him by Superintendent Demmel.

STANDARD OIL INDICTMENTS DROPPED

WACO, TEXAS, Nov. 22.—The indictments which have been pending for several years against John D. Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler and other members of the Standard Oil Company, charging them with violations of the anti-trust law of Texas, have been dismissed. All efforts to serve the warrants have been futile, through the refusal of the governors of New York and Florida to honor requisitions.

ARRESTED FOR FINDING A DIAMOND RING

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Special.)—Asserting that she found it in an arena box at the horse show which had been occupied by members of the Vanderbilt family, a woman who gave the name of Kate McCloskey tried last night to pawn a diamond ring valued at $1,000 and was locked up. The woman said she was a charwoman and had the arena box to clean.

OBJECT OF SEARCH ASLEEP IN PANTRY

The McKeesport health officers stationed at the municipal hospital were greatly alarmed yesterday morning over the supposed escape of Michael Mayo of Jerome street. The police department was notified and scoured the city for the pestilential fugitive.

Mayo told one of the other inmates during the evening that he guessed he would go home to sleep, and this seemed to confirm the report that he had escaped. After the excitement and health officers had worn themselves out in an ineffectual search, Mayo was discovered sleeping comfortably in the pantry of the pest house.

SCHWAB RETURNS BY EASTERTIDE

HIS HEALTH IMPROVED

His Parents and Mrs. Schwab's Mother Will Join Him in the Levant—Homestead Preparing an Event for the Return.

Charles M. Schwab, instead of being an invalid and upon the point of giving up his administration of affairs in the United States Steel Corporation, is actually in robust health, and has no intention of resigning. Letters and cablegrams received by friends and relatives in this city and vicinity from Mr. Schwab state that he is enjoying the best of health and will return to the United States about Eastertide.

It had been originally intended to return about New Year's, but Mrs. Kinsey, Mrs. Schwab's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. John Schwab, Mr. Schwab's parents, sailed from New York on Tuesday to join the party abroad and in order to entertain them the trip has been extended until about April 1.

Before leaving, they received word from Mr. Schwab that he was in good health and anticipated their arrival. Since they left Braddock, other friends and relatives have received messages and letters from the absent steel executive, in which he says that his health is greatly improved and that he has no intention of resigning as president of the big corporation.

The C. M. Schwab Manual Training school, erected by the president of the United States Steel Corporation in Ninth avenue, Homestead, at a cost of $100,000, will be occupied by the scholars of the borough schools some time next week. The formal dedication will not take place until Mr. Schwab returns from Europe.

A Very Susceptible Man.

A special telegram from Philadelphia to The Gazette says:

A relative of Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation, speaking of the newspaper reports regarding that gentleman's health and forecasting his future business career, said today to a reporter for the News Bureau:

"There appears to be a conspiracy to 'kill off' Mr. Schwab. I have known him intimately since his boyhood. I know that when he left for Europe he had absolutely no organic trouble. I know that there is no man living who is so susceptible to suggestion. If anyone should suggest that he is not looking well, or even jokingly hint that he had symptoms of a serious ailment, it would have more effect upon Mr. Schwab than on any other man I know. For this reason the allegations that he is suffering from symptoms of paresis is the cruelest thing that could be said. His friends are at great pains to conceal these newspaper stories from him.

Morgan Suggested Long Rest.

"J. P. Morgan understands his case as thoroughly as his own physician. It was Mr. Morgan who suggested his present trip, because Mr. Morgan has twice suffered from the same trouble, which is a case of nerve exhaustion, due to overwork. On one occasion 18 months' time was required to get him into good shape, and on the second he devoted a year to recuperation. Mr. Morgan told Mr. Schwab of his own experience and urged him not to become discouraged if his recovery seemed to be slow.

"I am as certain as any event in the future can be that if Mr. Schwab returns in restored health he will resume his position as head of the United States Steel Corporation.

"If there is any man on earth who is utterly destitute of sentiment in business matters, that man is Andrew Carnegie. Mr. Carnegie never uttered a greater truth than when he publicly acknowledged that his success in life was due to his ability to select men. He selected Mr. Schwab, tested him in the most crucial manner, and then selected him again as the head of the great corporation."

DIED READING A BOOK.

Sitting Corpse's Eyes Rest Upon the Last Chapter of Cooper's "Homeward Bound."

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Sitting with her head drooping forward, as if still reading from a book, "Homeward Bound," held in the right hand, the lifeless body of Miss Edith Hodges was found in her room in the Bronx at 5 o'clock this afternoon. She was an artist and imaginative writer.

Her body was discovered by Mrs. Joseph Nugent, with whom she lived. Several times during the day Mrs. Nugent had listened at her door but heard no sound. Miss Hodges was troubled with insomnia, and Mrs. Nugent, thinking she had at last fallen asleep, refrained from disturbing her until the prolonged stillness in the room alarmed her. Then she forced the door and found the girl dead.

STATE BANQUET AND THEATER.

King and Queen of England Entertain Fifty Guests.

WINDSOR, Nov. 21.—A state banquet of 50 covers was held in St. George's hall, in Windsor castle, tonight, among the guests of King Edward and Queen Alexandra being the king of Portugal and Colonial Secretary Chamberlain and Mrs. Chamberlain.

At the conclusion of the function the members of the party witnessed a performance of J. M. Barrie's comedy, "Quality Street," given by Seymours Hicks, Ellaline Terriss and the Vaudeville Theater company. The Waterloo chamber was temporarily converted into a theater and beautifully decorated with flowers from the castle gardens.

HAVOC IN GUATEMALA.

Loss of Life from Eruption Estimated at from 5,000 to 10,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—W. J. Campbell, just arrived here from Guatemala, brings additional details of the damage caused by the volcanic disturbance. He said:

"There is no clear idea yet of the loss of life resulting from the volcano's eruption, but I believe 5,000 natives have been killed. Some of the coffee plantations that have been nearly ruined were worth more than $1,000,000."

Estimates of loss of life by some refugees place it as high as 10,000.

CAUCUS DECIDES ON AMENDMENTS

Reform Councilmen Will Make Further Changes in Railroad Bills.

ASK NO COMPENSATION

Councilmen Wasson's Amendments, Putting Damages on the Companies, Adopted—Session at Citizens Headquarters.

The Citizens' members of both branches of councils held a caucus last night at the Third avenue headquarters and decided to propose a number of amendments to the two railroad ordinances of the Wabash and Pennsylvania companies, reported affirmatively at the last meeting of the common branch.

The caucus lasted nearly three hours and was stormy at times. Amendments to provide compensation to the city were offered, but voted down. It was decided that councils should accept the offer of 96 acres on the hillside adjoining Highland park, from the Pennsylavinia company as compensation for the privilege of running its branch to the Brilliant station through the park. The Wabash ordinance was left without any provision for compensation.

Councilman J. C. Wasson's amendment, providing that the Pennsylvania company shall pay all damages to private property, resulting from the change of grades or vacation of streets, was adopted after considerable discussion.

Flaws in Wabash Bill.

A number of flaws were found in the Wabash ordinance. The bill contained no specific statement concerning the size of the steel suppert for the elevated structure on the South Side or at the Point and nothing to indicate how far apart they would be placed. It was decided to consult the Wabash officials and agree upon some provision regarding this matter.

It was decided also to insert in the Wabash ordinance a provision similar to Councilman Wasson's amendment to the East End ordinance of the Pennsylvania company, relative to the payment of damages to private property. The Lake Erie officials gave notice during the inspection of the afternoon that they would hold either the city or the Wabash company liable for damages to their property resulting from the construction of the line up Carson street.

The caucus decided that the damages, if there are any, shall be laid upon the company and not upon the city.

Several Members Left.

Several councilmen at the caucus were displeased with the action taken on some of the propositions submitted and left before the meeting was over. They declared that they would not be bound absolutely by the action of the caucus and would reserve the privilege of proposing additional amendments on the floor of councils.

The two ordinances will come up on second reading at the next meeting of common council next Monday night. They will be amended and will then go over until the succeeding meeting to be reprinted.

Attention was called last night to the omission in the Wabash ordinance of the amendment passed by the corporation's committee requiring the company to construct the steel supports on the property line instead of on the curb line, between Water street and Duquesne way. The councilmen said that they were unable to account for the omission and declared their intention of remedying the matter when the bill comes up before common council.

STEEL PRICES REDUCED.

Fear in England That British Iron Held on American Account May Be Resold.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The past week has witnessed a considerable depression at all the leading centers of the British iron and steel industry and prices have undergone an all round reduction. Considerable shipments are being made to the United States, but the news that a cargo of Canadian iron is on its way to the Clyde has been received with misgiving as indicating the possibility of the American trade being no longer able to absorb all the Canadian supplies.

Anxiety is expressed lest this arrival of Canadian iron should be the forerunner of resales of British iron purchased and now held on American account. Sheffield appears to be the great sufferer and work is everywhere scarce, especially on government contracts.

ATKINSON MUST WAIT.

May Fill the Next Court of Claims Vacancy, but Not the Present One, Naich Is Promised.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Senator Scott urged the president again today to give the vacancy on the court of claims bench to ex-Gov. Atkinson of West Virginia. Senator Scott thinks a better appointment could not be made.

The president intends to give Mr. Atkinson a position on the bench of this court in the future, when a contemplated retirement makes another vacancy. The present vacancy he will give to the disposal of Representative Cannon, who will name the man to be nominated.

PROTECTING MILITIAMEN.

Representative-Elect F. T. Pusey Will Draft a Proposed Law.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Representative-elect Frederick Taylor Pusey of Delaware county, adjutant of the First regiment, will draft a bill which he will present at the coming session of the legislature for the protection of members of the national guard who are discharged by reason of absence on active duty.

State Senator John C. Grady, "father of the senate," said today he would gladly support any constitutional measure that would correct the practice of discharging the state soldiers.

Favor Ending Boycott.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 21.—One more union, Electrical Workers No. 252, met tonight and decided to cast its vote in the Trades Assembly in favor of calling off the boycott against the Schenectady Railway Company.

Thanksgiving Holiday Trips. At Reduced Fares.

May be made via Pennsylvania lines, November 26 and 27. Excursion tickets will be good returning until November 28. The special fares will apply from Pittsburgh to New Castle, Erie, Youngstown, Ashtabula, Cleveland, Canton, Wooster, Wheeling, Canal Dover, New Philadelphia, Dennison, Coshocton, Washington, Pa., and other stations on the Pennsylvania lines within 150 miles of Pittsburgh.

GOULDS WIN AGAINST VANDERBILT PEOPLE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, Nov. 21.

Horse show week will come to an end tomorrow evening. Thus far it has broken all records from the standpoint of attendance and fashionable interest.

The early days were marked by a slight increase over the same week days last year. Yesterday marked the greatest business ever done since the National Horse Show association came into existence. Even greater crowds clamored for admission today and there was not a vacant seat to be found in the Madison Square garden.

The victory of the Gould forces over the Vanderbilts was the feature of the evening. There was a fine string of polo ponies in the ring, two credited to George J. Gould and two owned by the brotherly firm of A. G. and R. C. Vanderbilt. The competition was particularly keen. Kingdon Gould was mounted on the black pony, Crow, and his brother, Jay, was on the chestnut pony, Tiden. Alfred Vanderbilt put Brown Jug through his paces, while Reginald Vanderbilt was on Monk.

While there was applause for all, it was soon evident that Kingdon Gould's pony was the favorite. His quickness in turning, his agility, as well as his strength and docility, recommended him to the crowd. Mrs. George J. Gould, who was watching the ring from James H. Hyde's box, said to her neighbors:

"Kingdon is riding as if his living depended upon it."

There is no doubt of the young man's ability to manage a pony, and there was a loud cheer when he received the blue ribbon. His brother received the second prize, and Alfred Vanderbilt's mount the third.

A cup for pairs of harness horses was won by Harry Payne Whitney, son of W. C. Whitney. This was his first blue ribbon of the week.

A class in which 25 horses showed, with woman riders, was won by French Park, entered by W. A. McGibbon and ridden by Miss M. Holloway.

LURED TO SLAVERY.

Philadelphia Police Believe They Have Run Across an International Trade in Girls.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—As a result of a raid conducted by the local police authorities, it is announced that evidence will be adduced which will warrant action by the United States authorities. It is charged that a syndicate, having for its purpose traffic in young girls, is operating on both sides of the Atlantic, and that agents are scattered broadcast to lure girls from their homes, especially in foreign countries.

The investigation was primarily inspired by the German consular service, and the raid resulted in the arrest of 113 girls and a number of men, some of the latter suspected of being agents in the business.

An important arrest was made today in the person of Abe Fink, who, the police assert, is one of the distributing agents in the slave trade.

GUIDI VISITS TAFT.

MANILA, Nov. 21.—Gov. Taft and Monsignor Guidi exchanged formal visits today and discussed in a general way the prospective negotiations. Monsignor Guidi visited Gov. Taft at Malacanan palace and made a formal address to him. On his arrival he expressed the personal greetings of the pope. He said that he accepted the mission because he knew that Gov. Taft was an upright and sincere man. Continuing, the apostolic delegate said:

"The scope of our missions is identical, namely, the settlement of affairs which concern important interests in these islands, you acting for the civil power and I for the religious power. To this end it is necessary that there should exist harmony and confidence between the ecclesiastical and civil authorities."

THIRD SUICIDE FOR ONE WOMAN

Last Victim Her Husband, Who Had Left Her Three Months Ago.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—"He is the third man who has killed himself for love of her."

Neighbors of Mrs. Angus Cameron said this today when they learned that her husband's body had been found in the Harlem river. In his pockets were a photograph of a young man named Jacob Fluhr who had gone to his death because the woman would not listen to his advances; a marriage certificate and two pawn tickets.

With his wife and 4-year-old daughter, Cameron, who was an undertaker, lived in No. 166 West One Hundred and Seventh street, until three months ago.

Arrested for Proposing Marriage.

WARREN, O., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Vincent Flood of Berlin, O., was placed in jail here today on a charge of representing himself as a single man and proposing marriage to Miss Nellie Byrnes of Warren. It is alleged Flood called on the girl several times, claiming to be single. H. O. Byrnes, the girl's father, caused his arrest.

DIED WITH HIS ARMS AROUND THE BEER KEG

With his arms around an eighth barrel of beer, the contents of which he had consumed during the day, John Oncken, 60 years old, of Spruce street, Natrona, was found dead in his bedroom last night. He bought the keg of beer during the morning and with much effort carried it to his room. He locked the door and drank the contents. When his son returned home in the evening he broke into the room and found his father dead. Coroner McGeary was notified.

by the leading financial interests of Pittsburgh.

Andrew W. and Robert B. Mellon and Henry C. Frick were in conference yesterday in the private offices of the Mellon National bank. Coming out, Mr. Frick took occasion to stamp the report from Tonawanda, N. Y., that he is interested with J. Pierpont Morgan and others in a great steel enterprise there as untrue and absurd.

In his two vice presidents the new company has two of the most progressive experts of the country. William H. Donner made his first success in the steel business at the big Monessen Tin Plate Company plant. This he sold to the American Tin Plate Company, and later, when it was evident that the Donora enterprise was to become the greatest of growing independent steel concerns, and before the active work of erection was under way, it is reported that he was offered $2,000,000 to drop it.

John Stevenson, Jr., made his first great success in the big tin plate works at New Castle. He became general manager of the Sharon enterprise later, taking the place of Nevin McConnell, who became general superintendent at Donora.

CARRIE IN A NEW ROLE.

Mrs. Nation Begins Suit Against Murat Halstead for Alleged Libel in His Book.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—News came from Rochester, N. Y., today that Mrs. Carrie Nation made a flying visit to that city this afternoon to consult her attorney, Pomeroy P. Dickinson, and before leaving for the west she had sworn to a complaint in a $25,000 damage suit for libel against Murat Halstead. The libel is based on statements made against her in Mr. Halstead's "Life of McKinley."

"In his book he said of me," said Mrs. Nation, "that at Coney island I was called a hag, and was hissed and sworn at, and he also says in that article that in Rochester I was mobbed and arrested in a saloon. Do you think I'm going to let those things go by without fighting for my good name? I reckon I ain't."

When questioned here tonight relative to the suit, Mr. Halstead said: "I never heard anything of the matter. I don't know anything about the matter, and I dont' care anything about it. I never saw the woman. I don't know her, and I was never associated with her. I don't know any of her family, and I don't know any of her friends. I never talked about her and never wrote anything about her that I can remember. It must be a fake, a mistake or an invention.

"It may be that she is about 20 years behind the times, and is suing on account of some paragraph which has been published in the Commercial Tribune, thinking I wrote it."

MYSTERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

Washington Man Probably Fatally Shot on Country Road.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—William Charters, aged 21, of this place, was probably fatally shot this afternoon. There is considerable mystery connected with the shooting. He left here driving toward Claysville on business. He reached Sugar Mill, when he heard the report of a gun and almost immediately received a bullet in his right eye.

He was found lying beside the road shortly afterward and was brought to the hospital at this place. Charters was unconscious when brought here, but revived later and told of the shooting. It is believed by many that Charters was struck by a stray bullet from a hunter's gun, while others think he was foully dealt with. Charters is a son of William Charters, a prominent stock man.

Pittsburgh Student Killed.

DISPUTES ARE TURNED OVER TO COMMITTEE

Troubles of Boiler Makers Are to Be Settled Shortly in Pittsburgh.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov. 21.—Arguments, long drawn out, in support of conflicting claims of jurisdiction occupied the time of the American Federation of Labor today. In the morning it was the row between the woodworkers and the carpenters and between the woodworkers and the piano workers. In the afternoon it was between the longshoremen and the seamen. All the disputes were referred to special committees, which will endeavor to reach a solution which will be agreeable to both sides.

The committee on grievances' report was approved. The committee reports that the disputes between the blacksmiths and the Allied Metal Mechanics has been referred to a committee of three, which would meet within 90 days.

The claims of the boilermakers to jurisdiction over a large number of technical branches of the iron trade, was referred to a committe of that organization and others interested to establish lines of demarcation between the organizations. The meeting will be held in the near future at Pittsburgh. There is no particular dispute and an easy adjustment is expected.

The trouble between the International Ladies' Garment Workers and the Laundry Workers was thrown out, for the reason that no effort had been made to adjust the dispute before appealing to the convention.

The question of jurisdiction between the wagon and carriage workers on one side and the blacksmiths and painters on the other was referred to a committee to meet within 90 days.

In the election of officers, which is to be held tomorrow, it is highly probable that all the present executive officers of the Federation will be re-elected.

DECORATION FOR TOWER.

French President's Reward for Ambassador's Life of Lafayette.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Charlemagne Tower, United States ambassador to St. Petersburg, who recently has been ordered transferred to the post at Berlin, has received from President Loubet of France the grand cross of the Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor.

This is an expression of French appreciation of his work on the life of Lafayette, which was long ago published, but only recently translated into the French. Mr. Tower, being a government official, must gain congressional consent to accept the decoration.

HUNGER ON THE TRAIN

Eight Carloads of People Nearly Starved Before Reaching Pittsburgh—Railroad People Furnished Food on Telegraphic Call.

An unusual scene was witnessed at the Baltimore & Ohio railroad station last night, when a train of eight cars of nearly starved immigrants pulled in. They were mostly Germans, bound for different points in the west. The train was delayed at several points owing to freight congestion and the passengers were unable to purchase food.

When the train arrived at Connellsville one of the immigrants asked the conductor if she could not get some food, as she was almost famished. The officials in Pittsburgh were telegraphed to and when the train pulled into the station food was served to them. They were so hungry that they grabbed the dry bread through the windows of the cars and ate it like famished wolves.

Anna Linderberg, who asked the conductor at Connellsville to get her something to eat, is one of the most beautiful women that ever came out of Berlin, where she was born. When the train arrived in Pittsburgh she was taken outside the gate of the train shed while the conductor went to get her some lunch. Her beauty attracted a crowd of people and it became necessary for an officer to keep the people back. The woman gazed in awe at the crowd, not knowing that it was her classical features that had attracted it. She had a wealth of hazel brown hair, and a pair of lustrous eyes. "Ain't she a beauty?" said the men, while the women nodded their heads and whispered to one another.

Miss Linderberg is a graduate of the Woman's college, Berlin, and was on her way to her sister, who resides in Forty-first street, Chicago.

"I came to America to better my condition," she said, "and hope to get a position teaching school." She can speak English and French fluently. Beyond question she was one of the most beautiful women that ever passed through Pittsburgh on an immigrant train.

George Lamp Fatally Burned.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—George Lamp, a blacksmith, carried a lantern by an oil well near Elienboro tonight when gas from the well ignited from the lantern and Lamp was fatally burned. A tank of oil caught fire and was consumed.

SUCCEEDED AFTER TWO YEARS' EFFORT

Thomas Pearce Eluded Wife's Vigilance and Cut His Throat.

After planning to end his life for two years, Thomas J. Pearce, 60 years old, accomplished that deed early yesterday morning by cutting his throat with a knife at his home at No. 2324 Sarah street, South Side. His wife and children had previously prevented this rash act. He asked his wife to let him go to the bath room for a drink. She did so, and he went directly to the kitchen and slashed his throat, bleeding to death one hour afterward.

Pearce's mind became feeble two years ago, and his family kept constant watch on him. At night he was always locked in the room with his wife. Several times he deceived her and got out. Yesterday morning he awakened his wife and while she was not thoroughly aroused persuaded her to let him out of the room. She secured the key and let him out. She waited 25 minutes for him to return. Then she went downstairs and found him lying in the kitchen, bleeding to death. Physicians were summoned, but were unable to save him. He was a glassblower and well known in the South Side.

COUNCILMEN INSPECT PROPOSED ROUTE FOR ENTRANCE OF THE WABASH

(Photograph by a Gazette Staff Artist.)

ENEMIES ATTACK WABASH PROJECT

Councilmanic Inspection of Route Made Occasion for Wrangles.

OPPONENTS IN FORCE

Lake Erie and Panhandle Officials Occupied Most of Time With Attempts to Line Up Councilmen Against New Road.

The bitterness of the fight being waged by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Pennsylvania interests against the entrance of the Wabash into Pittsburgh, and its efforts to reach the great freight-producing district on the southern bank of the Monongahela river, was thoroughly demonstrated yesterday.

Thirty-two members of councils went over the proposed route of the Wabash, and to their surprise and that of the Wabash officials, were subjected to a series of continual wrangles, brought about by the presence and arguments of representatives of the Vanderbilt and Pennsylvania lines.

Every blue print submitted to the councilmen by the Wabash was made the subject of a fresh argument, and it is a question if the city fathers have any clearer idea of the matter now than they had before the trip.

Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Panhandle officials accompanied the party unbidden, and as soon as a detail of the Wabash plans was shown and explained, button-holed councilmen and labored to persuade them that the plans of the Wabash would damage their own property and plans irretrievably.

Col. Schoonmaker Active.

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, was the most conspicuous and active representative present from the opposition. Attorney A. M. Neeper and Engineer J. W. Patterson presented the side of the Wabash.

The councilmen assembled at Smithfield and Carson streets shortly after 2 o'clock. The Lake Erie officials were early on the ground, exhibiting blueprints to the members before they had started to inspect the Wabash route.

Col. Schoonmaker gathered a group around him, explaining that the Pennsylvania company owned all the property on the south side of Carson street, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie all on the north side, and that the Wabash proposed to build its line along Carson street between these two railroad properties. Col. Schoonmaker claimed that the Wabash line would damage the property of both the Pennsylvania and the Lake Erie.

Stevenson Administered Rebuke.

While Col. Schoonmaker was busily engaged in this dissertation Councilman W. H. Stevenson approached and was spotted at once by a Lake Erie man. Mr. Stevenson did not know the official, but the latter at once proceeded to explain to him the blueprint which Col. Schoonmaker was handling.

When Mr. Stevenson found that it was a Lake Erie and not a Wabash print he was looking at he said: "We are not here today to investigate the claims of the Lake Erie. We have met here to look over the Wabash route."

The party then proceeded down Carson street to where the Wabash tunnel and bridge over the Monongahela are being constructed. Here Attorney Neeper explained the plans, answering questions put to him by councilmen.

He stated that the road would run at an elevation of 31 feet above Carson street from the tunnel to the bridge, and the branch up Carson street would start at the same height, the elevation gradually lowering, passing Smithfield street at a clearance of 21 feet and entering the freight terminal near South First street at a clearance of 14 feet above Carson street.

Lake Erie to Ask Damages.

He said that the steel supports would have to be put on the curb, as the Pennsylvania and Lake Erie roads owned all the property on either side.

Col. Schoonmaker interrupted by saying that he wished to notify councilmen that the Lake Erie would claim damages if the Wabash line were built on Carson street.

"I do not care to state just now how we will be damaged. I wish to say, also, that the Wabash line up the Monongahela could have been built by two other routes without interfering with the Lake Erie or adding to the congestion of Carson street," stated Col. Schoonmaker.

Attorney Neeper denied that there was any other route open along the Monongahela except by going back into the country 15 miles and coming out through a tunnel at a point farther up the river.

May Build Arch Over Street.

The councilmanic party, after looking at the bridge and tunnel sites, returned to Smithfield and Carson streets. Here Chief Engineer Patterson stated that the clearance of 21 feet would allow all street cars and vehicles free passage, and that the Wabash was willing to make an arch 200 feet long across the street if councils desired, in order to provide for the future widening of the street.

The councilmen viewed the spot where the Wabash proposes to cross the Lake Erie tracks, then extending its line on the outside of the Lake Erie tracks up to the mills along the Monongahela.

Col. Schoonmaker asserted that the proposed crossing would interfere greatly with the Lake Erie, which is now cramped for track room at this point.

Panhandle Plans Attacked.

In reply to the statements of the Lake Erie officials Attorney Neeper said that it is the intention of the Panhandle to build a stone wall on the south side of Carson street, with arches for store room on the street front, and to run its tracks overhead, transferring freight and building immense warehouses at this point. On the other hand the Wabash tracks run overhead to its freight terminal farther east and do not interfere with the street traffic at all.

The councilmen did not go over the Wabash route on the north side of the river, as this line is said to be entirely on Wabash property.

The corporations committee, before sending the Wabash ordinance to councils, has amended it by inserting a provision that the supports for the elevated structure from Duquesne way to Water street should be placed on the property line and not on the curb line. This amendment does not appear in the revised ordinance.

COLONIAL TRUST CO. ACQUIRES NEW BANK

First National of Sharon Is Added to $8,000,000 Group of Pittsburgh Concern.

The Colonial Trust Company of Pittsburgh has acquired a controlling interest in the First National bank of Sharon, thus materially adding to its family of banking institutions. For 51 per cent of the stock of the Sharon bank, the trust company paid $280 a share. The bank is capitalized at $125,000, has a surplus of $100,000 and its last statement showed deposits of over $1,000,000. The transaction gives the Colonial Trust Company two banking houses in Sharon, the Colonial Trust Company of Sharon and the national bank.

The First National bank of Sharon was organized in 1868. J. J. Spearman is president. With this acquisition, the Colonial Trust Company banking houses have an aggregate capital investment of nearly $8,000,000, including the proposed $1,000,000 capital of the new Colonial National bank of Pittsburgh, but not the proposed surplus, the amount of which is indefinite. Comprising the family of the Colonial Trust Company are the two Sharon institutions, the Freehold bank and the proposed Colonial National bank.

Salaries of School Principals.

The committee on rules and regulations of the Allegheny board of school controllers, last night passed a resolution that principals shall be counted in the classification of buildings. As the rules and regulations adopted at the last meeting of the committee did not include the principals, the salaries of several of the latter were reduced. The resolution adopted last night puts the salaries of those principals back to where they were last year.

Convicted of Wife Murder.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—E. E. Miller of Jeannette, whose trial for the murder of his wife near Burrell on the night of September 26 has been on for the entire week, was found guilty of murder in the second degree. Mrs. Miller made an ante-mortem statement to the effect that the shooting was accidental, but the affidavit was not admitted as evidence.

HEALTH BOARD BILLS TWO MONTHS UNPAID

McKeesport Controller Holds Up Accounts of Physicians and Others.

The officials and taxpayers of McKeesport are in a pretty stew over the high bills rendered by the board of health for September and October. The unusual size of these bills is largely the result of the smallpox epidemic. Controller Hitchens refuses to indorse these bills and none of them has been paid.

Councils authorized a loan of $20,000 to meet these extraordinary expenses. Treasurer Everett yesterday visited one of the city depositories to endeavor to make the loan, but failed. It is necessary for Mayor Black to sign the note, and he is out of the city.

The bill of the health board for September is $4,100, including the bill of Dr. J. V. Harsha for $3,500 for attendance on smallpox patients. The October bill is for $2,000, without Dr. Harsha's claim, which probably equals his September account. During the two months mentioned the health board employed 25 persons, instead of the usual five. Bills have been presented by Drs. W. V. M. Taylor, W. E. Walker and S. L. Wiggins for goodly fees.

Dr. Harsha was chosen by the board of health to visit the smallpox patients at $10 a visit. Controller Hitchens holds that the board is required to pay all doctors by salary, and that $10 a visit is a fee and not a salary. Therefore, he refuses to countersign certificates for his pay. Among the bills rendered to the board is one for groceries furnished by F. W. Sims, who is a member of the board.

Bald Eagle in Allegheny.

Daniel Bechtel of Somerset street, Allegheny, was attacked by a large bald eagle yesterday morning in his back yard. When he tried to capture it the bird fought fiercely. A fox terrier was set upon the bird, but was soon disposed of. Bechtel then got a gun and shot the eagle. It measures 6 feet from tip to tip of its wings.

Odd Fellows Will Donate.

The Odd Fellows of Western Pennsylvania will observe December 9 as donation day for the Odd Fellows' Widows and Orphans' Home at Ben Avon. Owing to sickness in the home during the past summer the annual picnic was not held, and many donations are expected on the day set.

Corn Plaster Cost Leg.

Frank Armstrong, formerly a well-known coal merchant of this city, had his left leg amputated at the Mercy hospital yesterday because of gangrene, as the result of a cornplaster. For the last few years Mr. Armstrong has lived in retirement with his family in Crafton. He was owner of the Summerville mines bought by the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Mgr. Falconio, the newly-appointed apostolic delegate to the United States, arrived in Washington this afternoon. He immediately took up his residence in the Catholic legation building.

STOP THAT COUGH!

Colds Lead to Catarrh---Catarrh Leads to Consumption.

A Beautiful Girl's Experience.

Miss Alma Lillia, 506 18th street, Rock Island, Ill., says:

"I am a firm friend to Peruna, for it cured me in two days of a cough which had been annoying me for three weeks, and which had developed a serious catarrhal affection of the throat and lungs.

"I had a number of colds during the year and each left me with a little more catarrh, then this bad cough was the worst. I took cough medicines until I sickened at the sight of them. But Peruna cured me up in such quick time, that I am its firm friend. Four weeks' constant use of it got the catarrh entirely out of my system.

A person catches a cold. The cold is not properly cured, and they quickly catch another one. This cold is dilly-dallied with by no treatment, or some treatment that is ineffectual, and the cold continues.

Then they catch another cold and begin to cough. Then they take cough syrups, but they do no good.

By and by they get tired of taking medicine, and give up in despair.

Their cold continues, and their cough grows worse. Then they apply to a doctor, only to discover that they are in the first stages of consumption.

Miss Lillia, of Illinois, started out exactly in this way. Fortunately, she took a course of Peruna before it was too late. She had caught several colds, then a cough developed. She took all sorts of cough medicines until, as she puts it, "I sickened at the sight of them." In four weeks Peruna had cured her of her catarrh, and her system was entirely rid of it.

This is what Peruna is doing all the while. Not a day, and probably not an hour, passes but some one has a similar experience with Peruna.

The first step toward consumption is catching cold. The next step is a failure to cure it promptly. The third step is the development of catarrh, which gradually becomes chronic. The fourth step, the catarrh begins to spread from the head to the throat. The fifth step, the catarrh spreads to the bronchial tubes and lungs. It then becomes consumption in its first stage.

At any time during the progress of the catarrh, from the first onset of the cold to its final settlement in the lungs, Peruna can be relied upon to stop the disease. It cures entirely. Even after consumption has become thoroughly developed, many cases have found in Peruna a permanent cure. After they have been given up by physicians to die of consumption, Peruna has cured them. We have hundreds of testimonials that declare these facts in the most enthusiastic language.

U. S. Senator John M. Thurston, from Nebraska, writes the following letter:

Washington, D. C., April 6, 1901.

"I have used Peruna at various times during the past year or two with most satisfactory results.

"It entirely relieved me from an irritating cough—the result of excessive effort in the presidential campaign, and I am a firm believer in its efficacy in any such trouble."—John M. Thurston.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

How The Fischer Piano Pleases This Man.

The longer the Fischer pianos are in use the more they are admired and praised. That is simply because of the brilliant vibrant quality of these splendid instruments and their peculiarly artistic workmanship throughout.

The following letter contains an unsolicited testimonial from a man who KNOWS the Fischer pianos. His long experience with the instruments warrants him in speaking as he does.

Meadville, Pa., Nov. 17, 1902.

Mr. S. Hamilton,
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Mr. Hamilton:

In conversation with one of your representatives recently, I mentioned the fact that I had owned three Fischer pianos, the one in use now in my home coming from your salesroom 15 years ago. I spoke of the esteem in which my family, particularly my musical daughter, held it. I am indeed glad to write you to the same effect, and assure you that our experience with Fischer pianos warrants an enthusiastic tribute, both as regards tone quality, touch and durability. We have certainly given all these characteristics the most exhaustive tests, and the Fischer pianos have not been found wanting. I shall be glad if any word of mine may be of assistance to some one in solving the problem of "What piano shall I buy?"

With best wishes, I beg to remain,
Yours very truly,
H. D. HALL.

No one need wonder that the Fischer pianos are so popular. The fact that over 118,000 are in use testifies to their merit far more than any advertising could indicate.

And it is no wonder that the Fischer pianos are sold only at Hamilton's. This old reliable house is famed for the high quality of its pianos and all other musical merchandise. The policy of the establishment has always been to have the very best of everything pertaining to this line.

No matter what you may wish, come to Hamilton's with full confidence that you will find the exact thing—and at the right price. It is a positive treat to go through this store and see the many magnificent instruments, and to note the easy terms of payment. The stock assembled for the holidays is distinctly impressive.

Good pianos from $200 up.

Why not call at once and make a selection? The payments will be made to suit your convenience.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Complaints now emanating from Washington about the growth of anti-American feeling in Cuba are rather childish in tone. What else was to be expected? We turned Cuba loose to shift for herself, denied her any privileges in our markets, and, of course, she is looking out for her own interests and not for ours. Her position commanding the Gulf of Mexico and overlooking the Caribbean sea is one of great strategical advantage, and to the extent that if foreign nations can influence her policy it can be used as a leverage upon the United States. It is all our own doing from first to last and it does not become us to complain of the consequences of our folly.

The drift of discussion upon the local political situation appears favorable to Republican party reorganization and the union of all Republicans in support of a strong candidate—a man outside of the ranks of professional politicians, who will bring to the office the business capacity it requires in order to make it the source of efficient administration. Personal claims and personal ambitions must be subordinated to the public welfare. We need a big, strong man for recorder who does not belong to any faction and who will treat the government of the city as a business proposition. Then we must turn in for Greater Pittsburgh, with a charter freed from the perversions to which the present charter was subjected.

Democratic leaders who are considering ways and means of promoting their party interests might do well to consider some advice recently tendered to the English Liberal party by Lord Rosebery. He advocated the adoption of what he called the policy of "the clean slate." By this, he explained, he meant that old issues on which the verdict of the electors had gone against the party should be dropped, and that the program of the party should be suited to the present time. That is just what the Democratic party needs to do now. The whole aspect of public affairs is rapidly changing from the presence of new conditions, and there is material for new issues if it is looked for. Colonial government, the currency system, the question of tariff revision, are all matters upon which neither national party has formulated a definite policy, and this gives the Democratic party a good opportunity to provide itself with issues to meet the needs of the times if it has the sense to perceive and the ability to grasp them.

The provision of the Isthmian canal act requiring the president to negotiate a treaty with Colombia before acquiring the rights of the Panama Company is causing Colombia to be very stiff and impracticable. She is holding off on various pretexts which have for their real purport a demand for more than the $7,000,000 she previously agreed to take. The snarl has had the effect of reviving talk about the Nicaragua route, but Colombia will hardly be scared by that, as it is not really practicable. If there were nothing else in the way the volcanic disturbance to which the region is subject would be a sufficient prohibition. There is a smoking mountain right in Lake Nicaragua which forms part of the proposed route, which although as quiet as Mount Pelee used to be, might break out in the same way. The United States can operate under the present charter of the Panama Company so far as the work of construction is concerned, and she has police control over the isthmus under existing treaties. Other questions can be deferred for settlement until Colombia is in a reasonable mood.

The Russian government, which at present seems to be actuated by a progressive and liberal policy in all social matters, has just decided to found an agricultural high school for women, which will be the first institution of the kind in Europe. The graduates will be eligible to posts under the ministry of agriculture, and also to positions as administrators of the crown domains and as teachers in the intermediate agricultural schools. Although the school has not yet been open, 325 young women have come forward as pupils. The scientific administration which the Russian government is applying to the development of the country excites the admiration of every foreign correspondent who goes there. Emigrants to Siberia do not have to go in the pioneer fashion by which our west is settled, but find the appliances of civilized life—churches, schools, lecture halls and theaters—ready for them. It may be questioned whether so much government help does not tend to weaken the initiative and self-help of the people themselves, but no one will doubt that the government does wisely in giving the quick-witted and accomplished Russian girls opportunities for finding careers in promoting the development of the vast agricultural resources of the country. Russian attention to educational interests seems to know no limits. The study of the Manchu language is soon to be introduced in Russian schools contiguous to Manchuria, and it has been recently announced that Korean scholars, with the aid of Russian instructors, have succeeded in framing an alphabet of Russian phonetic characters to take the place of the hieroglyphics now in use, so that hereafter Korean pupils will be taught their own language by a Russian phonetic scheme.

In the tariff debate now going on in the German reichstag there has been a discussion of the trust question which reveals a point of view curiously different from that usually taken in this country. Speakers of all parties commended the trust system as a means of ensuing regularity in production and providing a steady market of labor, both being arguments with which we are familiar in this country, but the fact that trusts sometimes sold at lower rates abroad than at home, which in this country is regarded a strong point against them, was expatiated upon as a crowning argument in their favor. The line of reasoning followed was that Germany could only sell in the markets of the world at the ruling prices, and when these were lower than those obtainable at home, the trusts were to be commended in making sacrifices to get trade and maintain production. As a result of the action of the sheet-metal syndicate in making heavy reductions of price to get foreign orders, German shipbuilding had profited and work was provided for thousands of German work people at a critical period. The fact that Berlin mantel makers sold their goods abroad at a reduction of from 30 to 40 per cent on their Berlin prices was also cited as a praiseworthy policy made possible by trust regulation of production. The prevailing sentiment seemed to be in favor of more trusts. One speaker asserted that in free trade England there were at least 800 syndicates regulating production and sale, and it was mentioned that England got trade by selling rails abroad for $5 a ton less than the home price.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Time will be required to determine the ultimate effects upon the business situation of some of the events of the week. Almost daily announcements were made of voluntary advances in wages of railroad employes, and the movement is extending to some industrial establishments wherein wages are not fixed by annual agreement. Almost simultaneous with these advances came the announcement of impending advances in railroad freights. On December 15 rates on export wheat and corn from points west of the Missouri river to Atlantic and gulf ports will be raised two cents a bushel, and an advance in rates on iron and steel products is foreshadowed for the near future. The advance in wages averages 10 per cent, and the advance in freight rates is estimated at 15 per cent.

The increase in wages will amount to many millions in the aggregate. Some estimates have placed it as high as $100,000,000. Even cutting this in half the remainder represents a very respectable sum. It will not do, however, to jump to the conclusion that the purchasing power of the masses will be increased by that amount. It is already seen that the railroads are passing the cost to the shoulders of the shipper. The latter will pass it to the merchant, and so on until it reaches the consumer, who will find food, clothing, rents, etc., raised to a point that will fully cover the 10 per cent advance in wages. The effect will be to bring all concerned back to the starting point. This will not occur immediately, perhaps, but the movement will be accelerated by the increased demand for commodities following the greater ability at the start to pay for the same.

The ultimate effect, however, will not stop here. The United States is gradually entering the class of creditor nations, but it has been and will remain for a long time to come an agricultural and industrial nation, as distinguished from a nation like Great Britain, for instance, which through an exchange of financial credit, and through its services as a carrier of ocean freights, has been enabled to import millions more products than it exports and still retain a balance on the right side of the ledger. The enhancement of the cost of commodities through increased wages, increased cost of raw material and increased freight charges will tend to shut us out of the world's markets, and at the same time open our markets to the encroachment of foreign competition. It is estimated that our imports of iron are now at the annual rate of a million tons, while it was not so long ago that we were counting upon an extensive invasion of foreign markets with our iron and steel. Germany appears to be entering the secondary stage of reaction in her industrial depression, just as the United States, after partially recovering from the effects of 1893, fell back again in 1897, and finally rallied in 1899. Germany is endeavoring to find an outlet for her surplus production, and the only way to accomplish this is by selling cheaper than competitors.

Another effect of the temporarily greater purchasing power in the United States is to greatly increase our consumption of foreign commodities. Last month the value of our imports of foreign merchandise was $87,500,000, or $6,000,000 larger than the previous October record. For the fiscal year our imports of merchandise increased nearly $80,000,000, while our exports decreased $106,000,000. One result of this change in our foreign trade has been to reduce our foreign trade balance, keeping back gold imports, and to increase customs payments, thus withdrawing money from circulation. Monetary stringency has been the consequence.

We have indicated some of the problems in the present business situation which are now receiving the attention of those who look beyond the day or week. As stated in the opening sentence, time must determine the outcome. Some relief has been experienced during the week from the partial removal of the freight blockade in this district, and there has been a subsidence of apprehension regarding the money market in the east, which has been reflected in a moderate recovery in stock market values.

FRENCH FASHIONS IN DUELING.

The histrionic quality of French genius is beautifully illustrated by the manner in which duels are conducted. The proceedings are conducted with an amenity and a nice regard for stage effect, which raise them above the grade of personal encounter and make them an artistic performance.

These characteristics were well displayed in the latest duel growing out of political antagonism. Recently M. Gerault-Richard in a published article made a reference to M. de Dion, who meeting M. Gerault-Richard in the lobby of the chamber of deputies, said politely: "I forbid you to write about me on pain of being struck in the face." "Why do you not strike me then at once," was the reply. "There," said M. de Dion, making the gesture of touching with his gloved hand. "You have not touched me," said M. Gerault-Richard. The gesture was repeated and was responded to by a ceremonial kick. Thus honorable provocation to a duel had been given.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times, from whose account we obtain these details, had no difficulty in attending the duel. He learned that it was to take place in a certain locality, and on going there a concourse of 20 cabs, six motor cars, two omnibuses, several private carriages and 50 cycles indicated the exact spot. It was a garden in the rear of a building engaged for the purpose. The garden had been made trim, the gravel paths raked and there was an air of preparation for the entertainment of a select company. There were about 150 persons present, including nearly all the boulevard journalistic and artistic celebrities.

The proceedings were conducted with great decorum. During the rounds there was watchful silence, and only in the pauses between rounds were opinions expressed. "Gerault-Richard is very cool, but De Dion rather nervous. Did you see the straight thrust he made at Gerault-Richard?" "Yes, but Gerault-Richard parried it while smiling approval of his adversary's thrust. You see he is sharpening the point of his sword. De Dion is pricked." "No, it is nothing; his arm has just been examined"—and so on up to the 10th round, when the word "pricked" resounded, M. Gerault-Richard in parrying having scratched M. de Dion in the wrist. The surgeon gravely scrutinized the place and certified that a wound had been inflicted. This terminated the duel and the affair became at once a social gathering. Cries, laughs and arguments resounded among the spectators, and the adversaries, accompanied by their seconds and surgeons, went off to a restaurant to open the champagne.

Notwithstanding the urbanity with which such affairs are usually conducted, four or five duels in every hundred are really deadly affairs, and even when the antagonists treat the duel as a merely ceremonial function, accidents may sometimes occur, and some consideration is being given to methods for obviating such risks. A medical man, Dr. Devilliers, has offered a practical suggestion. He proposes that duelists should fight with pistols loaded with balls made chiefly of candle grease, which would crumble when they strike, leaving only a mark to certify that a hit had been made, and thus honor had been satisfied without bloodshed.

BRYAN'S INTERPRETATION.

The election comments of our esteemed contemporary, the Commoner, of which Mr. William J. Bryan is editor and proprietor, have a piquant flavor. In this week's issue the "Overboard With Our Jonah" article, in which the Albany Argus repudiated David B. Hill's leadership, is deemed to be of such importance that it is given conspicuous typographic display, with a full page head line An article is republished from the Philadelphia Press on the significance of the vote in the Fifth congressional district of New Jersey. It is a close district and ex-President Cleveland came out of his retirement to make a speech in favor of the Democratic candidate. The district went Republican by a good majority. So much for Hill and Cleveland. Editor Bryan then attends to Gorman's case himself in the following pithy editorial:

Henry Watterson has nominated Senator Gorman of Maryland for president, but there are three questions to be settled before his candidate's name appears on the ticket:

First—Mr. Watterson must agree not to throw him overboard before the convention.

Second—Senator Gorman must consent to run.

These little formalities will require some time.

Later: Brother Watterson has already commenced to hedge.

So much as regards individuals; and now as regards policy. Editor Bryan argues that the reorganizers have been dumped by the election. "If some state controlled by the reorganizers had only gone Democratic they would have smooth sailing, but they cannot find anyone who can promise success—and with them success is the only thing to be considered." Hence the moral of the elections is that "the party should stand by its position on the money question, on the trust question and on imperialism." In other words, the Democratic party should stand pat on Bryanism.

THE WABASH ROUTE.

Inspection of the Wabash route by members of councils was enlivened by a few things not on the program. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and Pennsylvania men offered gratuitous information of interest, if not of value. It is quite natural that these interests should jealously guard the monopoly they have had in Pittsburgh, but it does not follow that councils are bound to protect them in its continuance. The Wabash is needed by the shippers of Pittsburgh and through them by the entire community. The value of the information offered by the railroads in possession is in the application of it. Councilmen should make sure the new comer does no unnecessary damage to any existing interest, and that it is made responsible for all necessary damages inflicted upon such interests. There can be no consideration of exclusion of the new road from facilities for taking care of the traffic that is now so much in excess of the ability of other roads to handle.

The successful completion on October 31 of the British Pacific cable has apparently roused the American company to action. The conditions prescribed by the president were communicated last July and nothing was heard from the company until Thursday last, when it was announced on behalf of the company that the delay had been occasioned by negotiations to secure a landing place in China, and it is now ready to go ahead. The British line extends from Vancouver, British Columbia, to New Zealand and Australia, touching at Farring, Fiji and Norfolk islands. The route is southwesterly, passing east of Hawaii. Farring island, one of its land points, is almost due south of Hawaii about a thousand miles. The cost of construction and maintenance is borne by Great Britain, Canada and Australia, Great Britain's share being five-eighteenths. A loan of $10,000,000 for the purpose was authorized in August, 1901, and now the work is done. The saving on messages between England and Australia is estimated at $950,000 a year. The British cable system now girdles the world, touching none but British territory, except at Maderia and St. Vincent, in the Cape Verde islands, belonging to Portugal. At present there is no telegraphic communication between the United States and Hawaii and the Philippines can be reached only by long, round-about cable connections. The American cable will make a short and direct line between the United States, Hawaii, Guam, the Philippines and China. There is already cable connection between the Philippines and China, but President Roosevelt stipulated that an independent American line should be constructed. This the cable company now agrees to do, and says it will construct a line from Manila to Shanghai, a distance of 1,200 miles, and have the same completed within a year.

The recent issuing of two elevated railroad charters for Pittsburgh was not accompanied by noise or excitement of any kind. No opposition was made and no outcry made about the bestowal of valuable privileges. As a matter of fact a charter to construct a railroad is a privilege of small value in itself, and as regards an elevated road amounts to little until the question of the right of way is settled. Pittsburgh needs better facilities than surface railways can provide, but any company getting the use of the streets must pay for them.

That is a very interesting experiment that has been undertaken by the department of agriculture, and 12 young men who are to live for a year, if they can, upon food containing boracic acid, formaldehyde, salicylic acid, sulphurous acid and other substances used to preserve food. Unfortunately, none of the young men has a window in the stomach like the Michigan lumberman, who gave science much of its absolute information about the processes of digestion, but their physical symptoms will be of much value.

Gen. Herrera has given up the fight and is suing for peace. This leaves the United States to deal with the old Colombian government on the Panama canal, and if the foolish congressional restriction can be repealed the dealing may be made speedily effective.

Since the plan and scope committee has agreed to the park site there is a real prospect of securing the polytechnic school within a decade at the most.

A SHARP LESSON FOR TRAVELERS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 21.

Smuggling is a crime much more serious in the eyes of government officials than in those of many persons that cross the Atlantic every summer or so. How serious it is was illustrated today, when a United States district court judge here ordered the jury to find a verdict for the government against wealthy Mrs. Dulles, charged with bringing a pearl necklace into this port surreptitiously. The result of the judge's order is that Mrs. Dulles has lost her necklace, which cost 65,000 francs in Paris, and is valued in this country at $26,000. The defendant wore the necklace ashore from a steamer under a shirtwaist, and did not declare it until she was asked about it by a customs officer. Then she brought it forth and denied that she intended to smuggle. Her husband, who, obviously, is a rich man, was indignant that there should be any doubt thrown upon his wife's or his own integrity, and fought the case vigorously in court. The judge believed it was a clear case, however, and did not even leave it to the discretion of the jury, but ordered them to decide against the defendant, which means that the United States takes the necklace as punishment of the attempt to evade the payment of duty. On jewelry the duty is very high—60 per cent ad valorem. The temptation to bring it into the country without paying the import charges to the revenue department is very great, therefore, and unless passengers' consciences are exceedingly tender, the customs authorities believe they have strong reason to be suspicious of nearly everybody. It is probable that this Dulles decision will be appealed to another court, but if the case is as clear as the judge today considered it was, there is little hope of any relief for the day. The loss of a $26,000 article is something to make would-be smugglers hesitate, and there is a strong hope in the custom house that this case will have a deterrent effect on other Atlantic voyagers who might try to save money at the expense of Uncle Sam.

Leopard Trainer Expects Her Fate.

Mme. Morelli, who performs with half a dozen savage leopards and jaguars in the Bostock show, is scratched and scarred all over her body. Only a few days ago one of her treacherous pets laid her scalp open for several inches, and this afternoon one of them, in a very ugly humor, made claws at her like the angry cat he was, which would have wounded her severely were she not as quick as a cat herself. She said to me after the show that she expects to be caught by one of them some day, but that the fascination of subduing them is too great to be resisted, and that she intends to train leopards until her time comes.

One Spot Worse than Longacre Square.

I thought Longacre square was the worst torn-up spot in New York, but I changed my mind this afternoon. Broadway, where is crosses Columbus avenue at Sixty-sixth street, is worse. The subway has converted the roadway into a series of immense canyons, to begin with, while along Broadway and down most of the cross streets, there are monster apartment houses, theaters, hotels, business blocks and music halls, all in process of building at one time. How pedestrians manage to get along without being knocked on the head by falling bricks and swinging iron girders, is a puzzle to the casual observer; but they do it somehow, and, moreover, there are electric cars whisking along at full speed, delivery wagons, heavy trucks, automobiles, with an occasional ambulance, all on the dead trot, and the "L" trains roaring away overhead in their usual thunderous way, the combined din being enough to confuse even a Tammany policeman. It does not do it, however, for the policemen there are the coolest specimens uptown. They look upon the hurly-burly and busy movement as the normal condition of things, and, perhaps, could not realize that there are other places where life is quieter and slower. A Pittsburgher remarked this afternoon that he had thought the corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue in his own city was lively, but added: "I take off my hat to this mixture."

Women Take to Horseback Riding.

As is the case every year, the horse show has given an impetus to equestrianism in New York, particularly among women of the smart set. I saw more women on horseback today in Central park than for several months. There were young girls of school girl age, "buds" of a few years older, young matrons, with some not so young, and one who was something more than middle-aged. All sat on their horses like dragons, so far as their straightness and control of their mounts was concerned, and all were using the ordinary side saddle. A year or two ago there was a desperate effort to force the fashion of riding astride here, but it was not received with much favor, and now there are few indeed of the fashionable women of New York who sit their horses like men, even among the hunting set. The side saddle for women, like the black and white evening dress for men, seems to withstand all assaults, and nothing can drive it out. The women that have ridden in the ring at the horse show are all splendid equestriennes, of course, and the desire to emulate them has resulted in filling the bridle paths of Central park almost to crowding in these beautiful Indian summer days.

More Than the Court Could Stand.

Court etiquet in New York is rather more elastic than in Pittsburgh, because Tammany men of influence are allowed latitude occasionally which is surprising to people from other cities. There was a quick rebuke for a man who took too many liebtries in one of the supreme court rooms today, however, together with a fine of $10. The offender was well dressed and was said to be a lawyer. He entered the court room in his hat and smoking a cigar. The court officers made him take off his hat and remove his cigar, but, just before he made his exit, he blew a thick cloud of smoke toward the bench. Justice Gorman is of a nationality notoriously quick-tempered, and he shouted to the attendant to "Bring that man back." Then there was a sharp lecture, followed by the imposing of the fine, and a much discomfited man sneaking out of the court room.

Quick Changes of Four-in-Hands.

This has been the day of four-in-hands at the horse show. The star exhibition this evening was quick changing of four-in-hand teams in the ring. It was a reminder of the coaching days of more than half a century ago, when hostlers and stable boys on winter days used to take out a team and put another one in before the outside passengers had time to dispose of their hot drinks and climb back to the top of the coach. In the contests tonight, appointments counted 50 points and speed 50. The attendance was the largest of the week, and the men in the ring were on their mettle, so that a fine exhibition was given.

The Piker Wary of Manhattan.

One of the peculiar features of the flurry in Manhattan is that the outside speculators let it severely alone. As a rule, when there is excitement in the market over some particular stock, the joyous "piker" is much in evidence; but somehow he was afraid of Manhattan. It was a little too big for him, he thought, and the manipulation has been done almost entirely by insiders, playing that always interesting game of diamond-cut-diamond. There is another version of the saw, cannabalistic and not quite so polite, which perhaps might apply still more aptly to the situation.

Electrocuted Man Resurrected.

A commentary on the effectiveness of electrocution with a voltage of 1,700 or thereabouts has just been offered in Jersey City. A workman at the Edison plant named George Wolf short-circuited a wire on which he was operating and received 2,000 volts of electricity through his body. The current was still burning his clothes when he was dragged away. He seemed to be lifeless, but soon recovered, and it is believed that soon he will be as well as ever.

Meat Getting Cheaper.

Beef is going down. The price of meat has been steadily rising in New York for many months, and it has been particularly hard for the poor, who, buying small quantities, have been compelled to pay the outside figure for everything they have had. Such immense quantities of beef have been coming into the markets in the last few days that the price of every cut is offered at a reduction of several cents a pound. Porterhouse cuts are 26 cents a pound instead of 28 cents, and the highest price for a rib roast is 20 cents a pound, while the lowest is 14 cents. A sirloin steak now costs 20 cents a pound, and a round steak 16 or 18 cents while the price of a pot roast runs from 12 to 16 cents a pound, and that of beef stew from 8 to 12½ cents.

Police Reform the Only Failure.

R. Fulton Cutting, chairman of the Citizens' union, has prepared a kind of summary of what Mayor Low's reform administration has accomplished. It is complimentary, as a whole; but Mr. Cutting regrets that the police department does not show more improvement. As he puts it: "It is true that the effort to solve the awful problem of the police department has thus far disappointed public expectation, and so exclusively has attention been concentrated upon that department that the very notable achievements of the others have been lost sight of."

Two Big Feeds for the Poor.

Two thousand poor persons will get a free Thanksgiving dinner if enough money can be raised by the charitable projectors. It will be done by the founders of the St. Andrews 1-cent coffee stands, which have been an institution in New York for some years, and the meal will be as good a one as could be desired, including turkey and pie. As soon as Thanksgiving is over the Salvation Army will send out its soldiers to watch the pots at street corners, soliciting contributions to the big Christmas dinner that the army gives every year in Madison Square garden.

Ho! For New Haven.

There will be a tremendous rush of New Yorkers to New Haven tomorrow to witness the football game of Yale against Harvard. Many special trains will run, and thousands of people will go from here early in the morning. Besides those, there were crowds leaving this city tonight, so that they may get good positions in the field. Another thing is that hotel and boarding house accommodations will be scarce, although not so much so as at Princeton. New Haven is a large city of its class, and has been used to taking in strangers in multitudes for half a century or so.

Waldorf Crowd Said to Be Squeezed.

There were sorrowful faces at the Waldorf-Astoria billiard room and men's cafe tonight. What is known as the "Waldorf crowd" was badly squeezed in Wall street today, according to the wise ones, and John W. Gates in particular, is said to have suffered severely. The crowd is understood to have been heavily short of several stocks that rose sharply today, including Reading, Sugar, Amalgamated and St. Paul. It is all conjecture, of course, and perhaps the persons concerned would deny it altogether if anyone asked them.

Charity in the Waldorf Ballroom.

There was an attractive scene in the big ball room of the Waldorf-Astoria today. It was the opening of the harvest festival for the benefit of the free school for crippled children, and the whole apartment, with its gilding and its frescoes and its festoons of flags, which has echoed so often to the strains of dance music and been gay with splendidly-dressed women and men, was a maze of fancy booths. There are Christmas trees, a little ahead of the season, a gypsy encampment, a biograph and the famous educated ape, Esau. Mrs. Arthur Elliott Fish is in supreme control of the affair, assisted by a number of other society women. The object of the entertainment is to enlarge the accommodation of the school for a hundred more pupils. It is a splendid charity, and more than one Pittsburgh philanthropist is interested in it under the rose.

More Electric Trains.

One or two more electric trains are put into service on the "L" each day. So many are running now that one need not let more than one or two trains pass before striking one moved by electricity—that is between South Ferry and West Fifty-eighth street on the West Side; while on the East Side, running along Second avenue and the Bowery, the old-fashioned engines are about banished altogether. Pittsburghers that have not been to New York for a year will find a pleasant surprise when they take their first ride on the elevated nowadays.

Labor Unions and Militia.

From the Indianapolis News.

Any union that refuses to allow its members to serve in the militia, that punishes them for so doing, and that thus antagonizes the social order of which the militia is as much a part as is the judiciary, is itself an enemy of the public. There is not a man in the United States between the ages of 18 and 45 that is not subject to military duty. All are potentially members of the national guard. The national guard is a creature of the law, controlled by the law, and itself the guardian and upholder of the law. Therefore an assault on it is an assault on the law. So it is not a question of violating the rule of the union, but of the right of the union to make such a rule

PERSONALS.

"The capacity of our plants has been increased and we have installed considerable new machinery at the factories at Union, Keystone and Salineville, O.," said William Weaver, general manager of the United States Fireproofing Corporation, at the Hotel Victoria last night. "The capacity of the plants has also been largely increased" he continued, "but the demand for our product keeps pace with improvements. We have our own mines and get our fire clay from the same mines where we get our coal. The mines are in Columbianna county, near Lisbon. Our veins of fire clay are the finest in the world. The company has erected modern houses for its workmen at Keystone and other houses will be erected at Union and Salineville. At the factory at Union 55 men are always steadily employed, and at the Keystone plant 60 men. The old stacks in the interior of the kilns are being taken out and new 50-foot stacks being erected, on the outside of the kilns, to give more room for material."

THE DEATH ROLL.

Mrs. Catherine McCue.

Mrs. Catherine McCue, widow of John McCue, died at the South Side hospital late Thursday night after a long illness, resulting from cancer. The deceased was one of the oldest residents of Port Perry, having lived there for the past 41 years, and was postmistress of the place under President Cleveland. Mrs. McCue was born in County Down, Ireland, in 1843 and came to America and settled in Port Perry 41 years ago. Her husband, who died in 1890, was a hotel proprietor in the village for many years. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Thomas Quinn of McKeesport, Mrs. James Kelly of Port Perry and Stella, Catherine and Nellie and Charles at home, also one sister, Mrs. Mary Finn of Port Perry. She was a life-long member of St. Thomas' Catholic church, Braddock, where the funeral services will be conducted Monday morning. Interment will be made in the family burial plot in St. Thomas' cemetery, Braddock.

Mrs. Sara Duff.

Mrs. Sara Duff, a member of one of the oldest families in Penn township, is dead at the family homestead near old Hebron church, four miles north of Wilkinsburg. Mrs. Duff was in her 77th year. Death was due to heart failure. She is survived by the following children: The Rev. J. A. Duff, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Aspinwall; Charles and Robert Duff, at home; Mrs. Mary Barkley of Wilkinsburg, Misses Lizzie and Millie Duff, at home, and two brothers, Charles Morrow of Penn township and Henry Morrow of Wilkinsburg.

Dr. Charles H. Shaffer.

Dr. Charles H. Shaffer, an old resident of Elizabeth, Pa., died yesterday at his home, after a brief illness. He was in his 45th year, and had lived in Elizabeth during his whole life. He was at the time of his death a trustee of the First Methodist church, and had always been an active church worker. He is survived by his widow, four sons and one daughter. Dr. F. T. B. Shaffer of Elizabeth is a brother of the deceased.

Lewis Bradley.

Lewis Bradley, a prominent business man of Wilkinsburg, died in Denver yesterday, where he went for his health. His wife, accompanied him and was with him when he died. The body will arrive in Wilkinsburg tomorrow. Deceased is survived by his widow and two sons, Ralph and Walter. He formerly resided on Frankstown avenue, East End, coming from Uniontown, Pa.

William C. Moon.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. K. Wakefield, aged 55 years, died yesterday at her late home, No. 1204 Penn avenue, Sharpsburg. She was the widow of James A. Wakefield. She is survived by four daughters and one son.

Good Citizen, This Man.

From the Marlette (Mich.) Leader.

As a sample of how election day was observed this year the following incident will do. A farmer from over in Elmer township came to town with a load of grain, sold it at the elevator and came up town for his dinner. Before eating he thought a glass of beer would about suit his taste and started for the bar to get one. The closed doors were a surprise to him and of course he wanted to know the why of it. On being told that the law demanded a close down on election day, he was completely dumfounded. Said he forget all about election and he really meant to go and vote for his nephew, who was running for clerk on the Democratic ticket.

The Logical Ticket.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mr. Cleveland labored with New Jersey and it went Republican. Mr. Bryan delivered scores of speeches in Nebraska and Colorado and they went Republican. Mr. Hill deluged New York with speeches and it went Republican. Mr. Gorman made a powerful still hunt in Maryland and it went Republican. But Col. Watterson carried Kentucky, and a country doctor in Rhode Island, named Garvin, captured Rhode Island for the Democrats. The logical ticket for 1904 is Watterson and Garvin.

How the Democrats Do It.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The 314,000 Republicans of Missouri are represented in the next congress by one member, while the 350,000 Democrats have 14 members and Jim Butler. The gerrymander was made 5-ob

POLITICAL DRIFT.

It is noted that the Socialist and Prohibition votes were nearly equal in the late Pennsylvania election. The Prohibitionists numbered 23,427 and the Socialists 21,910. Neither has any promise of ever attaining much influence in the Keystone state, but that does not appear to trouble the man with a penchant for political fads. He may as well vote Prohibitionist or Socialist as to go Democratic.

The St. Louis Globe Democrat, which is a Republican paper, notes the misfortunes of the Democratic leaders. It says: Some of the Democratic papers are advertising for a leader. They look over the list and see that every man—Bryan, Cleveland, Gorman, Boise, Hill, Tom Johnson, Pattison and all the rest of them—who was mentioned in any conspicuous way before the recent election as a leader of their party was knocked obsolete by that contest. Not one of those who have been named will be of any account hereafter, either in the role of a prophet or a boss for the Democracy. Even Cleveland, who had less to lose by the recent Democratic smash-up than any of the other big Democrats who has been named, for he had no aspirations for the presidency again, has lost that little by the wreck two weeks ago.

Congressman Babcock of Wisconsin, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, has announced on his arrival in Washington that while he advocates an extra session of the Fifty-eighth congress, he has no authority from President Roosevelt to say there will be one. Mr. Babcock also denies that he has any deal with Mr. Cannon to secure his own appointment as chairman of the ways and means committee. Mr. Babcock cited the experience of Speaker Reifer, who named three Pennsylvanians to the ways and means committee, and to the deal made by Speaker Crisp on chairman of that committee, in both cases the deal returning to plague the presiding officer.

The disappearance of third party men from congress is noted by the Chicago Tribune and it may occur to the reader that eminently satisfactory conditions have converted them to Republicanism. Says the Tribune. In the house of representatives elected in 1888 there were only Republicans and Democrats. In

PENNSYLVANIA IS CLEARING YARDS

Substantial Progress Reported at Official Conferences.

AID FROM CONSIGNEES

Messengers Employed to Give Prompt Notice When Cars Are Ready—Wage Advance Has Stimulated Railroad Men.

Favorable reports as to freight congestion were made at the two daily meetings of the Pennsylvania officials in this city yesterday. It was shown that the yards are being gradually eased. The effort will be continued until normal Pittsburgh conditions return. The relays of high officials who work half the night or all the night continue, so that no opportunity to improve the condition is lost.

Now that the Pennsylvania is again succeeding in placing a large number of cars ready for unloading, it is the intention of the company to secure the greatest possible co-operation from consignees in the way of unloading cars to give place to others. The company has employed messengers to inform the consignees as soon as cars are ready for their attention, and to request immediate work on them. This method is found more efficacious than notification by mail.

Big Trackage Improvements.

Gradually the plans of the company for removing this congestion permanently by expensive additions to the yards and through tracks are becoming known. The double-tracking of the Cleveland & Pittsburg division, with additions to the yards in that division, will be rushed. In the Mahoning and Shenango valleys, where there is now one track, a year will see two or three tracks.

The Pennsylvania railroad's Pittsburgh division yesterday showed up in better condition than for several weeks. The West Penn division also is reported in better shape, although its deliveries are still very erratic. An instance of this is shown in the story told yesterday by one consignee. A car of chemicals was ordered from Natrona three weeks ago. The car was immediately loaded and placed on the siding ready for the engine to shift into a train. A week ago, the car not having appeared in Pittsburgh, inquiry was made. The manufacturer explained that the car still stood on the siding. The order was cancelled a few days ago and the material secured elsewhere.

Employes Work Harder.

The moral effect of the recent increase of 10 per cent in wages has been greater than was expected. The pay at the end of this month will show that the increase has brought results worth more to the railroad company than the amount of the increase in wages for the month. The knowledge of the appreciation of their work and the material recognition of it has encouraged the men, who were becoming very much disgusted with their positions. Even as it is, the railroad trainmen and enginemen are far more eager to obtain rest than more money. The railroads are employing everyone who can be found fit for the work. Advancements come rapidly nowadays. It is difficult to secure enough good men to do the work.

The Baltimore & Ohio's main trouble is with the car supply. With the increased motive power on the Pittsburgh division, the company has been able to move nearly all the freight for which it could furnish cars. Now the call is for more cars. The reverse is the Pennsylvania's condition. It has more loaded cars than it can move.

On the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie conditions are, as usual, better than on the other lines. The "Little Giant" is moving about 6,000 loaded cars a day and giving good service on all parts of its line.

PITTSBURGH LEADS.

Has Greatest Increase in Postoffice Business and Lowest Rate of Expense.

The percentage of expense compared with the gross receipts of the large postoffices show that the Pittsburgh postoffice was the lowest. The annual statement of the postmaster general shows that the following cities have these percentages of the expense: Brooklyn, 68 per cent; San Francisco, 46; Boston, 45; Philadelphia, 45; Buffalo, 43; Detroit, 39; Cleveland, 37; Chicago, 36; New York, 36; St. Louis, 35; Pittsburgh, 33.

The revenue for the postoffice department for the year ended June 30, 1902, was $121,848,047 26. The expenditures for the maintenance of the postal service was $124,492,472 02. The expenditures exceed the revenue $2,544,424 76. The increase in the gross receipts for the following offices for the year ending June 30, 1902, over the year ending June 30, 1901, shows that Pittsburgh made the highest increase: Buffalo, $105,420 50; Cincinnati, $112,023 30; Detroit, $115,743 13; Cleveland, $144,578 41; Pittsburgh, $183,484 87.

By the auditor's statement for the year ending June 30, 1902, the following is the report for the Pittsburgh office: Population of Pittsburgh, 1900 census, 321,616, making Pittsburgh the tenth city in the United States in population; gross receipts for the year, $1,214,018 28; in amount of postal receipts, Pittsburgh stands ninth, Cleveland having a larger population, but smaller revenue; expenditures for clerk hire, $164,417 60; expenditures for rent, light and fuel, $5,550; incidental expenses, $17,338 85; expenditures for maintenance of free delivery, $208,604 39; total expense of office, $401,710 33; net revenue, or amount of gross receipts above operating expenses, $812,307 95; percentage expense, 33.

RIVET MEN MEET.

No Likelihood of an Increase in Prices at Present.

A meeting of the Association of American Bolt and Rivet Manufacturers was held at the Hotel Lincoln yesterday to discuss trade conditions and revise the price list of rivets. About 18 representatives of the leading bolt and rivet firms were present.

Among the matters discussed was a closer combination of interests. D. J. Champion of Cleveland, presided, and S. J. Baily of New York acted as secretary. It is not likely there will be any increase in prices, as the tendency is to reduce instead of increase prices at this time.

John Hammer, a policeman, who was arrested on Thursday night on a charge of drunkenness, was arraigned for a hearing yesterday morning before Magistrate McKenna and discharged. Magistrate McKenna told the prisoner that his case would be disposed of by the police board and he had no desire to embarrass him. Hammer had been on the force only three days.

POPE LEO ENCOURAGES STUDY OF SCRIPTURES

Council or Commission to Sit at Rome to Explain and Defend the Bible.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 605 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.

The text of Pope Leo's latest encyclical to promote the study of the Scriptures, has just been received at the papal legation in this city. Among other things the document says:

In order that our purpose may be more easily and abundantly realized, we have now determined upon adding a new and authoritative aid for this end. For, in view of the complexity of modern studies and the manifold errors which prevail, it has become impossible for individual interpreters of the Holy Books to explain and defend them as the needs of the hour require.

We are, therefore, pleased to establish a species of council, or commission, as it is commonly called, of serious men, whose duty it will be to devote their entire energy to insure that the divine words may receive that more minute explanation of them demanded by the times and may be not only preserved from all taint of error, but even raised above rash opinions.

The fitting seat for such a council is Rome, under the very eyes of the supreme pontiff himself; that inasmuch as the city is the inheritress and guardian of Christian wisdom, so the teaching of this necessary doctrine may flow from its center, sound and incorrupt throughout the whole body of the Christian republic.

In order that the men composing this council may collectively fulfill the most serious and honorable of duties, they have for their especial guidance the following principles:

First of all, they will carefully investigate the modern trend of thought in this branch of study and regard nothing discovered by modern research as foreign to their purpose. Nay, they will use the utmost diligence and promptitude in taking up and promoting by their writings whatever may from day to day be discovered useful for Biblical exegesis. Thus they will pay great attention to philology, with its kindred subjects, and carefully follow their developments. Immediately attacks break out upon the Sacred Scriptures, we must look for weapons to prevent truth from going down in a contest with error.

So, too, we must look to the study of the ancient oriental languages and the knowledge of the codices, especially of the earliest codices, in order that they be not held in less estimation by us than by those who are not with us, for both these branches are of great moment in the studies in question.

Next, with regard to the uncompromising maintenance of the authority of the Scriptures, they must exercise earnest care and diligence. They must work especially to prevent among Catholics the prevalence of that objectionable mode of thinking and acting which attributes undue weight to the opinions of the heterodox, almost as though the true knowledge of scriptures were to be sought principally in the show of erudition made by those who do not belong to us."

WYMAN IS INDORSED.

Allegheny Third Ward Democrats Favor Him and a Fusion Ticket.

The friends of James G. Wyman are getting to work early. The Democratic executive committee of the Third ward, Allegheny, met last night and adopted resolutions indorsing fusion between the Democratic and Citizens parties and the former Republican mayor of Allegheny, James G. Wyman, for the fusion nomination for recorder. The meeting was called and presided over by Robert Beck, chairman of the ward organization, and was held in the Hotel Lattner, in Madison avenue. The committee, it is said, is composed of delegates from each of the 11 districts in the ward.

Five common councilmen and one select councilman are to be elected in February in the Third ward, and the committee last night decided to demand that two of the common councilmen on the fusion ticket be Democrats. Several names were suggested. Wyman's friends say the Democrats of the Fourth ward will meet on Monday night and indorse fusion and Wyman.

OFF FOR THE BIG GAME.

Pittsburgh Contingent Not So Large as for Last Saturday's Battle.

The departure of Pittsburghers last night for the Yale-Harvard game was small in comparison with the number who left the night before the Yale-Princeton game. This difference, while partly due to the prominee of Pittsburgh as a Princeton center was contributed to by other causes. Many who went on for the first game remained over for today's spending the week in New York at the horse show. Others left a few days ago, with the horse show in view and still more got away Thursday night.

Among those who left by the Pennsylvania last night were Misses Miller and Lewis, C. S. Mitchell, auditor of the Philadelphia Company, accompanied by Mrs. Mitchell; Miss Griffith of Washington, Pa.; John Stewart, of the Washington Observer, H. B. Woods of McKeesport and McL. Libbey of W. and J.

TO DISCUSS CUBAN TREATY.

President Palma Names Commission to Confer With Gen. Bliss.

HAVANA, Nov. 21.—President Palma issued an official order today appointing Secretary of State Zaldo and Secretary of Finance Montes as a commission to meet Gen. Tasker Bliss to discuss the tariff question.

Gen. Bliss has been sent to Cuba to make an investigation of the industrial situation and the financial possibilities of the island. The main business of his mission will be to arrange with the Cuban government a basis of agreement for the commercial treaty between Cuba and the United States.

Talked on Cathedrals.

An interesting lecture upon "Gothic Cathedrals of England," delivered by Dr. G. W. Allyn, entertained the members of the Men's club at the Christ Methodist Episcopal church last night. The lecture was illustrated by stereopticon views and was followed by refreshments. The photographs for the views were all taken by Dr. Allyn while abroad.

Sterling Foundry in Operation.

The Sterling Steel Foundry Company of Braddock, which is composed of Pittsburgh manufacturers, yesterday put the last of its mills in operation. The plant employs about 350 men. The plant will manufacture shapes and bars and do general foundry work. Construction was begun last July.

COAL TRAIN RAN AWAY WITH HIM.

James Wilcox, employed by the Spring Hill Coal Company at their mines near Wilmerding, was uncoupling coal cars yesterday morning at the top of the incline, when the line caught and the train started down, with Wilcox wedged between the cars.

He was carried the entire length of the incline, a half mile, at lightning speed, and when pulled from between the cars by the workmen at the bottom he was unconscious from fright, but was uninjured.

CALL IS URGENT TO FREIGHT MEN

IRON AND STEEL TARIFF

The call for the meeting of the Central Freight association at Chicago Tuesday, received here yesterday, specifically states that the meeting will take up rates in general, that matters of more than usual interest will be discussed and urges every member of the association to attend.

This association is made up of the general freight agents and freight traffic managers of the lines between Pittsburgh and Buffalo on the east and Chicago and St. Louis on the west. Through this association the first steps will be taken in the coming advance of rates. The next step will be the executive approval of the movements important enough to demand action by the presidents of the roads. These executive meetings will be held in New York next month.

The plan to increase rates comes direct from the presidents, and will be effective, not only in "central" territory, the part in which the Central association has jurisdiction, but in other parts of the country.

S. M. Provost, third vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, who has charge of all freight schedules, said last night in Philadelphia:

"There will be an advance in some rates with the New Year. Not much of a one, however. I saw in the papers this morning that rates on steel and iron will be increased 20 per cent. This is not so. Nothing has as yet been decided upon, but you can rest assured that any advances made will be moderate. There is no idea of making a horizontal advance in all rates. Many rates will not be disturbed at all."

Another official of the company said: "The iron and steel schedules will be advanced 8 or 10 per cent, and there will also be an advance on stone, brick, sand and other cumbersome material. Dressed beef and provisions will be advanced 6 cents per hundred. This is the usual winter rate. The rates on grain and other cereals, from Chicago to New York, will be advanced 2½ per hundred. This increase was decided upon several weeks ago by the trunk line traffic managers."

A special dispatch to The Gazette from Cincinnati says: President M. E. Ingalls of the Big Four returned from New York today and entered a denial to the report that his road would make a general advance in wages. "Nothing in the way of posting a notice of an increase in salaries and wages has been contemplated by the Big Four," he said. "We have been increasing the pay of our men for two years, and will continue to do so whenevrr such a move is justified, but there will be no general increase on the lines that several other roads have adopted."

Regarding the reports that freight rates are to be markedly increased, he said: "A gradual increase of freight tariffs is necessary to meet present conditions. The roads must do so in order to be able to continue in business."

MICHIGAN CENTRAL INCREASED WAGES

DETROIT, Nov. 21.—General Superintendent L'Hommedieu this afternoon announced an increase in the pay of the switchmen on the Michigan Central railway in the big yards between Detroit and Chicago and at junction points in Michigan from December 1. The new scale affects about 500 men, and means an increase in the company's payroll of about $6,000 a month.

Caller Wanted $100.

The Rev. Father Andrew Lojek, pastor of the Polish Roman Catholic church of Carnegie, had a caller yesterday who demanded $100, and when refused, drew a revolver and pointed at Father Lojek. The latter grappled with the man, who broke loose and escaped.

VERNER WILL DECIDE.

Expected to Inform His Friends of His Attitude Toward the Recordership.

Thomas S. Bigelow returned from New York, where he met Murray Verner, who has been mentioned in connection with the Citizens party's nomination for the recordership. Mr. Bigelow admitted that he had seen Mr. Verner, but said it was only a casual talk.

Mr. Bigelow said that he expects to have more light on the recordership by next Monday. It is believed that by that time Mr. Verner will decide whether he will consent to have his name presented. It is accepted that William B. Rodgers has no intention of being a candidate.

MURDER OF AN ITALIAN.

Colored Man Held on the Evidence of a Companion.

William Young, colored, of Glassport was held yesterday morning by the coroner's jury to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of the murder of Nickoli Zinliano, an Italian, who was robbed and assaulted on the night of September 7. The victim died on October 16, at the McKeesport hospital.

Young, with Robert Morris, also colored, is charged with breaking into the Italian's shanty, and, after robbing him of $60, Young is accused of shooting him. Both men were arrested the next day by Constable Charles Moore. Morris took the stand and said that he entered the shanty, but did not shoot the Italian. He was held as a witness.

Rail Broke on a Trestle.

CLAYSVILLE, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Fortune favored the Cincinnati express on the Baltimore & Ohio on its trip west Thursday night. As the train was passing over the west end of the Taylorstown trestle a violent jerking shook the whole train. A stop was made and the crew found on the curve on the trestle over two feet of broken rail. Trains have had slow orders over this trestle since last July and this saved the train. The trestle is 80 feet high.

gentlemen:—We're running a pretty good Clothing Store here—want you to come—quote you some prices.

Price, however, depends upon the kind of goods you associate it with.

This store sells what it is pleased to call, and justified in calling, Better Clothing.

When you come and see you'll realize the full force of "Better Clothing."

But you won't appreciate it till you do come.

There's been a very strong impression abroad that Ready Clothing is Secondary Clothing.

We've helped to change that.

Men's Winter Overcoats—regulation style, three-quarter length—$10.00 to $48.00.

Note this:—Men's Satin lined Dark Gray or Black Winter Overcoats, all hand made—fine Cloths, custom tailoring—$25.00—Coats you couldn't get made under $50.00, and then it wouldn't fit you any better, or look any better, or wear any better.

We're in earnest about that, and when you see you'll say we're right.

Men's Chesterfield Overcoats, $15.00 to $25.00.

Paletots, $20.00 to $35.00.

Men's Single and Double Breasted Storm Coats, 50 inches long—swagger things with or without belts or half belts—Checks, Plaids and Over-plaids—$18.50 to $45.00.

Football Players, Gentlemen Drivers, Automobilists and others with high toned sporting proclivities, want to see them.

Youths' Overcoats—Belt Coats, Chesterfields, Surtouts, Paddocks and three-quarter length Coats—plain Black or Oxford—Plaids, Checks and Fancy Mixtures—$10.00 to $30.00.

Overcoats for Boys 8 to 16—$5.00 to $20.00.

Juvenile sizes—2½ to 8 years—$3.50 to $15.00.

men's winter suits, $15.00

Black Thibet Cloth, hand tailored.

Maker after maker has offered us Black Thibet Cloth Suits on a similar price basis, but none that we have seen—and we have seen them all—could begin to compare with the above.

You come and see the Suits and satisfy yourself as to whether we are right or not—and whether the Suits are.

Men's Winter Suits, $10.00 to $30.00.

Handsome Mixtures, made in the highest fashion by best makers,

$25.00

Prince Albert Coats and Vests, $28.00 and $35.00.

Cutaway Coats and Vests, $20.00 and $28.00.

We think they're much better—finer, and more carefully tailored, than any you'll see.

Trousers to wear with them, $5.00 to $10.00.

Other separate Trousers, $2.50 to $8.50.

The $5.00 line of Mixtures will excite your admiration.

Youths' Winter Suits, $8.50 to $25.00.

Big Boys' Suits, $3.50 to $15.00.

Juvenile, $3.50 to $10.00.

Great Suits for Boys for $5.00—a popular price and for that reason emphatic values.

THANKSGIVING FROM PULPITS

Many Local Churches Will Have Special Services Tomorrow.

IS TEMPERANCE SUNDAY

Day Is Also Set Aside as Hospital Sunday and Many Denominations Take Up Special Offerings for Other Causes.

Thanksgiving is the topic of many sermons to be delivered tomorrow. Ministers of all denominations have taken this for their theme. Tomorrow being the fourth Sunday in November will be Temperance Sunday. This day was set aside by the Protestants all over the world for general observance. Many pastors will preach temperance sermons and Sunday school superintendents and teachers, leaders of young people's meetings have provided special temperance exercises.

In nearly all the churches in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, a collection will be taken tomorrow for the benefit of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday association, as it is also Hospital Sunday. Last year 50 churches participated in this movement and this year the number will be largely increased.

All arrangements have been completed for the organization next Tuesday night, of the new Presbyterian congregation in the East End, which has been holding services in the school hall in Friendship avenue, for the past three months. The church school has been in charge of the Rev. J. T. Gibson.

To Organize Congregation.

The committee will meet at 8 o'clock in the hall and after a sermon by, one of their number will proceed to the organization of a new congregation. This will be one of the shortest records in the presbytery. Usually it takes a year to ascertain the desire of the people of a community. About $25,000 has been subscribed toward the new church building.

After the sermon Tuesday evening, the committee in charge will hold an election for members of the session and for trustees of the new organization. It is also expected that the newly formed congregation will on the same evening extend a call to the Rev. Mr. Gibson. The building committee of the congregation has about settled on a plan for the new church, and work on the chapel which is to cost about $20,000, will be commenced immediately. The committee in charge Tuesday night is composed of the Rev. William L. McEwan, the Rev. Maitland Alexander, the Rev. W. S. Fulton, William C. Lilly and F. J. Kress.

The twenty-third anniversary of the Lawrenceville branch of the Young Men's Christian association of Pittsburgh will be celebrated in the Lawrenceville Presbyterian church tomorrow evening. The anniversary address will be delivered by the Rev. W. E. McCullough, pastor of the Hamilton Avenue United Presbyterian church.

Special Collections.

Methodist Protestant churches of this city have been asked to take a collection tomorrow, Thanksgiving Day and the following Sunday for the benefit of the Kansas City university, a denominational institution. The purpose is to meet the offer of H. J. Heinz of Pittsburgh to give the university $3,333 33, provided the rest of the church will raise $6,666 66.

All the Presbyterian churches are to take collections tomorrow for the $50,000 fund to be used in building new churches. If enough money is not obtained the Rev. George W. Chalfant will at once begin personal solicitation campaign.

The Rev. T. J. Jones and wife, the Welsh missionaries from India, will visit Pittsburgh tomorrow and Dr. Jones will conduct the services at the chapel of the Pittsburgh academy, where the old Second Avenue Welsh Presbyterian congregation is worshiping. At the morning service he will present a complete review of his work in the Silchar district of India during the past 10 years. In the evening Dr. Jones will deliver his first sermon in Pittsburgh. He will be assisted by Mrs. Jones, who will make an address to the women members of the church.

The fifth in the present series of Sunday services at the temple of the Reform Congregation Rodeph Sholem in Eighth street, below Penn avenue, will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rabbi J. Leonard Levy will deliver a lecture on "Youth and Its Visions," to be followed by a companion address on "Age and Its Realities."

Thanksgiving Festival.

A Thanksgiving festival will be held in the Second Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, tomorrow morning. The church will be decorated with flowers, grains and fruits. Music will be discoursed by an orchestra and an enlarged chorus directed by Benjamin Franklin Butts. The Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the church, will preach on "How Can These Good Times Last?"

The Rev. C. M. Miller, pastor of the Bingham Street Methodist Episcopal church, South Side, will deliver a special sermon to the members of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics of that district tomorrow morning. In the same church, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, a temperance rally will be conducted by the Rev. E. L. Eaton. A platform meeting will be held at 7:30 in the evening.

Great disappointment is manifested by the members of the Presbyterian union because it has transpired that the Rev. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton, the moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, will not be present at their next meeting. It had been confidently expected that he would make an address at the meeting. The announcement that he would be present was due to a misunderstanding.

BIDSON SHELTER HOUSES.

Contracts for Public Comfort Buildings in the Parks to Be Let Monday.

Bids were opened yesterday by Recorder Brown and Director McCandless for three shelter houses in Schenley park and two in Highland. The contracts will be let next Monday. This was the second time bids were received, the former bids exceeding the appropriation. Director McCandless stated yesterday that he believed that awards could be made from the last set of bids received.

The bids for the first shelter house in Schenley, to be built near the athletic grounds, are: Henry Schenck & Co., $10,935; William Kerr Sons, $10,738; Golden & Crick, $12,788; the Nicola Building Company, $14,446.

Themes should not exceed three bars; they should be written plainly and can be handed to the usher during intermission. The program for this evening is:

Overture, "In Memoriam".....Sullivan
Andante in D major.....Hollins
Siegfried Idyll.....Wagner
Prelude and fugue in B minor.....Bach
Intermission.
Improvisation (a) Im Garten; (b) Finale.....Goldmark

BLAZE IN EAST END.

Dilworth Residence Damaged $14,000 by Fire Due to Tinners' Carelessness.

Fire yesterday morning caused damage to the amount of $14,000 to the residence of Mrs. John Dilworth at Collins and Stanton avenues. The fire was caused by the carelessness of tinners at work on the roof.

An uncovered torch set fire to the woodwork near the cornice and before the flames were discovered the fire had good headway. Two companies responded to the alarm and soon had the blaze under control. The damage to the building is estimated at $4,000 and the furnishings $10,000.

Euchre in Sewickley.

Mrs. Frank E. Rutan and her sister, Mrs. Frank E. Richardson, gave the second of their pretty little card parties at their home, Fleming place, Sewickley, yesterday afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock. Six-hand euchre was the game, and 40 guests were present.

Mr and Mrs. Thaw in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Thaw have been spending the week in New York at the horse show. Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Lehr dined with them. H. K. Thaw has also been spending the week in New York.

SOCIETY

THE second large reception in honor of the bride, Mrs. Marcus W. Acheson, Jr., by her husband's sisters, was held yesterday afternoon. The hostess was Mrs. Charles Hart Spencer, daughter of Judge Marcus W. Acheson, who received from 3 o'clock until 6 at her home in Amberson avenue. Sharing the honors of the occasion with Mrs. Acheson was Mrs. George Reiter, Jr., of Baltimore, who was Miss Helen Ball of that city before her wedding day, only four weeks ago.

Several hundred guests were asked to meet the two young brides, and assisting the hostess in receiving were Mrs. William D. Hawkins, Jr., the mother of Mrs. Acheson, Jr., and the bride's two sisters, Miss Jeannette Hawkins, and the debutante, Miss Beatrice Hawkins; Mrs. Moses W. Atwood, Mrs. Robert R. Reed, Mrs. James Hay Reed, Mrs. George Macbeth; the two sisters of the hostess, Mrs. T. Z. Gordon of Brookville, Pa., and Miss Ethel B. Acheson; Miss Jeanette Lupton and Miss Mary B. Rodgers. The ladies in the receiving group were all handsomely gowned, Mrs. Spencer wearing a beautiful dress of tan voile trimmed with lace and light blue silk. Mrs. Acheson wore black net with manifold tucks and plaits over silk, and Mrs. Reiter was gowned in a delicate gray silk and lace.

The house is a very handsome one and was handsomely decorated with palms and ferns and beautiful chrysanthemums.

In Honor of Mrs. Newberry.

Mrs. Truman Newberry of Detroit was the guest of honor at a beautiful luncheon given yesterday afternoon by Miss Madelaine Laughlin, at her home in Irwin avenue, Allegheny. Covers were laid for 14, including some of the young married women and a few of the girls of the younger set. The decorations were pink roses, with a centerpiece of fruit. The guests were Mrs. Newberry, Mrs. James Wood, Mrs. Thomas McKee Cook, Mrs. W. W. Willock, Mrs. J. D. Lyon, Mrs. J. Walter Rhodes, Mrs. Charles Painter, Mrs. Eugene Messler, Miss Singer, Miss Mays, Mrs. John W. Ricketson, Jr., Mrs. William C. Robinson and Miss Chambers.

In the evening both Mr. and Mrs. Newberry were guests of honor at an informal dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Dennistion Lyon at their home in Ridge avenue. Today Mr. and Mrs. Newberry, who have been the house guests of Mrs. James Wood of Lincoln avenue since they arrived in Pittsburgh for the Walton-Childs wedding, will go to Sewickley to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Wood Scully, who will give a house party over Sunday in their honor.

Benefit for the Deaconesses.

"An Evening With David Harum" was given in Carnegie Music hall for the benefit of the Deaconess' home last night by A. F. Howell of Boston, who is said to have known the original for the pen painting. Mr. Howell gave readings from the popular book, presenting some of the most striking incidents. He was assisted by Miss Henriette Kell, soprano, and Miss Nellie Bender, violinist. The trustees of the home are the Rev. Dr. T. J. Leak, president; Hudson Samson and Lee S. Smith, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. Joseph D. Weeks, recording secretary; Mrs. H. S. Ingersoll, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Samuel Hamilton, treasurer, and the Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle, Rev. W. S. Brown, Mrs. A. A. Knox, Mrs. E. H. Utley, Mrs. J. A. Ballantyne, Capt. W. S. Speakman, Mrs. S. W. Hay, Mrs. C. W. Smith and Mrs. M. J. Shoyer.

Home from Their Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Longenecker returned yesterday morning from their wedding trip. They are staying at present with Mrs. Longenecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Humbird, in Morewood avenue, Shadyside, and expect to go to their own home, just across the avenue, next week. They will be at home after December 1. Mr. and Mrs. Longenecker arrived in New York in time to see the football game last Saturday and take in the horse show this week. They were married October 30th.

Mrs. W. S. Foster's Euchre.

Mrs. William Sill Foster gave a six-hand euchre yesterday afternoon at her home in the East End. There was no honor guest and the entertainment was very informal. A dozen tables were scattered throughout the parlors, library, hall and dining room and several handsome prizes were played for. After the game Mrs. Chase Andrews, formerly of Washington, D. C., but a recent comer to Pittsburgh, gave several readings from original writings.

Cramped for Room.

The home at Hawkins station supported by the ladies of the G. A. R. is crowded. There are 60 inmates now in the institution and constantly applications are being refused for want of room. By spring it is possible that some changes will be made in the interior of the home in order to accommodate more. The building was so recently completed that no plan will be considered to enlarge it.

Euchre in Shadyside.

The Misses Maxwell entertained yesterday afternoon at six-hand euchre at their home in St. James street, Shadyside. Receiving with the Misses Maxwell was Miss Montgomery of Philadelphia, who is visiting Miss Alice Wood Tindle. Twelve tables were placed in the reception hall, parlors and dining room and the prizes were handsome pieces of bric-a-brac.

Way—Sloan.

Miss Jessie M. Way and John D. Sloan were married at the residence of Frank H. Williams, New Kensington, Pa., at 8 o'clock Thursday evening by the Rev. Thomas Williams, pastor of the Christadelphian church of Chicago, Ill. Both are well known members of the Christadelphian society of New Kensington. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Sloan will be at home in Parnassus. About 75 guests were present at the wedding from Pittsburgh, Springfield and Dayton, O., Verona, Butler, New Kensington and Parnassus.

Party at the Alvin.

Last evening Dr. Robert Watson Dickson of Edgeworth, who will be married to Miss Watts next Monday, entertained the entire bridal party at the Alvin. In the party were Miss Watts, Miss Elizabeth Low of Greenfield, Mass., Miss Jane Morris of Philadelphia, Miss Clyde Nichols of Sewickley, Thomas E. Graff, Matthew Graff and Percy Stowe, of Edgeworth.

Mrs. Bancroft of Chicago Here.

Mrs. F. A. Bancroft of Chicago is visiting Mrs. William H. Donner of Morewood avenue, Shadyside, arriving in the city about a week ago. Mrs. Donner asked a few of her intimate friends, less than a dozen, to meet her guest yesterday afternoon at her home at 4 o'clock tea. Mrs. Bancroft will remain in Pittsburgh until after Thanksgiving Day.

A Family Dinner.

Mrs. John A. Gilleland gave a family dinner last Thursday at her residence in Page street, Allegheny, the honor guest being her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Abbott of Tacoma, Wash. Mrs. Abbott expects to leave for the Pacific coast the first of next week, having concluded a long and pleasant sojourn with relatives and friends in the vicinity.

For Two Honor Guests.

Miss Mary Ethel Fallbush yesterday gave a luncheon at the home of her sister, Mrs. George E. Tener, in Beaver street, Sewickley, the honor guest being Miss Hortense Elane Watts and Mrs. William Wirt Phillips of Allegheny, a bride of last month. The guests numbered 12, and included principally the girls interested in Miss Watts' wedding.

The Orinda Club Dance.

The Orinda club will give its first dances this season on Wednesday evening, the eve of Thanksgiving Day, at the South Highland auditorium. The committee having charge of the dances of the club this year consists of W. Ralph Hughes, Albert A. S. Frampton, T. M. McKenna, Dr. E. A. Waughamon and John P. Garlenz.

The Stanton Club's Reception.

The Stanton club held its second reception and supper last evening in the South Highland auditorium, under the direction of a committee composed of Messrs. X. Witmer, R. Marris, C. L. Stetten, C. G. Moll, J. M. Brady, E. C. Burkhardt, C. O'Brien and C. B. Coll.

Notes of Society.

Miss Anna Macbeth gave a luncheon yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Clothier of Philadelphia.

The Epoch club held an open meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Dunn in Homewood avenue.

This afternoon Mrs. Samuel Wilson of Peebles street, Sewickley, gives a box party at the Grand opera house in honor of next week's bride to be, Miss Myra Murdoch.

A dance will be given on Monday evening, December 29, by the girls and boys of the Allegheny preparatory school, under the auspices of the wives of the trustees.

On Monday afternoon Mrs. David Glenn Stewart will give a luncheon at the Pittsburgh Golf club in honor of Miss Romaine Le-Moyne, who leaves soon for California.

Harry Lee Cornwall, organist of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, Forbes street and Craft avenue, Oakland, will give the eighth of the series of Sunday evening recitals at 7:15 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Mrs. W. F. Abel and Mrs. C. S. Scott will entertain on Monday, December 1, for the members of the Women's Press club at the home of Mrs. Abel in Murtland avenue, Homewood. The hour will be 1:30 o'clock.

Miss Ott of the East End gave a novelty shower yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Sarah H. Albertson, whose wedding to John R. Lyon takes place next Wednesday. In the evening Miss Margaret Fulton of Center avenue gave a dinner for the bridal party.

The seventh annual meeting of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association will be held promptly at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, November 29, at the Kindergarten college. The managers and all interested in the association are invited to be present. At 3 o'clock the Rev. Dr. W. J. Russell, pastor of the East End Christian church, will make a short address, followed by a reception until 5 o'clock, in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the society.

SECRETS REVEALED AT LAST

Hypnotists of India, Africa, Russia, Germany, England, the United States and Other Countries Unite to Divulge Secrets of Hypnotism and Personal Magnetism Never Before Laid Bare.

Authorize the Free Distribution of a Book That Contains the Result of Their Investigations.

Startling Methods of Mind Control, Long Lost Secrets of a Wonderful Science Given by Renowned Scientists for the First Time to the Public.

The Weird Methods of the Masters of the Old World and the Practical Tests of Eminent Hypnotists of the New Are Found Side by Side in This Exhaustive Treatise.

One Edition Will Be Distributed Absolutely Free in the United States—A Noted Educational Institution Appointed to Direct the Free Distribution.

The veil of mystery has been lifted from hypnotism at last. Eminent scientists from every country in the civilized world have recently combined and published a book that explains the marvelous power for infinite good that may be exerted through this wonderful science. Pastmasters in hypnotism from the ends of the earth have contributed their secret processes to this remarkable volume and are lending their aid to its free distribution.

The book explains secret methods in Personal Magnetism and hypnotism never before made public. It tells how to use the power in everyday life, in business, politics, society, love; in the cure of diseases and bad habits, and the relief of suffering; in the training of actors, authors, singers and orators; to inspire love and affection and restore lost confidence. It reveals and explains infallible methods of influencing people in the waking state without their knowledge; of swaying the minds of audiences and becoming a power among men.

It exposes secret methods used in the accumulation of wealth. It tells how the Morgans and the Rockefellers of the world have used these powers for their own ends and have jealously guarded the secret of their success.

It establishes the fact that Personal Magnetism is a potent influence that all possess and explains the law by which it may be developed. It tells in language that a child can understand how to master Personal Magnetism and sway the minds of men.

Read what eminent doctors, lawyers, teachers and diplomats who have the book say:—

Dr. Juan Antiga, Mexico City, Mexico, says: It is a valuable work for those who would become initiated into these mysteries.

Dr. Dezzo Nagy, Budapest, Hungary, says: Through this work I was able to heal, in a short time, about 1,000 individuals of different classes. I have saved time, study and money through it.

Paul P. Shekerjian, Port Restante, Caucasus, Russia, says: It is difficult to find words to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks for the knowledge I obtained from this work. I am astonished at my own success in influencing people in the waking state.

ONE FINISH WAS VERY EXCITING

LONG SHOTS WIN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Good racing weather and a card of large fields drew crowds to Bennings today. Form players had no better luck than on yesterday, only two first choices, Echodale and Flying Jib winning. Long shots won the remaining four events. A sensational finish in the sixth race between Satire and Circus, the former getting the decision by a nose, was a feature. Weather clear. Summary:

First race, 3-year-olds and upward, 6 furlongs—Echodale, 102, Milburn, 7 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; Circuit D., 96, E. Walsh, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Guesswork, 99, Welborn, 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:16 3-5. The Cuckoo, Blissful, Jack McGinn, Military, Bluejita, Shandonfield, Frank Kenny, Brandysmash, Alnack, Neither One, Gwynne, Genesso and Rattus, Mosketo and Dianora II., also ran.

Lulu Marr at the Front.

Second race, 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs—Lulu Marr, 104, Wilkerson, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Mount Hope, 107, O'Connor, 7 to 2 and 8 to 5, second; Mrs. Frank Foster, 99, McFadden, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:03. Meanwenfield, Michaelmas, Agio, Bernard, Latrobe, Turnpike, Guess, Dusky Secret, Adele Harding, Blue Grass Girl, Rutherdale, Wild Wave, Daddy Bender, Sweet Marjorie and Profitable also ran.

Third race, 2-year-olds, 7 furlongs—Flying Jib, 110, Minder, 7 to 5 and 3 to 5, won; Watsing Overton, 110, Landry, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Sun Gold, 107, Martin, 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:28 4-5. Earl of Warwick, Witfull, The Guide, Cranesville and Traveler also ran.

Fourth race, 3-year-olds and upward, 8½ furlongs—Setauket, 95, Desousa, 7 to 1 and 3 to 2, won; Caithness, 103, O'Connor, 7 to 1 and 5 to 2, second; Barbara Fretchie, 97, Martin, even, third. Time, 1:51 3-5. Lord Pepper, Trump and Lady Radnor also ran.

Fifth race, 3-year-olds, 7 furlongs—Paul Clifton, 105, Miles, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, won; Prioress, 107, Doyle, 7 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Attila, 102, Redfern, 7 to 5, third. Time, 1:29. Lady Teasle, Tina D. Jr., Honeybrook, Starter, White Owl, Pigeon Toe, Whisp, Solilton, The Gold Finder, Chiron and Fair Knight also ran.

Sixth race, 3-year-olds and up, 1¼ miles—Satire, 110, Landry, 15 to 1 and 4 to 1, won; Circus, 97, Redfern, 9 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Coquswell, 105, Cochran, 15 to 5, third. Time, 1:57. Young Henry, Carbuncle and G. Whitney also ran.

SUSPENDED THE JOCKEY.

Latonia Judges Are After the Steeplechase Riders.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21.—Another steeplechase rider came to grief at Latonia today. Jockey Moppin, who rode Jelib in the jumping race, put up such a poor exhibition that the judges set him down indefinitely. Hinsdale, the even money favorite in the two-mile race, finished last, after trailing the field all the way. After the race it was discovered that Hinsdale was suffering from a severe case of pneumonia. Weather cloudy; track heavy. Summary:

First race, mile, selling—Jake Land, 92, C. Kelly, 12 to 1, won; Mandamus, 106, Scully, 12 to 1, second; Sly Maid, 97, J. O'Connor, 12 to 1, third. Time, 1:50½. Pilaster, Free Admission, Blue Ridge, John Drake, Pregrave, Hand D., Insolence, Senora Marie and Blocker also ran.

WILL GET A REST.

Wash.-Jeff. Team Will Not Play a Regular Game Today.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—There will be no football game here tomorrow, as Manager Craig has been unable to make arrangements for an attraction on account of illness. It was expected that Bethany would appear here, but they have secured another game, and will not appear at College park. The team is not in the best of condition for a contest, however, as the crippled list is rather large.

Helmberger was not able to get into the playing today, as he has a bad knee, which gave out in the game last Wednesday, and there are indications that he will not be able to get into the Thanksgiving game. Gibson is still laid up, while McDonough, the quarterback, is not playing on account of injuries. The practice today was a good one, nevertheless, and the substitute men on the 'varsity showed up well. The hardest kind of practice will be the program until the final game, as it is desired to have the players in the best possible condition.

There is some talk here of bringing the Ohio Medical university team to Washington for a game after Thanksgiving. It is believed that W. and J. can defeat them, and every inducement was offered the Ohio team to come earlier in the season. They refused to come, but stated they might play in Washington after the close of the regular season. It is not believed, however, that the faculty of Washington and Jefferson will allow the local team to play after the regular season closes.

BATTLE FOR HONORS.

Pittsburgh College and Indiana Normal Teams Meet Today.

INDIANA, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—A great football game is expected here tomorrow afternoon, when the Pittsburgh college and Indiana Normal eleven meet at Normal park. The Normal boys have done little practicing during the week, several of the players being away. All the regulars will be in tomorrow's line-up. The college team is known as a strong one, and will do their utmost to retrieve the honors they lost at Washington last Saturday.

The home team has not lost a game this season, and wants a game with Joe Thompson's Geneva college eleven. Manager Owens has written to the Geneva people, but as yet has not received a reply to his letters.

WESTON'S WATERLOO.

The Cowboy Pool Player Mote Than Matched by Clearwater.

The exhibition pool games wound up last evening by Clearwater walking away from his opponent. The final score stood: Clearwater, 1,000; Weston, 740. This is the worst beating Weston has received since he entered the professional ranks, but in the majority of the games he was clearly outplayed and outgeneraled.

The result of these games will be the issuance of a challenge by Clearwater to the winner of the Ely-Walsh championship contest, which comes off at the Hotel Henry December 4, 5, 6. The afternoon game yesterday resulted: Clearwater, 86; Weston, 87, while the evening score was, Clearwater, 98; Weston, 63.

Neither Team Scored.

A close game was played yesterday afternoon on the grounds at D. C. & A. C. park between the East Liberty academy and the Washington and Jefferson academy, the score being 0 to 0. The Washington and Jefferson academy team has not been scored on this season, and they put up a fine game.

CHRIST'S PERSONALITY.

Third of the Series of Lectures by Dr. Francis L. Patton.

Dr. Francis L. Patton delivered at the Third Presbyterian church last night the third of his series of popular lectures, this one being entitled "The Person of Christ." The church was crowded.

Dr. Patton said that the very heart of the gospel centered around the person of Christ. There were four distinct ideas in the theological conception of Christ's person, the complete divinity, the complete humanity, the distinction of the two natures and the hypostatic union of the two natures.

The doctrine of the person of Christ had made the Christian religion. Christianity had lived because its founder was a great divine personality. Christian peoples had the best art, the greatest men in business, the greatest morality. One could put the entire ethical literature of heathenism together and it would not compare with the sermon on the mount and the first epistle of Paul to the Corinthians. If the dogma of the person of Christ were dropped Christian morality would lose force.

In referring to the higher criticism he said that while it had cracked "the back of the gospels to the edge of the apostolic age," it had certified to the authenticity of Paul's epistles.

Prominent Men Arrested.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—'Squire J. W. Fouch of Solix and 'Squire M. W. Jackson of Dunlo, this county, each gave bail for court today to answer a charge of issuing fraudulent tax receipts the day before the election. Both are prominent Republicans. The prosecutor is E. B. Kalbns, a lumber manufacturer of Dunlo. The arrests have caused a sensation in the county.

VISITORS SEE SMOKE CLOUDS

MOSELY'S PARTY IS HERE

They Find Fault With Pittsburgh's Lack of Cleanliness. Steel Car Works Visited. Homestead's Turn Today.

Alfred Mosely, commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, accompanied by the 23 English delegates who are studying the industrial conditions in the United States, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning. Mr. Mosely and other members of the party are stopping at the Hotel Lincoln, while the delegates are at the Hotel Griswold.

Some of the delegates went to the Pressed Steel Car works in Woods run and the Edgar Thomson furnaces in Braddock, while others went to Mt. Washington to get a view of the city. The latter were disappointed, as heavy clouds of smoke shut out the view.

Last evening was spent at a smoker and luncheon in the dining room of the Hotel Griswold, given by J. W. Orth, representing James A. Chambers. Short addresses were made by John Williams, secretary-treasurer, and M. J. Tighe, assistant secretary of the Amalgamated association; John Jarrett, head of the labor bureau of the American Sheet Steel Company; Alfred Mosely and a number of delegates.

To the charge that workmen were opposed to labor-saving machinery, one of the delegates, representing the steel industries of England, said that the charge was unfair. "The British workmen favored the introduction of all kinds of modern machinery," he said, "but their employers are antiquated and will not give up their old machinery, which is fitted only for the scrap pile."

Before the smoker, delegates who were chatting in the corridor were asked what they thought of Pittsburgh as far as they had seen it. One of them complained that the streets were narrow and dirty, and that there was not a manufacturing city in all England as filthy as Pittsburgh. Another gave this description of the city: "Take three doses from the worst part of the River Tyne; mix it with the Brightside division of Sheffield; dose it with the Unslit division of Leeds, working in Oldham, and you have Pittsburgh."

Mr. Mosely visited Pittsburgh in the early nineties. He said: "The city has made great strides since my last visit, and there have been many improvements in mill and other machinery since that time. Pittsburgh is a bustling city."

The party will devote today to the Carnegie steel works at Homestead, and will leave for Washington at 9 o'clock tonight. The delegates will sail from New York for England about the middle of December.

Premier Dunsmuir Resigns.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 21.—Premier James Dunsmuir has resigned and Colo G. Prior, minister of mines, has been called upon to form a ministry.

SCALDED BY POT OF NEIGHBOR'S BEANS.

Mary Lauringer of Munhall was seriously scalded yesterday by a pot of beans which, she says, were thrown on her by Mrs. John Billint, one of her neighbors, with whom she had a dispute. According to the information made before Justice Giles of Homestead, the women quarreled over who should draw water from a well first, and Mrs. Billint threw the hot beans on Mrs. Lauringer, scalding her face and arms. A hearing will be held in the case today.

The Rev. C. F. Huss Very Ill.

Word was received in McKeesport yesterday of the serious illness of the Rev. Charles F. Huss, formerly pastor of the East McKeesport Presbyterian church. He is lying at the point of death at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. P. Huss, at Waynesburg. Rev. Huss suffers from nervous prostration and brain fever. Church troubles are said to be largely to blame for the present illness, although Rev. Huss has been in poor health for some time.

HAPPENINGS OF THE DAY.

—Alderman Anderson committed to jail Frank Hoffman, a bartender for Charles F. Black, a Liberty avenue saloonkeeper, on Black's charge that Hoffman worked the cash register.

—Joseph Smith, colored, caused the arrest of C. C. Colwell, an employment agent of No. 545 Liberty avenue, on the charge that Colwell received Smith's $3 and failed to get a job for Smith.

—The bureau of health yesterday reported six new cases of typhoid fever, four of diphtheria and three of scarlet fever.

—The regular Saturday afternoon organ recital will be given in Alleghenv Carnegie Music hall this afternoon by H. P. Eckert. The program is an excellent one. Mr. Ecker will be assisted by William Eberle, violinist; Karl Rush, accompanist, and Miss Gertrude Kingebacher, elocutionist.

—The annual institute of the junior and primary Bible school teachers will be held today in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, Wood street, morning and afternoon.

—A man giving the name of R. J. Ferguson and his residence Glassport, was held for court in $1,000 bail yesterday by Magistrate McKenna, on a charge of highway robbery. Ferguson is accused of robbing J. W. Wieler in Grant street several weeks ago.

—George Murphy of Osborne, who was struck on the head by a mallet that fell from the Farmers bank building several weeks ago, was able to leave the hospital yesterday. He is a son of Sidney Murphy, cashier of the Peoples Savings bank of Pittsburgh.

—Andrew Muck and Fred Lange, boys of 16, were arraigned before Magistrate McGarey at No. 8 police station yesterday, charged by Hamilton Lindsay, superintendent of the Pittsburgh & Carnegie railroad, with putting cinders in the sand boxes of the company's engines. Both were released with reprimands.

—Four cases of smallpox were reported yesterday and sent to the municipal hospital. The patients are William Kernon, 3 years old, of No. 233 Fifty-seventh street; George Kelly, 21 years old, of No. 1708 Locust street; John Johnson, 29 years old, rear of No. 1745 Fifth avenue; Clarence Stinson, 19 years old, of Vera and Morgan streets.

SYRUP OF FIGS

Acts Pleasantly;
Acts Beneficially;
Acts truly as a Laxative.

Syrup of Figs appeals to the cultured and the well-informed and to the healthy, because its component parts are simple and wholesome and because it acts without disturbing the natural functions, as it is wholly free from every objectionable quality or substance. In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal virtues of Syrup of Figs are obtained from an excellent combination of plants known to be medicinally laxative and to act most beneficially.

WAS KILLED BIDDING FRIENDS GOOD-BYE

Stanislas Schliski Was About to Sail for Native Land. Many Morgue Cases.

Stanislas Schliski, a Pole aged 30 years, met a peculiarly sad fate last night in the Twenty-ninth street mills of the Carnegie Company. He was going to leave for his native land today and last night went to the mill to say good-bye to his friends, with whom he had been working. Frank Muroski, a companion of Schliski, who is employed on one of the coal dumps, was in the act of dumping a loaded car when Schliski approached. The unfortunate man did not see his danger and walked under the car, which fell and crushed him. He was dead when picked up. His body was taken to the morgue.

E. R. Lunk, a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, died last night in the West Penn hospital of injuries received in the Thirty-third street yards on Wednesday.

John Sadusky, aged 48, died last night in the Allegheny county jail, where he was awaiting trial for felonious assault and battery. His death was due to heart disease.

Thomas Rodgers, 19 years of age, dropped dead near his home on South Eighteenth street yesterday afternoon of heart disease.

Frank Rodgers, aged 40 years, a steamboat cook, fell from the steamer Elizabeth into the river at the foot of Wood street yesterday afternoon and was drowned.

Mrs. Mason of No. 120 South Twenty-first street dropped dead of heart disease yesterday at her home. She was 60 years of age.

An unknown man dropped dead yesterday at his boarding house in Clairton. It is thought heart disease caused his death. His body was taken to the morgue.

A man whose identity has not been established was instantly killed last night at Verner station on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad. He tried to cross in front of a fast train. His body is at the morgue.

TWO INJURED IN WRECK.

Freight Trains Are Demolished and Engineer and Conductor Hurt at Stoneboro.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Two men were injured, two engines demolished and 15 freight cars reduced to kindling wood in a wreck on the Western New York & Pennsylvania railroad near Stoneboro today. A Pennsylvania and a Lake Shore train crashed together on a steep grade on the Lake Shore right-of-way. The injured are:

WILLIAM H. GRIMES, New Castle, conductor, injured on one leg and the body.

The injured men were in charge of the northbound Pennsylvania train. The wreck was caused by the Pennsylvania train, which could not be controlled on the grade.

DANGER OF LYNCHING.

Pittsburgh Couple Found Guilty of Murder, Respectively, of Husband and Wife.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—A verdict of murder in the first degree was returned today against Mary Martin Fleming, the beautiful wife of Martin Fleming, and Jesse Cotrel Jenkins, the two Pittsburghers who came to East Tennessee last year and who were arrested some months ago on the charge of having murdered their husband and wife, respectively, with poison.

In the testimony the most sensational details were divulged. Sentence will not be pronounced until Monday.

Pleas for Hampton Institute.

The cause of Hampton institute, a school for young negroes and Indians at Hampton, Va., will be presented next Tuesday evening, in the First United Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue and Bouquet street, by the Rev. H. B. Turner, chaplain of the institute. The Hampton quartet will sing plantation melodies. On the following evening Mr. Turner will speak in the Shadyside Presbyterian church.

While the Police Sleep.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—News of a robbery of $14,000 worth of drygoods from the basement of the building in Grand street occupied by Steinhardt & Strasbourger, which occurred Wednesday night, was made public today. The store is about half a block from a police station. The thieves must have been at work at least four hours and must have used a truck.

DOUBLE AND TRIPLE TRACK FOR PENNSY LINES IN THE VALLEYS

The Pennsylvania will double-track practically the whole of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division within a year. This improvement has been definitely decided, and the work of connecting up the long sidings to form a through double track will be prosecuted with vigor. Two and three through tracks are also to be built on the various Pennsylvania lines in and around Youngstown and New Castle.

These improvements are demanded by the notable growth of traffic. Where one track was needed 10 years ago for a short siding, two or three through tracks are now demanded.

WILLIAM E. SHAFFER,
Baggagemaster on the Pittsburgh division, who is making a strong fight for the position of member of the advisory committee of the Pennsylvania Railroad Employes Voluntary Relief association. He has introduced in his campaign the use of blotters bearing his photograph and the announcement of his candidacy.

On no part of the lines has there been more noteworthy advancement in this regard than along the Cleveland and Pittsburgh division. One of the officials of the system said yesterday: "An old resident of Eastern Ohio returning there today would hardly recognize the region as the same he left 10 years ago. New industries have sprung up and those already established have become many times as important as before. The towns have grown."

FREIGHT MEN ARRIVE.

Visiting Officials of the Vanderbilt Lines Ready for Today's Inspection.

The freight officials of the Vanderbilt lines, who are to see today the industrial wonders on the line of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, began to arrive yesterday morning. In the first party were J. L. Clark, general western freight agent of the Lake Shore at Chicago; George H. Ross, traffic manager of the Indiana, Illinois & Iowa, and Duke Nicholson, agent of the "Red Line" at Chicago. The full party will number 12 or 15.

The party will leave the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station early this morning. The host in Pittsburgh will be Frank A. Dean, general freight agent of the Lake Erie, and they will spend the day traveling over the Youghiogheny and Monongahela divisions.

The Vanderbilt freight officials, having charge of not less than 12,000 miles of railroad, have had much dealing with their Pittsburgh line, but none of them has had the opportunity to see the line.

The desire has often been expressed to inspect the road that produces more tonnage yearly than many of the others ten times as long, and is known as one of the most modernly built and operated lines in the country.

New Road in Youngstown.

The relations of the "Lake Erie, Youngstown & Southern" with larger railroads is a subject of considerable speculation. A charter for this road has been obtained by Harry G. Hamilton, a well-known railroad promoter of Youngstown. It is to be a steam line, with its northern terminal in that city. The route surveyed shows a line from Youngstown to Poland and thence to the Coal fields at North Lima. A branch is to follow the Mahoning valley. In what manner the Wabash will reach Youngstown still remains unknown. Its route to New Castle has become public. It is believed in some quarters that the Wabash is interested in this Youngstown project.

Officers of Zanesville Terminal.

Big Pier for the B. & O.

The Baltimore & Ohio, in its general plan for developing its export business, a large part of which comes from this city, has just let the contract for the construction of one of the largest piers on the Atlantic seaboard. The pier will be at Curtis Bay, Baltimore. It will cost $450,000 and will be built by A. R. Morrison of Wilmington, Del. It is to be completed in 10 months. The pier is built for the North German Lloyd Steamship Company. It will be a double-decker, 800 feet long, with commodious storage and baggage rooms and large immigrant quarters.

RAILROAD NOTES.

The New Grant street end of the Panhandle yard wall at the Union station, which was wrecked by a steel car last week, is being rebuilt.

R. S. Willock, who has been traveling freight agent of the Louisville & Nashville at Pittsburgh, has been appointed general agent at Nashville, vice Charles H. Sanders, resigned.

E. F. Cost, who recently resigned the freight traffic managership of the Big Four, has been appointed traffic manager of the Seaboard Air Line to succeed W. H. Plessants, the newly elected president of the Ocean Steamship Company.

Over 400 miles of the Mexican National is now standard gauge. The main line from Laredo to Monterey is already in line as a standard gauge line, and some of the new locomotives made in Pittsburgh are in use there.

John D. Almond, master mechanic of the Cleveland, Akron & Columbus shops at Mt. Vernon, O., has resigned to go with the Baltimore & Ohio at New York. His successor is L. S. Kennard, late assistant master mechanic at the Allegheny shops of the Ft. Wayne.

The passenger train time changes of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburgh, which were to have gone into effect November 28, have been indefinitely postponed. This action is due to the freight congestion. The same order was issued some time ago on the Pennsylvania lines east.

It is reported that George F. Baer, president of the Reading and the New Jersey Central railroads, will be elected president also of the Lehigh Valley. Francis I. Cowen, president for several years of the Oklahoma, Choctaw & Gulf, who built up that railroad until a fine price for it was secured recently from the Rock Island, is also mentioned for the Lehigh Valley presidency. The position was made vacant a few days ago by the sudden resignation of Alfred Walter.

WABASH TO TUNNEL INTO NEW CASTLE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 21.—A tunnel that will be similar to that of the Wabash under Mt. Washington Pittsburgh, will be constructed by the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western, the New Castle link of the Wabash, in effecting an entrance to this city. Announcement of the tunnel project was made here today by C. H. Aken, a member of the board of directors. The tunnel will extend underneath the rocky cliffs of Taylor township, on the west side of the city and will be driven through a bed of rock for perhaps an eighth of a mile. Emerging from its mouth the road makes a curve and wings over the Shenango river, across a $50,000 viaduct that is planned.

Just before entering the tunnel the road will extend through the property of John L. Crawford of New York, son of Alexander Crawford, a multi-millionaire, who was one of the principal directors in the New Castle & Beaver Valley railroad, now operated by the Pennsylvania lines. The property is valued at over $50,000 and it is reported as having been sold to promoters who seek to thwart the Wabash project. T. J. McVey of Youngstown, O., has optioned or purchased outright nearly every property on the west side of the city through which the new road is mapped out, and it is believed that a railroad battle will soon take place here.

The ordinance to grant the road the necessary crossing rights for an entrance here, will come before councils next Monday evening. The indications are that the passage of the bill is assured. As soon as the necessary franchises are obtained the construction of the road and the purchase of property for the terminal and track facilities will be consummated.

INTEREST IN WADSWORTH

Lawyers and Guardsmen Watching the Case—Speculation as to the Result.

There is considerable speculation in legal and national guard circles as to the decision of the supreme court in the case of Sergeant Arthur J. Wadsworth, who shot and killed William Durham in Shenandoah. Should it be against the soldier many of the officers will resign their commissions.

It is claimed by some of the legal profession in this city that, although the troops were on duty, the courts were still open in the anthracite country, and therefore had full jurisdiction over the action of the troops. They say that Gov. Stone should have placed the counties occupied by the troops under martial law, and should have issued his proclamation to that effect before he issued orders for the movement of the troops.

The hearing will be before the full court in Philadelphia, the first Monday in January. A majority of the officers of the Eighteenth infantry expect to attend the hearing. District Attorney McLaughlin of Schuylkill county expects the supreme court to set Wadsworth free. He so stated while in Pittsburgh to a number of military men and others.

One Union as Good as Another.

Members of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners employed at the Iron City Planing mill, at Thirty-fifth and Smallman streets, have made a joint request to the manager to discharge the Amalgamated carpenter at the mill. There are five Amalgamated men at work, while the members of the Brotherhood number 27. Manager J. A. Evans informed a committee from the Amalgamated society that the men would be retained and that no distinction would be made between the two unions.

MRS. WHITE LOST.

Good-Looking Allegheny Woman Went for a Walk and Did Not Return.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Elizabeth White, wife of Herman White of No. 1716 Manhattan street, Allegheny, are uneasy over the woman's disappearance. She was last seen on Thursday afternoon about 4 o'clock, when she left home to take a walk down Manhattan toward Juniata. Mrs. White is 40 years of age and remarkably good looking.

For several weeks Mrs. White was suffering from slight mental depression, but her condition was never regarded as serious. Her physician advised on Thursday afternoon that she go out for a walk, saying the air and exercise would be beneficial. She refused to be accompanied, although one of her daughters offered to go with her. When she did not return in time for dinner the family became anxious, and when she continued to stay away, search was started. All the friends that Mrs. White had been accustomed to visit were called upon, but no trace of her was found. Yesterday the family notified the Allegheny police department and asked aid in finding the woman.

AFTER MARRIAGE.

Different Living Affects Some People.

"I never drank coffee until after I was married," says a lady from Adairville, Ga.

"My husband drank coffee and I thought it was nice to drink with him, and we enjoyed it together. After a while I found that my digestive organs were much disturbed, but not knowing the cause, I went on drinking coffee and growing more wretched each day.

"In due time, three little girls came to what ought to have been a happy home, but I was nervous and unhappy myself and could not make anyone else happy; to my great consternation, two of my little girls had spasms, and I, a nervous wreck, found it impossible to eat anything that did not hurt my stomach.

"I finally concluded I had heart disease, my heart pained me so much after eating, and my head was so dizzy, I often thought I would fall when trying to walk across the room.

"I tried every medicine I heard of, and had different doctors treat me, but with no benefit. I could not sleep half the night, and never slept sound—I would wake out of a frightful dream only to doze and wake again.

"Finally I read of Postum Food Coffee and my husband got a package from our grocer. I made some according to directions. I liked its flavor very much and the first cup seemed to help my stomach. I used it every meal, sometimes making a whole meal on Postum and a bit of bread.

"I improved so fast that I could soon eat anything I wanted. I began to look so much better my friends were surprised and said I looked as well as when I was first married. I could sleep as sweetly as a child. Of course the children quit coffee and drank Postum, and they all began to fatten and the spasms stopped.

"I wish I could impress it on every weak, nervous person to abandon coffee and use Postum Cereal. If every nervous person could have seen me in my nervous affliction from drinking coffee, and could now see me and my little ones around the table enjoying our Postum, they surely would never indulge in coffee again, for there is no more nervous prostration; no more headaches; no more spasms, and I am able to do my own work and care for my children." BLAIRSVILLE DANCE ENDS IN SHOOTING

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BLAIRSVILLE, PA., Nov. 21.—Blairsville came near having a riot last night. A dancing class from Latrobe, in charge of John Payne, came to attend a dance given by a club here in a public hall. The police officers, receiving word that many of the young men were drinking in the hall and stairways, went to the building and attempted to clear it. Burgess Brown, it is stated, put out the lights and ordered the hall cleared.

In the confusion that followed the officers attempted to arrest a man, and one officer, to intimidate the crowd, shot into the air. Later Walter Baer of Latrobe was shot through the leg. Burgess Brown was knocked down with a piece of a brick and badly injured about the eye, and the crowd chased Policeman Ginter. Thomas Brown and the burgess down street.

Baer was taken home to Latrobe in a carriage. The girls in the crowd were greatly frightened, and made a big effort to get out of the hall in a hurry. The Latrobe people claim they were orderly, and that the officers had no right to attempt to close the hall.

GRANITE FOR CAPITOL.

Commission Decides to Use South Carolina Material.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The exterior walls and decorations of the new capitol will be of South Carolina granite from the Winsboro Company quarries, this being agreed upon this afternoon at a meeting of the new capitol commission. The board took into consideration the fact that these quarries can be worked both summer and winter, owing to the warm climate.

A large number of government buildings throughout the country have been built of this granite. The commission discovered that the Hussey building and Fidelity Title and Trust Company building in Pittsburgh were built of Winsboro granite and the latter have stood the climatic test for 13 years.

Odd Chairs For "Dens"

By going into the "dens" and libraries of the artistically inclined one can get an idea of the favor with which the "Mission" furniture is received.

The very oddity of this style causes it to appeal to persons who strive for the unconventional.

But the "Mission" furniture has a mission—which is heartily in accord with the tenets of the refined—and if you are looking for chairs that will give an air of individuality to one or more of your rooms you will find a visit to this department highly interesting.

The "Mission" chair pictured above is finished in weathered oak, has a rush seat—strongly made—and with that attractive dull finish so much in favor at present.

The prices of these chairs are not high—on the contrary, they are particularly modest. But, then, one should remember that price is always an inducement at

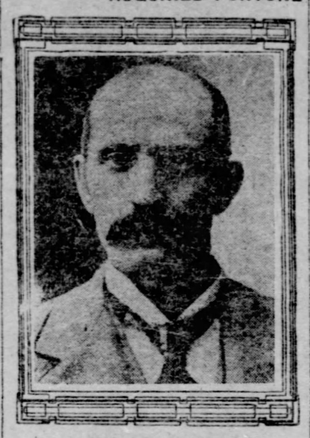
FORMER QUARRYMAN ACQUIRED FORTUNE



JOHN B. BROWN.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 21.—John B. Brown, who has just resigned the postmastership and is to be succeeded by ex-Councilman John A. McKee, occupies a prominent position both politically and in a business way in this county. He is chairman of the Lawrence county Republican committee, a director of the Lawrence Trust Company, of the American Car & Ship Hardware Company, and of the Belmont Land Company, and president of the South New Castle Land Company. He is essentially a self-made man and just 19 years ago worked in a quarry at $1.25 a day, while now he ranks as one of the strong financial men of this city. Much of his fortune has been accumulated through real estate ventures. He served here as councilman, alderman, mayor and was then sent to the state assembly. During his career he has signed more bail bonds for people in distress than any other ten men in the county, but has seldom lost through this.

KAUFMANN'S
"THE BIG STORE"

A straight-forward clothing talk to Pittsburgh men

THIS is not a perfunctory clothing talk, but an ad full of emphasis—this is not called a bargain sale entirely for its warp of remarkable offers and woof of very low prices, but for the single thread of honesty which is interwoven into its statements—adhering strictly to the truth—in a word, not firing "blank cartridges," has gained and holds for us our immense trade. An ad is much less effective as a selling agent than a confidential talk with our salesmen, but through our ads we try to make you feel you are already on our clothing floor, in front of our counters, and that there is something behind them worthy your attention, which you ought to buy. We hail you genially in our ads and draw you near to these incomparable benefits. These offers have money-saving pertinence—they must impress you clearly with facts and inducements. We are the first to let you know what is "instant" in season, and do not allow you to get only the likely straws that are left by the blades of the bargain harvesters.

GERMANY MUST BORROW MONEY TO PAY EXPENSES

AMERICANS SEE POPE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—In the reichstag today the secretary of the treasury, Baron von Thielmann, announced that the deficit in the imperial budget for 1903 was estimated to be $37,500,000. The budget, he added, would be submitted in two or three weeks. The deficit for 1902 was $14,750,000. It would not do, the secretary said, to be always providing for deficits by loans, nor could the contribution of the federated states be increased. Nevertheless it was probable the states would ultimately have to bear the deficit. What ought to be done was to increase the imperial revenues so as to balance the expenditures.

Looking around for suitable objects for increased taxation he saw beer and tobacco and he begged the members of the house to keep these in view while thinking how to balance the budget.

Baron von Thielman also intimated that the government intended as soon as practicable to propose pensions for widows and orphans. He was quite unable to say how much such pensions would be, an extension of the state insurance laws and treasury burdens, but the suggestion was made that $25 per person yearly was insufficient. Assuming that $50 was enough for the pensions of widows and orphans it would take $40,000,000. The secretary's hint that the government was meditating pensions for widows and orphans caused a stir among the members, because it is one of the things the socialists advocate.

The deficit is the result of the financial depression which still affects almost every form of business, limiting the purchasing power of every class. While there have been no large failures recently various symptoms of continued hard times appear. At the Krupp works 50,000 laborers have had their time reduced two hours daily and some departments are shutting down each week. The iron syndicates are reorganizing and prices recently were again cut. The number of unemployed persons, according to the municipal census, is barely fewer than a year ago.

POPE IN HAPPY MOOD.

ROME, Nov. 21.—At a reception of 500 Piedmontese pilgrims today the pope jocularly referred to the unfounded rumors yesterday of his indisposition, adding:

"My time has not yet come. We have many things to accomplish before death."

A number of Americans were received in special audiences by the pope in the Sistine chapel, including Mr. and Mrs. Harry Black of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Gans, Mr. and Mrs. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Straussser of Pennsylvania, J. W. Shaw and Miss H. Buckley of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Conway and sons of Dayton, O., Miss Ensey and Miss Campbell of Denver, Col., Mrs. James Mattfield and daughter of Los Angeles, Cal., and Miss Young of Evanston, Ill. The pontiff spoke cordially to each and gave them individually his hand to kiss.

MILES COUNSELS FILIPINOS.

Tells Natives to Be Patient and Trust Americans.

MANILA, Nov. 21.—At a public reception to Gen. Miles, in the island of Cebu, a Filipino speaker urged a more expeditious fulfillment of the promises made by the Americans, including autonomy.

In reply, Gen. Miles advised the people to be peaceful and patient, and to trust the Americans to satisfactorily settle all the questions now pending. He said he hoped to see the ambition of the inhabitants for autonomy finally fulfilled.

WILL HOLD UP THE OTHER PAYMENTS

History regarding the new Highland reservoir No. 2 will be made today in city hall. Director J. Guy McCandless yesterday announced his intention of reapproving the April estimate for work on the reservoir, amounting to $11,140, in favor of the Mercantile Trust Company, and will send the same this morning to Controller Larkin.

Mr. Larkin will obey the order of the supreme court and will pay the estimate for April, but he will at the same time notify the Mercantile Trust Company that the estimates for the succeeding months of the present year, amounting to about $260,000, will not be paid until the reservoir is put in a safe and perfectly sound condition.

He will make a statement concerning the present condition of the reservoir which is likely to be of a sensational character.

The controller says that the leaks discovered in the reservoir did not figure in the case decided by the supreme court, and he asserts he has the authority to hold up any further payments on the assumption that the present condition of the reservoir is due to changes in the plans and specifications.

For two days representatives of the trust company have been holding conferences with the city controller. Yesterday they presented the order of the supreme court, directing the controller to issue a warrant for the April estimate, and notified the controller that a final demand for payment would be made today.

The act of approving the estimates for the construction of the reservoir and certifying that the work is in a satisfactory condition puts the whole responsibility upon Director McCandless. The controller has no alternative but to obey the order of the supreme court.

As select council has not yet passed the resolution, which originated in the common branch, directing the controller to collect $146,000 penalties for the noncompletion of the reservoir, this phase of the matter will not be dealt with by the controller at present.

SOUTH AFRICANS HAVE LOST HEART AND HOPE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The steamer St. Louis, which sails from Southampton tomorrow for New York, will take among her passengers Gen. Viljoen, the former Boer commander. Gen. Viljoen, who is going on a three months' lecture tour to the United States, said to the correspondent of the Associated Press:

"The South Africans have lost heart and hope, and peace depends entirely upon the British. My commando, now idle and in which were once included many good Americans, offered itself to Lord Roberts for service against the Mad Mullah in Somililand, and I would have commanded it, but Roberts declined the offer with thanks. I am doubtful as to the outcome of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's visit to South Africa."

With regard to a letter written by Sir Evelyn Wood, the former adjutant general of the British army on Mr. Kruger's book of memoirs, in which the British general alleged that the Boer president slept in his clothes and did not wash himself, which rendered proximity to him unpleasant, Gen. Viljoen characterized the statements as ungentlemanly, uncalled for, and untrue.

MRS. GORE WAS WEALTHY

PARIS, Nov. 21.—Consul General Gowdy's investigation into the shooting of Mrs. Ellen Gore, Wednesday, develops the fact that Mrs. Gore was a pupil of the famous composer Moszkowski. Her maiden name was Sinclair. She was originally from California, where she married Tom Gore of British Columbia. The couple removed to Mexico City and became wealthy. They built an extensive apartment house in Mexico City, which they called "Gore court." She obtained a divorce from her husband, who was an architect. Mrs. Gore's only relative is said to be an aunt living near Oakland, Cal.

The police are continuing the investigation. Jean de Rydzewski, the Russian singer in whose apartments Mrs. Gore was killed, is supposed to be related to Maj.-Gen. Rydzewski, attached to the staff of the Russian czar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(Special.)—News of the tragic death of Mrs. Ellen Gore, in Paris, was a shock to her many friends in this city. Mr. Gore is now a member of the American Opera Company and is said to be in Cincinnati, O. Mrs. Gore is believed to have been born in Ohio, but on being orphaned at an early age was brought up by her aunt, Mrs. P. T. Dickinson of Alameda, Cal. It is said the Gores did not live happily together. They had one child which died.

"Full messages in the Morse code were transmitted from the Cornwall station to the Italian cruiser, Carlo Alberto, anchored in the harbor here. They thus work an important and distinct advance over the signalled letter "S" which I received last year at St. Johns, N. F. Several of these complete messages were received, and I will announce the text of them within a few days."

MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

Baptist Women's Societies of Allegheny Elected Officers.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Mission convention of the Allegheny Baptist association convened yesterday in the Metropolitan Colored Baptist church, Allegheny. The opening session in the morning was presided over by Mrs. P. L. Anderson, the president. The Rev. W. F. Kenny, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, Pittsburgh, delivered the sermon of the morning session and led the devotional exercises.

In the afternoon, the annual election of officers was held, resulting as follows: President, Mrs. P. L. Anderson; vice president, Miss Anna Monroe; secretary, Miss Lillian Wagner; assistant secretary, Mrs. Hattie Tompkins; corresponding secretary, Mrs. A. G. Ricks; treasurer, Mrs. Mollie Johnson; traveling directoress, Mrs. Belle Fitzgerald.

LATE QUEEN'S WISHES DISREGARDED BY KING

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Osborne estate bill, providing for the transfer to the nation of the Osborne house estate, Isle of Wight, from King Edward, whose property it became under the will of Queen Victoria, passed its second reading in the house of commons this afternoon, after some criticism reflecting the feeling on the subject in royal circles, in which there has been much agitation ever since the king first proposed to present the Osborne house estate to the nation.

In announcing the gift of the Osborne house estate to the nation at the time of his coronation, King Edward expressed the hope that it would be devoted to national purposes and be converted into a convalescent home for officers of the navy and army, whose health had been impaired in rendering service to their country.

Queen Victoria's will has never been published, but there is very high authority for saying that the bequest was not her idea. As a matter of fact, she left the property to the king for life, with the reversion to the prince of Wales. Failing the latter, the property was to go to her daughters or to the prince of Wales' heirs. The king, however, insisted on giving it to the nation as a memorial.

During the course of the discussion in parliament today Mr. Ritchie, the chancellor of the exchequer, admitted that the bill was at variation with the will and the wishes of the late queen and said that the bill would not have been necessary.

All the pictures, statuary and other articles of value and of historical interest have been removed to Windsor castle. This includes the contents of the prince consort's room, which Queen Victoria left untouched as it existed during his life.

COLOMBIA WAKES UP.

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA, Nov. 15, VIA BUENA VENTURA, PANAMA, Nov. 21. —(Copyright Cable.)—President Marroquin, in a personal interview, has made this official statement regarding the canal question for publication in the New York Herald and Pittsburgh Gazette:

"I am favorably disposed toward having signed a canal treaty with the United States, and I have already ordered that general elections be held on January 1 and that the results be ascertained in a shorter time than usual. Even if the war in the republic is not ended by that time, I shall convoke congress in March, so that the first business to be considered will be a canal treaty with the United States."

UNCLE SAM'S DOMAIN NOT FOR DOUKHOBORS

They Are Notified Public Land Is for Citizens or Intended Citizens.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The Christian Community of the Universal Brotherhood (Doukhobors), at Crowsland, Assiniboia, have bought a home in this country, but have been officially notified that the community cannot settle on government domain. The community, represented by Ivan Ponomareff and others, forwarded a letter to the president, asking for a refuge in the United States.

The letter was referred to the interior department. Assistant Commissioner Richards of the general land office has forwarded a reply announcing that they cannot locate on the public lands of the United States. Mr. Richards says:

"You state that your community numbers more than 7,000, and that in 1898 and 1899 you emigrated from Russia to Canada because the Russian government would not permit you to live according to the dictates of your religion.

"In reply, I have to advise you that the public lands of the United States are disposed of only to citizens of the United States, or to those who have declared their intention to become such citizens."

To Build Railroad Station.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Officials of the Pennsylvania Company here have received word that $40,000 has been appropriated for the erection of a new station at this place. The building will be erected probably on a site near the present station.

ADVICE OF QUAY WILL BE SOUGHT

The Senator Will Be Back Next Week and Pennypacker Will See Him.

WILL TALK ON CABINET

Penrose and Durham to Be Included in Consultation—Stone's Capitol Commission May Be Upset by Amending the Law.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Public Ledger Building, PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.

Gov.-elect Pennypacker will have an important conference with Senator Quay immediately after the return of the senator from Florida. The senator will leave San Lucie Monday, according to last advices, and should be either in Washington or Philadelphia by Wednesday.

The cabinet of the governor-elect and the many appointive offices in his gift no doubt will be canvassed at this meeting.

Judge Pennypacker, thus far, has given for publication no intimations bearing upon the personnel of his cabinet. He will first advise with Senators Quay and Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham. It is within the province of personable conjecture to fill two chairs, those occupied by Insurance Commissioner Durham and Secretary of the Commonwealth W. W. Griest, but nothing authoritative has been given out as to who will be appointed attorney general or commissioner of banking.

It is rumored that the next general assembly may repeal the first section of the new capitol act. This section created a capitol commission of five persons, Gov. William A. Stone being named as one, the governor being empowered to appoint the other four members, the commission, so constituted, to serve until January 1, 1906.

Marked opposition to the commission, as now constituted, has developed, it being urged that the governor should not be allowed to exercise such important discretionary powers, at least not for three years after the expiration of the term for which he was elected. With the Republican majority of the coming legislature, it would be a very easy matter to abolish the present commission and create another, either permitting the assembly to name the commission or imposing such duty upon Gov. Pennypacker.

The success of the move for a new commission will depend very materially upon the view taken of the matter by Senator Quay. If the senator favors a change, there will be one; but no one here is qualified to speak for him.

Ex-State Senator Bayard Henry is being discussed as a fusion candidate for mayor of Philadelphia. In the sessions of 1898 and 1901, Mr. Henry was an insurger, one of the right-hand men of Senator Flinn. If fusion is effected, it will only be between the insurgents and the Municipal league, the Democrats having announced that they will have no more of it.

FIRE BEYOND CONTROL

Mine Owned by Colorado Fuel and Iron Company Is Burning and Two Men Are Killed.

TRINIDAD, COL., Nov. 21.—The Engleville coal mine, six miles south of Trinidad, owned by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, is on fire and the fire is beyond control. Two miners have lost their lives.

The fire started yesterday near an abandoned air shaft 600 feet from the mouth of the slope. It was not considered serious, and 150 men were sent into the mine today. Smoke and gas soon reached the men, and they fled for the open air. Many were overcome, but all except two were rescued by their comrades.

The mine is being flooded, but so far the fire has steadily gained.

FATAL DUEL WITH PISTOLS.

West Virginia Neighbors Fight to a Finish.

FOURTEEN, W. VA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Almost a dozen years ago Wesley Brumfield and Zack Tiller, natives of this section, engaged in a shooting affray with the result that Tiller was killed and Brumfield was crippled for life. Today Wayne Brumfield and Howard Tiller, sons of these same men, who have ever since the old tragedy been enemies, engaged in a pistol duel. This time a Brumfield was killed.

The tragedy of today occurred in sight of where their fathers' engaged in their deadly duel. Tiller was uninjured notwithstanding his adversary fired three times at him at close range. Tiller has surrendered. He says he has avenged his father's death.

PRESIDENT TO GRACE TWO AFFAIRS TODAY

Will Make Speeches at High School Dedication and at Union League Banquet.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—President Roosevelt will be the guest of honor at two celebrations in this city tomorrow. Accompanied by several members of his cabinet he will attend the dedicatory exercises of the Central High school for boys during the day, and in the evening will participate in the observance of Founder's Day at the Union league. The president is expected to arrive here at 11:45 o'clock in the morning. He will be the chief speaker at each event.

During the interval between the ceremonies at the high school and the Founder's Day banquet the president will be the guest at a luncheon given by Charles Emory Smith, former postmaster general, and will be tendered a reception at the home of E. E. Stotesbury, a director of the Union league.

The presidential party will include Secretary Shaw, Postmaster General Payne, Secretary Hitchcock and Secretary Wilson.

During the afternoon and evening the First troop, Philadelphia city cavalry, will act as escort to the president.

SMALLPOX PREVALENT.

Fumigation the Only Sure Way of Stopping the Ravages of This Dread Disease.

Marion Harland, in the North American, tells an interesting story regarding the best way to avoid smallpox, diphtheria and scarlet fever. This noted writer concurs with all the prominent physicians of the country as to the wonderful properties possessed by the Simplex Formalin Lamp, and advises all his readers to provide themselves with this absolutely sure remedy against these dread diseases. Marion Harland's letter was, of course, widely read and many were the inquiries made about this wonderful lamp. After visiting a number of drug stores the old-established drug house of Jos. Fleming & Son, Nos. 410 and 412 Market street, informed us that they were sole agents for the Simplex. "I never saw such a demand for an article in all my experience," said Mr. Fleming. "Why, the orders from city and country are coming so fast it is difficult to fill them, but we'll fill them if we have to stay up nights." Asked about the price he paid: "The lamp only costs $1.50 and as a germ destroyer it's worth $150.00; it costs 15c. extra to mail." In a second interview Mr. Fleming stated that it was certainly the greatest invention of the age for the prevention of disease, and no well-regulated home should be without its Simplex.

Men and Their New Suits.

Saturday is the great day of the week for selling clothing. Men seem to have settled that in their mind. Probably it is on account of their having more leisure on Saturday, as many of the businesses close at 12 o'clock, others at 3 and so on.

Men who are out for a new Suit today, and have some little time to spare, can find something interesting by making a tour of comparison.

You need not be a judge of Clothing. Come to us first, or go to others first and then come to us. In either case, if you have never been in this store, you will be wonderfully surprised, or we are very much mistaken.

Suppose you only want a knock-about Suit, but at the same time desire it to possess quite a lot of dressiness. For $10 we can show you the neatest kind of Suit in black cheviots and also in the dressy gray patterns. Now this same quality of a Suit would cost you most anywhere $2 or $3 more.

Or suppose you want to go a little higher for something better, say $15 and $18. At these prices we have extra fine Suits made of best woolens. They are as dressy and sightly Suits as any man need care to wear.

For the best $20 and up to $30 is the price range. The cloths in these Suits are as good as cloths entering into custom work. There could be no better for the very good reason that no better are made, unless it be a special weave made for some special kind of work.

Of course you can buy Clothes most anywhere, just as you can buy anything else. If you are one of the don't-care kind, of course it is of little moment where you get your Clothes. However, if you possess the usual amount of business keenness that belongs to men, you will look around. If you do that we have little fear that you will be wearing one of our Suits or Overcoats tomorrow.

Thousands and thousands of Christmas Gift Things now in the 70 departments of this store. Saturday is a good day in which to have a look.

THE TRUE HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

These are the real facts of the days of 1776. Mr. Fisher has some things to tell about the conduct of the War of the Revolution, its chief figures, and the reasons for its outcome, which will startle every reader of American history. The great struggle is treated in the same candid fashion as are the characters and lives of the Americans who are included in the widely-known "True Biographies."

STORIES OF AUTHORS' LOVES

Two fascinating volumes of the romances of the most widely-known American, English and European authors. There is nothing in fiction to compare with the fascination of the romances of the real men and women whom we all know by their writings. The volumes have the value of being a chronicle of fact, but hold all the charm of a novel. Their author is the literary editor of the Chicago Interior. The books have photogravure frontispieces and forty-three duogravure portraits and views.

Two volumes, illustrated, Handsomely bound, in box, Net $3.00. Three-quarters morocco. Net $6.00. Postage 20c.

THERE IS A LIVELY FIGHT FOR HOCKEY TALENT

BANKERS TEAM LOSES AN EXPERT

FIGHT FOR PLAYERS

Pittsburgh hockey circles have lost one of the brightest stars the Canadian game ever produced in "Dicky" Boon, the great captain and cover point of the champion Montreal team. Boon, when here in the summer, signed a contract with the Banker team of the Western Pennsylvania league and received a portion of his money in advance.

The Canadian lovers of the game, in whose hearts the star hockey artist holds a far more prominent position than here in the Smoky City, raised such a hue and cry over the loss of their "beau ideal," however, that he reconsidered his action and has promised to remain true to his native ice. Although the Bankers hold a contract with him, it seems certain that Pittsburgh will lose the pleasure of watching the great Boon's game, unless golden inducements can be offered.

It is probable that something stronger than the affection of his Montreal admirers induced Boon to remain, but the Canadians are hockey crazy and willing to pour out a steady stream of coin. Boon has written some of the Canadian players in this city that he will not be down, and he has returned to the Bankers' management the money forwarded him for traveling expenses here.

Of course the Bankers could prevent him playing on any other team by enforcing their contract, but what good would a hockey player dragged here against his will be? Boon is given almost all the credit for winning the Stanley cup, and the championship of all Canada. After winning the honors of lower Canada he took the Montreals north to Winnipeg and wrested the famous Stanley trophy from the champions of Northern Canada. Boon was credited with being about seven-eighths of the Montreal seven, which he brought to championship form by his remarkable coaching and brilliant playing.

On account of the late hour at which it was decided that there would be hockey, the local managers are all having their own troubles organizing teams. It is a case of Canada against Pittsburgh, and the northerners are making every effort to hold their stars. The champion Keystone team will in all probability again have Peel, who was hooked up this week. Taylor, last season with the Bankers, will also be found with Keystone, as will Bish and Hern, the great goal keeper, who was more than half of Keystone's strength.

Sixsmith, the old Keystone captain, has the biggest task of all in organizing an entirely new team. There is more interest centering in the Victorias than in any of the other teams.

It is likely that Charley Miller will have pretty much the same team as formerly under the P. A. C. colors. The Bankers expect to show a decided improvement, and are after other good men beside Boon. Morphy of last year's Keystone team will be found with the Bankers if he plays at all, as will also Howard.

JOHN ASHTON MOORHEAD,

Who is playing substitute end on the Yale eleven, is a son of John Moorhead, Jr., of Allegheny. He prepared for college at the Shadyside academy and at St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H. At the latter school he played end on the team for two years, being captain of it in 1899. He is now a junior in the academic department of Yale. He played end on the 1904 freshman team.

GILES TO MEET VIELE IN FINAL CONTEST

Semi-Final Match in Westmoreland Championship Tournament Won by Viele, 6 Up and 5 to Play.

No team matches are on the golfing schedule for today, but most of the clubs will provide home events for members.

At Edgewood the final 36-hole match for the club championship will be played between J. D. Duff and Joseph Hill.

At Highland the final 18-hole match for the match play cup offered by the club will be decided between C. B. Fownes and W. C. Fownes, Jr. A two-ball sweepstake will be decided for club members.

On the Logans Ferry course of the Westmoreland Country club F. S. Viele and E. E. Giles will meet in the final match of the members' championship tournament. Viele beat D. D. Pendleton 6 up and 5 to play, in the semi-final yesterday. The winner today will meet H. D. Shinte, the holder of the championship cup from last season, some time next week.

On the Schenley course the second 18-hole handicap medal play round for the John Z. Speer cup will be decided. The Country club of Pittsburgh will again offer a double bill with final play for the Hunt club trophy and a handsome match against "bogey" for a new cup.

FINAL HOME GAME FOR THE W. U. P. TEAM

Will Meet Mt. Union Eleven at Colosseum and Fine Contest Is Promised.

Western University of Pennsylvania meets the strong Mt. Union college team of Alliance, O., today at the Colosseum. The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock, so that there will be plenty of time to play a full game before darkness sets in.

This will be the last home game of the season for W. U. P. and the university boys hope to close with a victory, although a hard game is looked for. The local alumni of Mt. Union college will attend the game in a body and the university boys will turn out in full force to give the Wops an enthusiastic send off.

The hearing in the injunction secured by the W. U. P. management against D. J. Berry of the Greensburg team has been continued until next Monday by agreement of both parties and in the meantime Berry is restrained from interfering in any way with the W. U. P. team's use and enjoyment of the Colosseum grounds. The line-up:

W. U. P.		Mt. Union College.

The Riverview reserve basketball team last night defeated the Manhattan A. C. team by a score of 15 to 6. The feature was the clever work of Riverview.

Any 110-pound team without a game for today can arrange one by calling up 291 West between 8 and 9 o'clock this morning and asking for Mueller.

Twin City A. C. will play the Riverside A. C. at McKnights park and a warm contest is expected, as both teams are playing a fast game. Kick-off, 3:30.

Company F will play at Natrona today. All players will report at club house 12 noon sharp. Baumbaugh and McDonald will report at Union station at 1 p. m. sharp.

All Manchester A. A. players will report at Union station to go to Monongahela City today at 12:46 p. m. Caldwell and Chesbro please report; also Hill of Primrose.

The manager of the Bellevue Outing club wishes to advise the manager of McDonald High school that the Outing club team cannot play at their grounds this afternoon.

Emeralds want a game for today and guarantee full expenses and good treatment. Any 125-pound team desiring a game address E. M. Donnelly, 2706 Carson street, South Side.

The North Ends will play the Sycamores for the 90-pound championship of Allegheny this afternoon. All North End players are requested to be at Sycamore grounds at 3 o'clock sharp.

The Aspinwall Jrs. will play Clipper A. C. today and Troy A. C. on Thanksgiving. Would like Mr. Moorehead of Amy A. C. call up 149 Court or address H. E. Brettam, Aspinwall, Pa.

Emsworth second team would like to hear from some 95-pound team in regard to a game for Thanksgiving afternoon. Will pay railway fare for 15 men. Address T. W. Welseman, Emsworth, Pa.

Owing to a cancellation the Sterling A. C. is without a game this afternoon, and would like to hear from some 75-pound team. Will pay full expenses for 12 men. Call up John Getty, 1433 Grant.

The Willmers would like to hear from some 80-pound team for a game today. They will pay full expenses for 13 men. Any team desiring this game call up Bell 'phone 359-J Brady and ask for William Daniels, Jr.

The Three A.'s will line up against the Cottage team this afternoon. All Three A.'s players will report at Cottage grounds, Friendship park, at 2 p. m. sharp. Take Liberty or Penn avenue cars to get to the grounds.

The Guild A. C. will play the Rosebud A. C. today on the Admirals' grounds. The Guild A. C. is going out of its class to play Rosebud, whose players average 130 to 140 pounds, where the Guilds only average 90 pounds. All Guilds will report on grounds at 2 o'clock sharp.

The Bedford A. C. of the South Side will play the Sherman Senates at South Side Recreation park today. The Bedfords would like to hear from any out-of-town team in the 100-pound class for Thanksgiving Day. Address Wm. Watkins, Manager, Thirteenth street, S. S., city.

What will no doubt be an interesting game will take place today on the Sewickley grounds. The Primrose team is confident of winning and Capt. Hilliard has been putting the boys through some new formations, which they will use to some effect against Sewickley. All Primrose players report at Ft. Wayne station at 1:20 sharp.

Enterprise A. C. and Superior A. C. will battle today on Farmers grounds for the 80-pound championship of West End. Enterprise wants a game with some 75-pound team for Thanksgiving morning or afternoon and November 29. Ticket Slingers and Wittmer A. C. preferred. Address J. Stauffer, 2309 Randolph street, Allegheny.

Orient would like to hear from some 45 or 50-pound team for games on Thanksgiving morning and afternoon and Saturday, November 29, to be played on Orient's Inclosed grounds. Half expenses and good treatment guaranteed. Address C. A. Digley, No. 1 Randolph street, Allegheny. Also Sunday games on Orient's grounds.

The Nationals of Allegheny have reorganized under the name of the Allegheny A. A. Kiefer and Harris of last year's Central Y. M. C. A. team, and Ensor and Love of last year's Nationals, and Thompson and Stein of the Sycamores, will be seen in their old-time form. All players are requested to meet at the corner of Ohio and Federal street at 7 p. m. sharp.

On account of Altoona's cancelling the Lowell A. C. is without a game for today, and would like to hear from some 105-110-pound team. The Oakland A. C. is requested to call up 12 East and ask for W. Lauer, between 7 and 11 o'clock p. m. The Lowells will line up against the Brushton Mohawks on Thanksgiving afternoon at the old D. C. and A. C. grounds, and play for the 110-pound championship of Western Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURGH STARS READY FOR QUAKERS

Coach Richardson and His Men Reach Philadelphia and Do Some Practice Work.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—The Pittsburgh football eleven arrived here this morning. The men who will do battle with the Phillies tomorrow were taken to the Athletic grounds in the afternoon and spent several hours in light practice, principally kicking, catching the ball and going over the signals. The grounds were thrown open and quite a crowd gathered to watch the Smoky City stars at work.

The team that will line up against the Phillies will be considerably stronger even than the one that met the Athletics. Crollius, the ex-Dartmouth college line plunger, will resume his place at half back. All the other famous players, including Poe of Princeton fame; Kirkoff, the giant guard, formerly of the Chicago A. C.; Richardson, the Brown star, and Ellis, Harvard's one-time great full back, will all be in their usual positions. The Phillies did not practice today.

The kickoff will take place promptly at 2:30, and the full 35 minute halves will be played. The lineup:

Phillies.		Pittsburgh.
Gelbert	L. E.	Poe
Scholl	L. T.	McNulty
Randolph	L. G.	Kirkoff
Bachman	Center	Shirring
Tess	R. G.	Lawler
Ryan	R. T.	Lang
Wood	R. E.	Shrontz
Kennedy	Q. B.	Richardson
Washburne	L. H.	McChesney
Barrett	R. H.	Crollius
Roller	F. B.	Ellis

IROQUOIS TURKEY SHOOT.

It Was Won by W. Altenberger by a Remarkable Score.

The turkey shoot held by the Iroquois Rifle club was a big success. There was a big turnout of shooters and much interest was shown in the shooting.

The turkey weighed 38 pounds and was presented to the club by President B. Kestner, who raised it. The conditions of the match were two shots on the three-inch bullseye centon, the best single shot by machine measurement to count. U. Altenberger won the shoot by the remarkable score of 9" degrees, the nearest to him being George Sperling, with 13 degrees.

Lasted Only Twenty Seconds.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—It required just 20 seconds for Tom Daly of Brooklyn to put Joe Tipman, the local featherweight, down and out tonight before the Eureka Athletic club. The Brooklyn boy fainted with his left and crossed a straight right to the jaw when Tipman showed an opening. Tipman's seconds brought the defeated boy to consciousness in three minutes. They were to have boxed 20 rounds.

Rayen Ready for Kiski.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 21.—The Rayen school team left this afternoon for Saltsburgh, where they will play the Kiskiminetas team Saturday. The Kiskiminetas team was beaten by Rayen this season, while Shadyside and Kiski played each other to a standstill. In consequence it is expected that the game Saturday will be a warmly contested one.

MEETS DAVE SULLIVAN.

Jack McClelland Is Now in Line for Fights With Top-Notch Pugilists.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—According to the announced plans of the West End club, Dave Sullivan of New York and Ireland and Jack McClelland of Pittsburgh, winner last night over Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan, will go on at the club Thanksgiving night in what promises to be even a better battle than the good exhibition of Thursday night at the Haughton Emporium.

In making the match the West End club passed up Terry McGovern's challenge to the winner of last night's fight on the ground that McGovern could not arrange his dates for a Thanksgiving affair. The conditions of the next attraction at the West End club will probably call for 20 rounds at 126 pounds. Sullivan is expected in the city this week. McGovern's challenge will not be altogether passed over by the local management, and an endeavor will be made by the club to match the "Terrible Terry" with the winner of the Thanksgiving night bout.

It is hardly probable, however, that, should Dave Sullivan win over McClelland, McGovern will take him on, after having once decisively beaten the Irish fighter.

WILL PLAY AT ANN ARBOR.

Western Football Championship Will Be Settled.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Nov. 21.—The University of Minnesota board of control has withdrawn its objections to playing the Thanksgiving game with Michigan at Ann Arbor. President Kenniecott wired this morning to the Michigan authorities that Minnesota "accepted the suggestion" to make the change.

Coach Williams has arranged to take the squad to Mt. Clemens, Mich. They will leave tomorrow evening and spend the interval before the game in putting on the finishing touches.

Cornell Players Going Stale.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—That Coach Dan Reed of the Cornell team is afraid his proteges are going stale, was clearly evidenced again tonight, when there were only four of the regular varsity men in the line-up. All the regulars but Steele were in the six. At work, but when the 'varsity lined up against the scrubs Tourison and Laurence were on the ends in the place of Rydeman and Larkin, Costello and Smith were playing the tackles in place of Lueder and Waud, and Stace was in the line in Capt. Warner's place. Lies was still in at center. The scrimmage lasted 30 minutes without a score on either side.

Bought Yesterday—Cured Today.—Mrs. O. C. Burt of 26 Broadway, New York, says: "I am surprised and delighted at the change for the better in my case in one day from the use of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It worked like magic—there's no excuse for a person suffering pain with this remedy within reach. —9.

WON BY SOPHOMRES.

W. U. P. Freshmen Eleven Beaten in the Annual Contest.

The Colosseum was the scene of the annual football game between W. U. P. freshmen and sophomores, collegiate department teams, yesterday, which the sophomores won by the score of 24 to 0. The sophs were slightly the heavier, and also excelled at end running, their captain, Page, making runs of 42, 30, 25 and 18 yards.

Barton and Cropp plowed through the freshman line for gains of 5 to 15 yards at a time, Cropp always requiring about three men to down him. Clark, sophomores' quarter, made the third touchdown on a fake pass and 35-yard run. G. Jackson was a tower of strength at right tackle, a mass on tackle play with him at the point always gaining the distance.

Freshmen were able to make only three first downs during the game, but resisted stubbornly to the last. For them Douglas, the 'varsity guards, and Right Guard Trax put up a mill-edged game. Miller and Wayte tackled fiercely several times for a loss. The score and line-up:

Furman	L. T.	Wilson-Werner
Wall	L. G.	Trax
Bashloum	Center	Lindsay
Orr	R. G.	Miller
Jackson	R. T.	Weldin
Marsh-Rosenbloom	R. E.	Bricker
Clarke	Q. B.	Schaefer (Capt.)
Barton	L. H.	McDaniels
Cropp	R. H.	Closs
Floing-Anderson	F. B.	Douglas

THE OPENING CONTEST.

Old Basketball Rivals Will Meet Tonight.

The basketball season will open with a crash tonight on the South Side, when the old rivals, Manchester and South Side, will battle for supremacy. Both teams, remembering the heart-rending struggle which resulted when they last met, have been practicing hard, and a close and exciting game is bound to result, with both teams confident of victory.

Five hundred tickets are out, and all last year's attendance records are expected to be broken at this game. Dr. Little, the local basketball official, will referee the game. Following will be the line-up:

Manchester.		South Side.
Koch	R. F.	Liebau
Shillinger-Hays	L. F.	Leithead-Schmitt
Wallbert-Meekes	Center	Nickel-Davies
Graham	R. G.	Winderknecht Bradley
Burry	L. G.	Stolzenbach Williams

WILL BE FOR BLOOD.

Oil City and Franklin Teams Loaded for Today's Game.

OIL CITY, PA., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—The first game of a series of three arranged between Oil City and Franklin for supremacy of the gridiron will be played here tomorrow. Intense interest is displayed among enthusiastics in both towns, and thousands of dollars have been wagered on the result of tomorrow's contest.

The managers of the two elevens openly admit they have strengthened their teams for these games with professional players from a distance. Coach Mandeville, formerly of Bucknell university, has had charge of the Oil City team for some time. It is said Pittsburgh sports who know something of the abilities of the players secured by the locals, have sent several thousand dollars here to be placed on Oil City.

YALE STUDENT ARRESTED.

Yanked in for Fighting With Ticket Speculators.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 21.—As a result of investigation by detectives into the exciting fight last night by Yale students and speculators in tickets for the Yale-Harvard football game, warrants were sworn out for the arrest of William H. Barnum, a member of the junior class in the scientific school of Yale, and Bradford Ellsworth, a member of the senior class of the academic department.

Barnum was held in bonds of $200 and Ellsworth in bonds of $1,000, but both were bailed out at once. The charge is breach of the peace, but the police say that it may be changed later if the evidence warrants.

KEENEDY'S FAST WORK.

Local Boxer in Fine Shape for Bout With Mathews.

There was a large crowd of local sports out at Eddie Kennedy's training quarters at West View yesterday, to see the local boy at work for his 10-round contest next Tuesday at Turner hall, Allegheny, with Matty Mathews.

The local fighter put on the gloves with a stout of boxers and finished up strong. His friends are pleased with his condition, and think he will defeat the Brooklyn boxer. Billy Corcoran has selected a good preliminary between Brown, the ex-amateur champion, and Hugh Brogan. They will box six rounds.

Shoe-dissection.

"Scratch a Russian and you'll find a Tartar." Scratch a $3.50 shoe sole, and you'll find Hemlock, or imitation "Oak" leather, beneath the black finish.

Hemlock or "Yankee Oak" soles, are as short lived as they are cheap and deceptive.

Regals are $6.00 shoes for $3.50, through Tannery to Consumer methods.

CABLE TO HAWAII IN HALF A YEAR

PRIVILEGES IN RETURN

That Part of Work Accomplished, the Line Will Be Extended to Manila Without Delay, Touching at Island of Guam.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Secretary Moody today directed that the Nero sounding be turned over to the Pacific Cable Company.

This action resulted from a conference today between Secretary Moody and Rear Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, in regard to the proposition of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company to construct a cable from San Francisco to Honolulu.

The secretary has authorized the admiral to turn over the soundings made by the navy department to the Pacific company as soon as the necessary papers have been drawn up. These soundings, which were made by the United States steamship Nero, represent more than a year's work and an expenditure of about $100,000.

As a result of the secretary's determination to relinquish the soundings of the Nero in return for concessions to the government in cable rates and in military use of the cable, it is expected that the cable will be in operation between San Francisco and Honolulu within six months, and the work then will be pushed on the line between Honolulu and Manila.

It is due to the work of the Nero that Guam is to be a leading station on the Pacific cable. The cable company was disposed to believe that there was an abyss in the vicinity of the island which would prevent the laying of a cable by that route. Admiral Bradford showed the company's representatives enough of the soundings to convince them that the survey of the Nero had made a detour of this abyss, and it was agreed to lay the cable via Guam.

MUST GO UNPUNISHED.

No Courts Exist That Have Jurisdiction Over Water Cure Cases Involving Volunteers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The secretary of war today sent to the attorney general the papers in the case of Father Augustine, who died from the effects of water cure administered by soldiers of a Vermont regiment while serving in the Philippines. The case has been thoroughly investigated by the judge advocate general of the army on the charges brought by Charles Francis Adams, Herbert Welsh and others of the Lake George conference.

It cannot be found that any person now serving in the United States army was responsible in any way for the death of the friar, and, therefore, the persons cannot be tried by court-martial.

Capt. Brownell, a volunteer officer who was in command of the troops who administered the water cure, has acknowledged that the cure was administered and that the man died. The course of Brownell, it is said, is not in jurisdiction over him, nor are the local courts in Manilla, where the offense was committed.

All Deny Hearst's Charges.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—The answers of the Delaware & Hudson, New York, Susquehanna & Western, Erie and Lehigh Valley railroads to the complaint of William R. Hearst of New York against the anthracite coal carrying railroads were filed today with the interstate commerce commission. The answers deny that the interstate commerce law has been violated.

New Country Postmasters.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21.—Postmasters were appointed today as follows: Pennsylvania—Durbin, Green county, Lattie B. Goodwin; Garrison, Green county, Joseph A. Phillips; West Virginia—Maiden, Kanawha county, Fannie R. Canterbury.

BUOYANT MARKET IN WALL STREET

The First Genuine Reaction After the Long Period of Liquidation---Local Stocks Also Higher. Money Conditions Easier.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Yesterday's New York stock market was an exact antithesis to that of the same day last week. At the latter date the average of prices reached the lowest on the downward movement which began in September and proceeded throughout October and a part of November. The timid rallies were each time overwhelmed by an outpour of long stock, and even some of the most experienced men in the street began to fear that there was something radically wrong with underlying conditions; that something not apparent on the surface was forcing liquidation that might run into a panic. Yesterday there was a complete change in sentiment and movement of values. After some hesitation at the opening the market began to display strength, offerings of stock became lighter, and buying at the advance more confident. In the closing half hour the whole list displayed strength, and for the first time in weeks the feeling gradually impressed itself upon traders that a genuine recovery was in progress. Even the liquidation in the tractions, which was natural with the partial dissipation of the mystery that has surrounded the movement, did not check the upward tendency in the railway and industrial list. St. Paul, which had been unaccountably weak for some time past, was the leader of the railway group, and the last sale of the day was at 180, the top price. Baltimore & Ohio crossed par and closed at practically the highest. Reading was notably strong, advancing to and closed at 60. Union Pacific advanced to 102½, Pennsylvania to 157⅜, New York Central to 154⅝ and Louisville & Nashville to 125⅞, and they all closed near the best. In the industrial group Amalgamated Copper was the leader, advancing to 66 on large transactions, reacting 1 per cent at the close. Sugar advanced nearly 2 per cent, and the United States Steel stocks gained large fractions. Comparing yesterday's prices with the low point of last Friday, the following substantial recoveries may be noted: Manhattan up 22½ per cent; St. Paul, 11; New York Central, 7½; Baltimore & Ohio, 7; Pennsylvania, 4½; Louisville & Nashville, 4⅝; Missouri Pacific, 7; Reading, 7½; Atchison, 4; Union Pacific, 4; Amalgamated Copper, 7; Sugar, 8; the Steel stocks about 2 points, and so on through the list.

The turning point in the market came with the aggressive buying of the Gould specialties, in which Manhattan was the conspicuous leader. That this movement should be inaugurated in the face of 7 and 8 per cent time loans suggested that the money market might not be so stringent as appeared on the surface. Another feature was the heavy buying of stocks by what is called the "big interests" in the street. One thing which helped to turn sentiment toward a more cheerful view of the situation was the action of the railroads in announcing that they would collect the increased cost of transportation entailed by the increase in wages from the shipper. This might have been expected, because it is human nature, but for a moment it was lost sight of while the "bears" were figuring out that the increase in wages would inevitably reduce the amount of net earnings applicable to dividends. But the most important factor in the situation was the apparent change for the better in money market conditions. The policy of the banks in keeping their funds under control by refusing to make time loans which would carry borrowers over the turn of the year, caused lower rates for call loans, and at the same time undoubtedly attracted funds from the interior to take advantage of the high rates quoted on time loans. It is estimated that the New York banks received $1,170,800 more from them than they shipped to the country during the past week. It is stated that on Thursday afternoon one large international banking house was a free lender of 60-day money at 6 per cent, thus breaking the rate that had been quoted for several days previously. At the same time another week passed without exports of gold, and the decline in grain and cotton encouraged the hope that shipments of these commodities would offset the necessity for shipments of specie. From the known movements of currency and the result of operations with the sub-treasury, it is estimated that the banks have made a slight gain in cash for the week, and if the liquidation of last Friday and of the early part of this week is taken into account, a favorable bank statement may be looked for today. It will not do, however, to conclude that everything is now favorable to a resumption of a bull campaign in the stock market. The one thing which the best informed persons have feared is the status of the various underwriting syndicates. There is good ground for the statement that some weak holdings have gone into stronger hands, but it does not necessarily follow that there will be no further liquidation, both of underwriting obligations and of stocks that have been carried through the depression and which now show profit, or which may at least be liquidated without loss.

For the first time in many weeks the local stock list shows an unbroken line of net gains in active shares as a result of yesterday's trading. The total transactions reached only 5,600 shares, but the dealings were restricted more from an absence of offerings than anything else. The only stock in which a decline was recorded was Pittsburgh & Birmingham Traction, 10 shares of which changed hands at 49. The great bulk of this stock is controlled by the Philadelphia Company through its lease of the system, and it is seldom that a sale occurs in the market. One of the most active stocks was Window Glass common, which sold to the extent of about 1,000 shares at 54⅜ to 55, closing at 54½ bid. It explained yesterday the strength was based upon the agreement reached in the trade under which the jobbers' association will have the sole disposition of the output of the various factories. The preferred stock sold at 88. Pittsburgh Coal was also strong and higher, advancing from 28½ to 29⅜ and closing at 29¼ bid. The preferred was also fractionally higher. River Coal common and preferred advanced ¾ to ¼. Toward the close of the day Westinghouse Electric second preferred became quite strong, advancing to 102, the highest price of the week, and closing at 101⅝ bid, a net gain of 1⅜. Airbrake was 2 points higher at 172 bid. Crucible Steel common was strong, advancing to 20, and closing at the top, a net gain of ⅜. The preferred stock also gained ⅜, advancing to 84⅜. United States Steel advanced ½ to 37¼, and the preferred was higher, closing at 84⅝.

The feature of the banking list was the strength displayed by Safe Deposit and Trust, which opened $3 higher at 115 and advanced to 117 bid, a net gain of $7 a share. The rise was based upon the report that the company, which is the oldest of the local trusts, would widen its field to include general banking business. Commonwealth Trust rallied 5 points to 235 and closed at 234. Federal National bank advanced 4 points to 144, Pennsylvania Trust rallied to 286, and Guaranty, Title and Trust was 1½ per cent higher, at 139½. There were no transactions in bonds.

Rock Island stocks were active and strong yesterday. There was a report in Wall street that the Moores had sold their holdings of the stock to Rockefeller, but it failed to receive confirmation.

Buying of stocks in which the Rockefellers are interested, such as St. Paul and Missouri Pacific, was of a determined character, and under this influence the shorts became badly demoralized.

Robinson Bros. were the largest buyers of Pittsburgh Coal yesterday, and Hill & Co. and Sproul & Co. were the largest sellers. Pinkerton bought a block of 500 shares River Coal from Sproul & Co.

More than ordinary significance was attached to the strength of Window Glass and Philadelphia Company yesterday. Some people thought insiders were disposed to stimulate activity in these shares.

The character of the buying the New York yesterday was of the most confident character, and leads to the belief that the prominent interests view the monetary situation more favorably than for some time.

The earnings of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool Company for the quarter ended October 31 aggregated $560,000, an average monthly loss of about $10,000, as compared to the earnings of the first six months of the year.

In Boston yesterday 75 was bid for Pittsburg & Lake Superior Development Company, and Arizona Commercial was offered at 8⅝. For Calumet and Arizona 75 was bid, and there were no offers. Pittsburgh capital is largely interested in both companies.

Wall street sentiment is very greatly mixed among the stronger interests. In usually well-informed circles the idea prevails that a bull market is coming, but cannot be expected until after the turn of the year. The basis for this theory is that money will be easier. It is very generally admitted that the money situation is mainly responsible for all the market ills.

The news that a good deal of money which had been in suspension will be the second payment on Baltimore & Ohio stock, had been loaned out for 60 days because the railroad company can spare it for the moment had a beneficial effect in Wall street.

Several foreign banking houses yesterday sold large amounts of bills and put the money out at from 30 to 90 days' time at 6 per cent. These offerings of exchange, together with advances of Paris cheque on London, prevent the possibility of exports of gold for the present.

A beautiful yarn spun in Wall street yesterday was to the effect that the Moores were the real buyers of the large blocks of Manhattan this week, and that their object was to obtain control in revenge upon the Goulds for the action of the latter in Diamond Match affairs.

Mr. Gates' advice to all boys in America is: "Attend strictly to your own business. Keep well posted as to your competitor's methods and profits. Agree with your competitors rather than fight with them, make hay while the sun shines. Always discount your bills. Never try to deceive your banker. Never neglect your business for pleasure."

A Wall street house that is evidently not in sympathy with a bull market at this time, wired this to Pittsburgh: "The secretary of the Treasury umpire announced in the exchanges today that the imperial budget showed a deficit of $37,500,000. We mention this to show financial conditions in Europe on whom for the time being we are dependent for money here. Certainly they are not bull arguments for stocks."

H. L. Borland, secretary of the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company, said this morning in reference to the published statement that Porter & Porter were the promoters and organizers of the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company that there was absolutely no truth in the statement. The Porters have not been now, and never have been, either as stockholders or otherwise, interested in the Pittsburgh Life and Trust Company.

Chicago has it "straight" that the Moore Bros. have practically perfected plans for the merging of all the important bituminous coal mines of Indiana into one huge company. It is regarded as the preliminary plans are well advanced, and that the work of securing options on the various properties has been begun. Upon the completion of the Rock Island deal, it is said that the Moores will devote the greater part of the deal to a consummation.

Pittsburgh Safe Deposit and Trust is the oldest of the local trust companies. It was organized as a bank when trust companies did not enjoy the privilege of transacting a banking business. When the law was amended, the company did not take advantage of the new provision, confining itself to safe deposit and trust company functions. Recently, however, some of its stockholders have felt that owing to the reputation of the company, its standing among financial institutions, and its fine location in the center of the financial district, it would be a profitable thing to add a banking department. It is said that the movement, when it took the form of a petition to the board, met the opposition of a banking institution which was also established in the company. This week, however, it is stated that the institution in question sold a block of stock approximating 1,000 shares, at $110 a share, to persons who are in favor of the new banking idea. The latter control, or at least strengthening them materially. It is inferred that the movement will now be pressed for opening a banking department, and this is the cause for the recent advance in the market value of the stock, which yesterday closed at $117 bid.

Now that Amalgamated Copper has begun to move, bullish literature on the stock is appearing. Here is a dispatch sent out from Wall street yesterday: "Some of the recent buying of Amalgamated Copper has been of exceptionally good quality and people whose opinion on the stock has been found remarkably accurate and trustworthy say that in their opinion the outlook for the company has so far improved that in all probability the low price recorded within last week is likely to remain the low price for a long time to come. The more optimistic feeling in regard to outlook for the company is based largely on improved position of the metal, but the results of the election in Montana have been highly gratifying to the company. Some of the prominent interests in Amalgamated Copper have recently expressed the conviction that the political situation is now more favorable to the company than at any time since its incorporation. On the changed conditions they have advised their friends to purchase the stock and it is the opinion of people with good sources of information that prices are now very largely concentrated in a comparatively few hands. It has been asserted many times in the past by people identified with Amalgamated Copper that the real strength of Heinz lay in the political influence which he exerted and it is asserted now that shorn of this political influence he will be a far less formidable adversary. The cleaning up of the 1902 copper difficulty is expected to materialize in the not far distant future. Indications are that immediate course of copper in the stock market may be in doubt, but that conditions seem to warrant much better prices in the long run."

SQUIRREL HILL HOUSE IS SOLD FOR $20,000

W. H. Schoen Buys Fine Farm Near Greensburg. Court Decision Will Help Railroad Buying. A $30,000 Church for Homestead.

Through the W. H. Skivington Company, Henry M. Gross has marketed another of his new Squirrel Hill residences for $20,000. The buyer is James Evans, who will occupy the property as a home. The residence is a 12-room colonial brick house finished throughout in hardwood and equipped with the latest conveniences. It is known as No. 5843 Bartlett street, and stands on a lot 70x146 feet in the north side of the street between Murray and Shady avenues. This is the ninth one sold of the 15 colonial houses which Mr. Gross built in the Squirrel Hill district last year.

W. H. Schoen of the Standard Steel Car Company has bought a farm of 150 acres 3.5 miles east of Greensburg, for $16,000. The property was secured from three owners, the deal having been made by George Bros. The site is one of the most beautiful around Greensburg, and is on the Greensburg and Philadelphia turnpike. It adjoins the farm lately bought by H. C. Bushnell, on which he has built a $25,000 summer residence. Mr. Schoen has begun the erection of a stone "bungalow" to cost $10,000, which he will occupy as a residence. A dairy of Guernseys and other fine stock, with extensive outdoor improvements, are to be added to make the place attractive. The fine country sites in Westmoreland county are coming into good demand for summer homes and several prominent Pittsburghers are now negotiating for properties in that section.

A Welcome Decision.

Real estate brokers, especially those who deal extensively for the railroads, are greatly pleased with the decision handed down by Judge Fraser on Thursday in the case of Margaret Smith against the West Side Belt railroad. Attorneys objected to the railroad's filing a bond for the condemnation of the property on the ground that the railroad had no right to condemn it. The court ruled that such a question cannot be considered on exceptions to a bond where it appears that the company is incorporated and that it has the right of condemnation. Later, Judge Fraser added, it may be taken up. This decision, in the opinion of realty brokers will relieve the railroads of a serious embarrassment and much delay resulting from the attempts of attorneys to prevent a bond of condemnation being filed against property on the ground stated above. The practice has led to a vast amount of petty bickering between railroads and property owners, which resulted in the former's building operations being greatly delayed in some instances and the property owners having to pay heavy attorneys' fees, although their course of procedure almost invariably resulted in a loss to them. Under the present decision the railroad cannot be prevented from filing a bond, but the property owner may file exceptions to it afterward.

New Buildings in Prospect.

Plans are being prepared in the office of Architect H. Maurice Trimble for the bank and apartment building of the Wilmerding National bank. The building will be a three-story brick structure and will cost $25,000. The same architect is preparing plans for a merry-go-round building for the Celoron Amusement Company at Jamestown, N. Y., to cost $5,000.

Another warehouse, 90x120 feet, will be built at the northeast corner of Twenty-eighth and Smallman streets, from plans in the hands of Architect M. Kingsbacher. It will belong to a prominent cement company and will be a one-story cement and corrugated iron building, to cost $16,000. The same architect has plans for a $8,000 brick residence for John Hallwig in the Perrysville avenue district in Allegheny.

Architect Elmer E. Miller has awarded the contract to Peter Gillespie for a store and dwelling for D. W. Jones in Hazelwood, to cost $5,000.

A $30,000 Church at Homestead.

Architect David Platt of Homestead has been commissioned to prepare plans for the Greek Roman Catholic church, which will be erected in Eighth avenue, Homestead, at a cost of $30,000. He is also making plans for a foundry building for the Homestead Valve and Manufacturing Company. The building will be 200x200 feet and will be of corrugated steel. The same architect has plans for a three-story business block, 30x100 feet, to be erected by Lawrence Oessner in Eighth avenue, near Amity street, Homestead, at a cost of $18,000, and a two-story brick store and flat building for Morris Darnigle on Fifth avenue, near Dickson street, Homestead, which will cost $8,000.

Through the agency of the Homewood Real Estate Company, the S. H. Stupakoff Foundry and Machine Company bought from John Hubbard one acre fronting the Allegheny Valley railroad, Eighteenth ward, for $11,000. The company will erect an up-to-date foundry at once.

The deed was registered yesterday in the sale by Stella E. McLaughlin to Weaver, Costello & Co., candy manufacturers, of an improved property, 20x80 feet, in Second avenue near Wood street, Pitts. ward, for $20,000. The deal was made by the Union Realty Company. Another deed registered conveyed from Alice McDonough to Mary E. Barrett an improved lot, 20x80 feet, in Second avenue, near Cherry alley, for $14,000.

One Month's Sales.

J. C. McMinn, of the firm of Davies & Co., has within the month closed the following sales of real estate: For John C. Logan to Attorney Alfred Cahen, of Allegheny, a brick house, lot 40x130 feet, in Wood street, near Singer street, Wilkinsburg, for $9,500; for McClelland Harrison, to Mrs. Annie E. Woodward, of Philadelphia, an improved lot, 24x152 feet, in Marchand street, Twentieth ward, for $6,000; for William L. JULIAN KENNEDY SAYS HE CAN STOP NUISANCE

Prominent Engineer Testifies in Ore Dust Suit Against Jones & Laughlin---Has Successful Invention in Use in Chicago.

The testimony in the equity suits of Oakland residents against the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company to prevent the alleged ore dust nuisance at the Eliza furnace was concluded yesterday. Arguments will probably be heard by Judge Frazer Monday.

In concluding the case the plaintiffs called Julian Kennedy, the eminent engineer, in rebuttal. Mr. Kennedy testified to an invention of his own, now in successful use at the Iroquois plant in Chicago, and the Isabella plant in this county. By his appliance, he said, there is no escape of ore dust from furnaces. His system has a tendency to carry the ore dust down, instead of up. The witness was questioned but little by the lawyers for the defendant.

In concluding the case for the defendant several witnesses were called. Among them were Charles McCreery, former superintendent of the Duquesne steel works, and a Mr. Burrows, a chemist. They described the operation of the furnace and said that the Mesaba ore was used in its pulverized condition because of cheapening the cost of producing iron and steel. So far as they knew there was no way of preventing the explosions which sent the dust over Oakland. Mr. Burrows testified to having visited a furnace in Illinois, where, it was reported, a hood had been used over the blast furnaces to prevent the escape of dust. During three hours at the plant he said he could notice no benefit.

WANTS COUNTY TO PAY.

Man Whose Property Was Wrecked Denies Disparaging Remarks About McKinley.

The case of Casper Lembach against the county of Allegheny, on trial before Judge McClung, is of unusual interest. He seeks damages for injury to property under the riot act of 1845.

Lembach is a prosperous painter at 60 Washington avenue, Thirty-first ward. After the assassination of President McKinley the rumor was started that Lembach said it served the president right, which remark Lembach emphatically denied having made. A crowd gathered at Lembach's place, his fence was torn down and his advertising boards about the hill district were wrecked. Lembach places his damages at $1,000. The case is still on.

Says Exceptions Are Worthless.

Judge Hawkins dismissed exceptions filed in the mater of the estate of John L. Rhoades. The court says the filing of the exceptions was inexcusable. A decree in distribution shows a balance of $1,901 63. Other decrees in distribution were: Estate of Frederick G. Vogel, $548 47; William Feller, $204 75; Archibald Hamilton, $1,706 40; George F. Haussmann, $4,592 46; Franciska Szek, $805 78; John H. Beck, $1,066 17; Hamet S. Harborn, $4-5 74; James Russell, $882 87, Rosina Warblinger, $1,639 92; David Lombardi, $1,442 50; Mary A. Thomas, $1,-842 52; James Ramsey, $673 82; Mary C. Krut, $1,031 63; Matthew Golden, $310 05.

Borough Bookkeeper in Trouble.

Suit was entered by the borough of Coraopolis against John G. Walker, former borough bookkeeper, and his bondsmen, W. T. Hamilton, to recover $2,000. It is claimed Walker did not faithfully perform his duties, did not enter all items paid to him and did not pay to the treasurer all moneys received prior to April 29, 1902, when he paid in all but about $500.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

C. M. Carlson entered suit against Booth & Flinn for $5,000 damages. He claims his son was injured by being struck by the defendants' wagon.

An answer to the divorce suit of her husband, Phillip Sens, was filed by Mrs. Francesco Sens. She avers that he treated her cruelly.

A decree dissolving the Pittsburgh Female college orders that the balance in the treasury be turned over to the Beaver College and Musical Institute.

The orphans' court appointed the South Side Trust Company guardian of the estate of Mrs. Stella M. Labletrie, a minor, daughter of Aloysius Kinzler, deceased.

The jury in the case of A. L. Lloyd against George H. Thomas and J. M. Loose returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $660. The action was to recover a commission.

James W. Leonard, a McKean county mail clerk, was sent to jail for four months by Judge Buffington. Leonard, who is only 22 years old, was caught taking a letter containing $100. He pleaded guilty.

The creditors of the Scully Belting and Supply Company filed a petition in bankruptcy against the company. Several days ago C. Scully and James B. Scully, president and secretary of the company, filed petitions in bankruptcy.

In the United States circuit court the suit of Minerva Tridell against William M. Marshall, administrator for Patrick H. Munnell, for $10,000, claimed to be due for services, was given to the jury, which will return a sealed verdict this morning.

Executions were issued as follows: Rachel M. Bond vs. Thaddeus S. Freeland, $1,655 64; John D. Potter vs. Benedick Voelker, $800; same vs. same, $694 82; same vs. Anthony Voelker, $557 53; Peterson Bros Company, use, vs. W. C. Hoodlil, $1,240 20; John D. Potter vs. Anthony Voelker, $550.

In the United States district court petitions in bankruptcy were filed by Sibley & McAllister, merchants of New Kensington, and Frank J. McAllister and Claremont Sibley individually. The firm's indebtedness amounts to $27,294 25, with no assets. McAllister's liabilities are $1,086 20, with $120 assets, while Sibley's debts amount to $1,045, with no assets.

The Knob Coal Company and Weigel Bros. & Co., by Attorneys J. L. Ritchey and George W. Acklin, filed bills in equity against the McKinley Coal Company and its stockholders for an accounting of the proceeds of the sale of the McKinley Coal Company to the Monongahela Coal Company. The plaintiffs are creditors, they allege, of the McKinley Coal Company in the sums of $2,500 and $6,732 25.

PATTISON AWAY AHEAD OF TICKET

If Democrats Did as Well for Congress They Would Have Four More Districts.

FIGURES GIVEN FOR IT

In Others Where Pennypacker's Plurality Was Small, the Plurality of Republican Candidates for Representative Was Large.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Nov. 21.—A comparison of the votes cast for congressional candidates at the late election with those given to the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor shows that Pattison carried four districts which returned Republican members of congress, and came within a few hundred of obtaining pluralities in other districts in which opposition candidates for the office were successful.

In the Eighth district, composed of Montgomery and Bucks counties, Pattison received a plurality of 1,712, while Irving P. Wagner, Republican candidate for congress, had 2,606. In Luzerne, the Eleventh district, Pattison's plurality was 3,553 and that of Henry W. Palmer, 2,-746, and in Schuylkill, the Twelfth, Pattison led Pennypacker by 4,338 votes, while George R. Patterson, Republican, was elected to congress by a plurality of 1,749.

In these districts the pluralities of Pattison aggregated 9,703 and those of the Republican candidates for congress, 7,104.

The Twentieth district, consisting of York and Adams, was carried by Pattison by a plurality of 3,553; but Daniel F. Lafean was elected to congress by 591.

In Lackawanna county the Democratic nominee for governor had a plurality of 5,092, while George Howell, Democrat, defeated Congressman Connell by only 461; but Connell had the disadvantage of having had his name judicially ruled out of the Democratic column and having been compelled to run as the anti-machine candidate.

In the Fourteenth district, composed of Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne and Wyoming, Pennypacker had a plurality of 561, while Charles F. Wright carried the district by 3,674. In Tioga, Potter, Lycoming and Clinton, constituting the Fifteenth district, Pennypacker led Pattison by 795, while Congressman Deemer was re-elected by 2,506. In the Twenty-first district, comprising Cameron, Center, Clearfield and McKean, Pennypacker received a plurality of 540 and Solomon R. Dressler, Republican candidate for congress, 3,470.

In the Twenty-eighth, composed of Mercer, Warren, Venango, Elk and Forest, Pattison ran behind Pennypacker 415, and Joseph C. Sibley, Republican, received a plurality of 4,727. Congressman Acheson of Washington county was the only Republican candidate for congress who did not keep up with the vote of the head of the Republican state ticket, and this fact was no doubt owing to the success of the movement to prevent his name appearing in the regular party column.

No comparison can be made between the vote for congress and the Republican and Democratic state tickets in the Philadelphia and Allegheny county districts, 10 in number, because in the former no Democratic candidates were in the field and in the latter the party supported the congressional nominees of the Citizens ticket. In the remaining districts the pluralities for governor and congress follow:

Districts.	Gov. Rep.	Gov. Rep.	Cong Dem	Cong Dem
Seventh	5490	....	12311	....
Eighth	....	1712	2606	....
Ninth	10241	....	11251	....
Tenth	....	5502	....	461
Eleventh	....	3653	2746	....
Twelfth	....	4338	11749	....
Thirteenth	....	8072	....	4999
Fourteenth	561	....	3674	....
Fifteenth	795	....	2506	....
Sixteenth	....	5464	....	848
Seventeenth	2480	....	4457	....
Eighteenth	1791	....	8478	....
Nineteenth	2238	....	5124	....
Twentieth	....	3553	591	....
Twenty-first	540	....	3470	....
Twenty-second	1504	....	5813	....
Twenty-third	1401	....	1755	....
Twenty-fourth	5016	....	5173	....
Twenty-fifth	2115	....	4267	....
Twenty-sixth	....	6290	....	4166
Twenty-eighth	415	....	4727	....
Totals	37533	36534	86110	10474

While Pattison leads Pennypacker 2,-001 votes in the aggregate of pluralities for governor in these 22 districts, the Republican pluralities for congress in the same districts exceed those of the Democratic candidates for congress 75,636.

TO DEFEND DRAYMEN.

Their Protective Association Will Contest Prosecutions for Cruelty.

The Draymen's Protective association is arranging to defend actions against its members on charges of cruelty to animals. Officials of the organization say that their members submitted to fines imposed by aldermen when there was absolutely no cruelty.

They allege that there is an organized movement to pick out horses with some surface blemish as excuses for informations before aldermen. Plans of defense will be made at the regular meeting of the Draymen's Protective association on Tuesday night. The Rickard Transfer Company of Allegheny will submit its case of alleged unjust proceedings before an Allegheny alderman and it is intended to have the association take up the matter and make it a test case.

Penrose Asks for Support.

From San Louis, Senator Penrose has sent letters to members-elect of the legislature, asking them to support him for re-election. The men elected on the Citizens ticket received the letter, as well as the regular Republican members-elect. Senator Penrose asks the recipient to reply to No. 1331 Spruce street Philadelphia.

Deny Sale of Plant.

Moorhead Bros. of Sharpsburg posted notices in their mill yesterday denying the report that the plant had been or was going to be purchased by the Pennsylvania. A report of this kind had been circulated throughout Sharpsburg.

ONLY A WASH CLOTH.

It Sells for a Nickel, but is Making a Stir All the Same.

No one knows how many centuries man kindled fire by rubbing together two dry sticks or striking sparks from flint and steel into tinder, until some fellow with a happy thought invented the friction match.

There is no telling how many centuries people would have kept on washing their faces, hands and bodies with the commonplace wash cloths if some thinking woman had not pointed out the fact that a knit cloth has many points of advantage over a woven fabric for this purpose. And a shrewd manufacturer took the hint and is turning it into a fortune.

The knit cloth has come. The Cohoes Knitting Company makes it. It is called the "Aircel Wash Cloth" and sells for 5c. Everybody buys it at sight. It absorbs more water, discharges more water, dries quicker, does not irritate tender skin, adapts itself to the shape of the hand, is easily cleaned and combines in a single device all the good points of a cloth and a sponge.

You will find the "Aircel" at Campbell's, where it is selling by the hundreds to people who welcome it with the same eagerness that a thirsty woman reaches for a glass of ice cream soda at a popular fountain on a sultry July day.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

"Saved My Life."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me when all else had failed. I suffered a long time with female troubles."

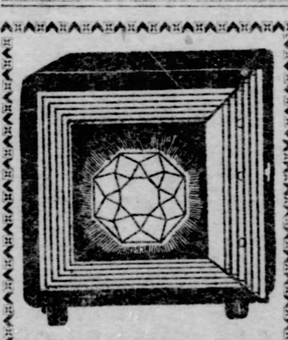
"Mrs. Pinkham's advice and medicine saved me from a surgical operation. Doctors said an operation was necessary."

Thousands upon thousands of women throughout this country are not only expressing such sentiments as the above to their friends, but are writing letters of gratitude containing just such expressions to Mrs. Pinkham until she has more than a million from women in all classes of society who have been restored to health by her advice and medicine after all other means had failed.

Women should remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is performing such remarkable cures, assisted by Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

If you are asked by a druggist to take something else, demand the medicine which you know is best—the medicine which has made the greatest number of cures—the medicine whose record is unequalled by any other medicine, exclusively for women, in the world,

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.



SAFE DIAMONDS

Are those bought from safe stores. When you put money in a Diamond you want to be sure you are getting true value. The only way to be positive of this, unless you are a diamond expert, is to buy from a safe dealer. Our reputation, covering years of honest dealing with the public, guarantees absolute safety in buying Diamonds of us — besides a price-advantage gained for you because of our being the only direct Diamond Importers in town.

Evidences of Continued Prosperity in Increased Wages

Do you suppose the railroads would invest millions in increased wages if they didn't have absolute faith in the indefinite continuation of the present prosperous condition of the country?—
And do you realize that with increased earning ability comes increased responsibility—
And the need for increased protection—

The Equitable Life Assurance Society

issues a policy peculiarly adapted to the protection of a man's dearest interests—
Not a die-to-win policy—One that makes ample provision for the unexpected, of course—but that also recognizes the probability that a man is not going to die—
That's the sort of policy that a young—or middle-aged man ought to have—A policy that helps him to save and that creates an immediate estate for him, if he should die—
